☞ It is expected the Indians will attack the army before they separate, being informed through sundry channels that they have pledged themselves to each other, to their respective nations and to the British, that they will defeat the army. It is apprehended that as there were British officers with the Indians at the defeat of general St. Clair, some may think proper to be with the Indians upon the present occasion. Our army are strong, feel themselves in high spirits and are ready for a meeting with the enemy."

JESSE DEWEES.

Annapolis, July 12, 1793. 19

For Private Sale,

On a Reasonable Credit.

THE subscriber's DWELLING PLANTATION, containing about nine hundred acres. This valuable estate lies twenty miles below the city of Annapolis, on Herring-Bay, and in full view of the Chesapeake. It has the advantage of a fine cove, well stocked with oysters, and for fishing and fowling, I think I may venture to say, is superior to any other place in the United States; the soil is of excellent quality, equal to any in Maryland. There are two good meadows, and several others may be made without expence. The situation of this plantation gives it every advantage for raising and fattening stock; it abounds in locust, mulberry and walnut, and a great plenty of good oak timber. The subscriber will attend at Mr. Mann's tavern until the twelfth instant, after which time application may be made to him at his own house, or to Mr. Benjamin Galloway, on West-river.

He has likewise for SALE, about four hundred acres of good farming LAND, lying adjoining the above, which he will dispose of on the most reasonable terms.

S. L. CHEW.

October 7th, 1793. X

To be SOLD, to the HIGHEST BIDDER, on Tuesday the 10th of December next, if fair, if not the first fair day,

A VALUABLE GRIST-MILL with two pair of stones, two bolting clothes, all in good order for business, with one hundred and odd acres of land adjoining said mill, forty acres of which are good meadow, and more may be made, situated on the Head of South river, in Anne-Arundel county, seven miles from Annapolis, lying on the great road leading from said town to George-town; the mill is on a good stream of water. Any person inclined to purchase may know the terms by applying to JONATHAN RAWLINGS, at said mill, who is authorised to settle all his father's (FRANCIS RAWLINGS) business. X
