DOMESTIC ANIMALS, IMPLEMENTS, BOOKS, &c. &c.

For Sale at the American Farmer Establishment, No. 16. S. Calvert street, Baltimore, Md.

THE subscriber presents his respects to farmers, gardeners, and dealers in Seeds throughout the Union, and respectfully informs them, that he has received from Europe, for his own Seed Garden, a variety of seeds not in this country, as well as a supply of FIELD AND GARDEN SEEDS; and that he is prepared to execute orders with punctuality and despatch, with promptness and accuracy, at the low prices, and on as favorable terms as can be afforded by any dealers in the United States for first rate articles.

FRUIT and ornamental trees and shrubs, grapevines, shrubbery, gooseberry, currant, rhubarb, and strawberry plants, bulbous and other flower roots, will at the proper seasons be procured to order, from the best sources, including all the principal nurseries and gardens in this country, for most of which the subscriber is agent; also,

PLOUGHS, harrows, cultivators, straw cutters, wheat fans, corn shellers, threshing machines, and all other kinds of agricultural and horticultural implements, will be procured from the best manufactories in Baltimore, at the manufacturers' prices.

DOMESTIC ANIMALS, particularly cattle of the improved Durham Short Horns, Devon, and the Holstein breeds; Southdown, Bakewell, Southdown, and various Bonaparte breeds; Swine of several various kinds, especially of the Bonaparte breed; Dogs of several various kinds, for the farmer and sportsman; various kinds of Poultry, such as white turkeys, Bremen and Westphalia geese, guinea fowl, other fowls, and several other species of animals, all of the choice breeds, (and none but they are either kept for sale at the experimental and breeding farm of the establishment, or can be procured from the best sources to order.

BOOKS, agricultural, horticultural, and botanical, to much greater variety than at the book stores; some of them rare and particularly valuable, are kept constantly for sale.

In short, all article wanted by farmers and gardeners in the prosecution of their business, are intended either to be kept on hand, or procured when ordered, for a small commission.

☞ And though last in order, here, yet first in importance to every rider of the soil, and keeper of Domestic Animals, the subscriber offers to them the Seeds of Knowledge in their vocations, 'fresh and genuine,' having been carefully gathered from the field of Experience, and the garden of science—the whole done up in papers, and labelled 'THE FARMER AND GARDENER, AND LIVE STOCK BREEDER AND MANAGER; and dispensed from the Printing Press of the establishment every Friday in the form of a weekly Agricultural Paper, at $5 a year payable in advance.

N. B. This periodical is essentially similar to the late American Farmer, the publication of which has been for some time past suspended. Address

[illegible]

The importance to the citizens of the United States, of a copious and accurate Gazetteer of our country, will not, is believed, for a single moment be questioned. Whatever be a man's station in life, whether public or private, he frequently, almost daily, feels its convenience and is in urgent need of such a book of reference. Of similar works, embracing the Universe, it may with truth be said of the most voluminous of them, that they are necessarily brief, and greatly deficient in reference to our own country. This is undeniable—not to adduce the other case in a work, which in the compass of 800 or 1000 pages, comprises so wide a field.

No such work, exclusively devoted to the United States, is now extant. None has ever been published—and the only one of a similar kind ever issued from the press, was a mere volume of less than three hundred pages; nor has that been re printed in ten years. Within that period, important changes in the country, which it is the object of a Gazetteer to embrace, have taken place; new States have been formed—new counties erected—towns laid out—new villages springing up—in a word, the civil, literary, commercial and statistical condition of the country has materially changed; and these changes are not to be found recorded in any single volume.

This deficiency the compilers of the proposed Gazetteer have undertaken to supply. And in presenting it to the public for their patronage, the publisher feels confident that it will be found upon—is complete—and as accurate—as the nature of the case will admit. The names of the respectable gentlemen who have undertaken its compilation—one of whom is already well known as the author of several valuable geographical works—will, it is believed, be a sufficient guaranty of the fidelity and accuracy of the proposed volume. The labour of more than two years has already been bestowed upon it; and it is presumed that access will be added, to every publication which could in any degree enhance the value of the work. These facts, together with the high commendations bestowed upon the first edition of the work and the rapidity of its sale—(it having been entirely disposed of within four months from the day of its publication)—induces the publisher to undertake a second and improved edition. A Map of the United States, (not contained in the former) will be added to the work; and the publisher confidently believes, that such measures have been taken to secure a careful revision of the first, as will ensure the accuracy of the forthcoming edition. With these facts in mind, he trusts that the proposed volume will be found more rich in every kind of information proper to be stored in such a work—in historical, geographical, political, literary, and statistical information—and presenting a larger amount of facts relative to our country, its institutions, and resources, than can be found in any other volume.

CONDITIONS.

The paper will be of a fine quality, and the type new and handsome.

The volume will be of a royal octavo size, and will contain 600 or more printed pages; a well executed Map of the United States, 15 by 20 inches, and neatly coloured, will also be comprised in the work. It will be well bound, in sheep, and in a neat, appropriate and substantial manner. The price to subscribers will be four dollars, payable on delivery of the work.

THE NEW-YORKER.

UNDER this title, a new Literary Journal of the largest imperial size, was issued to the subscribers on Saturday, the 22d of March. Its leading features are as follows:

"The New Yorker" is equal in size and execution to any of the literary weeklies of this city, and at the same time afforded at a much lower rate than the cheapest of them—It will combine more completely than any of its immediate rivals the distinguishing characteristics of a literary journal with those of a regular and systematic chronicle of passing events. In short, it is designed to commend itself as a general newspaper, alike acceptable to the lover of literature, the devotee of business, and the gleaner of intelligence. It will contain—

I. LITERATURE OF THE DAY—embracing Reviews of New Publications, Original Tales, Essays, Poems, &c with selections from the whole range of English and American periodical literature.

