GREAT NATIONAL WORK.

AMERICAN MAGAZINE

Of Useful and entertaining Knowledge. To be illustrated with numerous Engravings. By the Boston Bewick Company.

THE success which has attended the publication of the best Magazines from the English Press, has led