II. GENERAL INTELLIGENCE—comprising the [illegible] events of the day, foreign and domestic; [illegible] civil or political—carefully avoiding, however, the less semblance of partisan [illegible] politics, and confining strictly to the presentation of a general and impartial account of the movements of all parties whatever without discrimination, and without the exhibition of personal preference.

Should their journal receive the approbation and the support of the public, the undersigned pledge themselves to spare neither exertions nor expense to render its literary character and general interest at least equal to those of its cotemporaries; and, whatever may be the measure of their encouragement, they confidently assert that it shall be excelled by few in quantity of matter, or in the variety and originality of its contents.

H. GREELEY & CO.

 The New Yorker has no connection whatever with an ephemeral affair with the same title, which was published last season; but, in order to free 'our good name' from all opprobrium, we hereby agree to send our paper GRATUITOUSLY to all the patrons of that concern for the whole term for which they have paid the publisher thereof.

Office 114 Fulton street.

CONDITIONS.

THE NEW YORKER is published every Saturday morning, on a large imperial sheet, containing twenty four wide and closely printed columns, and forwarded to its patrons, whether in the city or country, at the rate of TWO DOLLARS per annum, payable in advance. When payment is delayed till the end of the second quarter, fifty cents will be added.

Any person procuring us six subscribers in the country, and forwarding $10 free of postage, will be entitled to the remainder for his trouble, and in the same proportion for a larger number. Companies uniting in a remittance will be supplied on the same terms.

Postmasters, Booksellers, and General Agents for the circulation of periodicals are respectfully solicited to interest themselves in our behalf, and are hereby assured that they shall in all cases receive the highest remuneration which the low price of our paper will enable us to give.

New York, March 22, 1834.

NOTICE.

THE Commissioners for Anne Arundel county will meet at the Court House in the city of Annapolis, on TUESDAY the second day of September next, for the purpose of hearing appeals and making transfers, and transacting the ordinary business of the Levy Court.

ON application to the subscriber, one of the Justices of the Orphans Court of said county, by petition, in writing, of John T. Larmer of said county, stating that he is now in custody for debts he is unable to pay, praying for the benefit of the acts of the general assembly of Maryland, passed at November session 1803, and the several supplements thereto, a schedule of his property, and a list of his creditors, on oath, so far as he can ascertain them, annexed thereto, and the said John T. Larmer having satisfied me that he has resided two years next preceding the time of his application, and the said John T. Larmer having taken the oath for delivering up his property as aforesaid, and having given security for his appearance at court, I do hereby order and adjudge, that the said John T. Larmer be discharged from confinement, and that he give notice to his creditors, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in the Maryland Gazette once a week for three months before the fourth Monday in October next, to appear before the county court for the purpose of recommending a trustee for their benefit, and to show cause, if any they have, why the said John T. Larmer should not have the benefit of said act and supplements, as prayed. Given under my hand this 14th day of March 1834.

From the above it will be seen that the undersigned has been compelled to resort to the provisions of the Insolvent Laws of this state, and in order to prevent mis-representation, he will state the circumstances which led him to adopt this disagreeable alternative. He had the same security for an individual at Anne-Arundel county court for a considerable sum of money, at a time when the individual alluded to has left the state of Maryland, and the person to whom the debt is due has sued for and obtained a judgment against him. The undersigned, therefore, feeling himself responsible to pay the debt, has been compelled to resort to the above.

PEBBLES FROM THE BRUNNENS OF NASSAU,

a descriptive [illegible] of the fashionable watering [illegible] in Germany, by an old man, will form the commencement of the fourth volume of Waldie's Library.

To be followed, at an early day, by the Tales of Henry Masersade le Tude, who was confined for thirty five years in the different state Prisons in France, now first translated into English.

The works published in the current volume, up to the point of completion, are the following:

Switzerland, or the German's Tale, a novel, by the author of Canterbury Tales.

Memoirs of Sir James Campbell, of Ardkinglass, written by himself: a very piquant work, containing an edition of most of the distinguished characters of the last sixty years.

Sir Walter; a tale by the author of Lady Lucrania.

The Broken Heart; a dramatic sketch, from Lalah.

Time in the Nineteenth Century; in a series of letters written during a residence in that year by a Lady.

The Dead and Damn Page: a Tale.

Memoirs of the Court of Louis the XIV.; by the Duke of St. Simon.

The Black Watch; an Historical Novel, by the author of the Domine's Legacy; &c. &c.

One of the best novels, say the London Magazines, of the present day.

Taylor's new book of Travels in Mexico and Texas.

Allan Cunningham's Biographical and Critical History of Literature for the last fifty years.

Helen, a Novel, by Maria Edgeworth.

Journal of a West India Proprietor, kept during a residence in the Island of Jamaica, the late Matthew G. Lewis, Esq. M. P. author of the Monk, &c.

The Curate's Tale, or Practical Joking; from the new work entitled Nights of the Round Table.

The Three Westminster boys, or Cowper, the Chancellor Thurlow, and Warren Hastings, contrasted; from the same.

A Narrative of the Shipwreck of the Antelope at Pelew, in 1783, and a brief but accurate account of Prince Le Boo.

All the above cost in the "Library" but $50!!!
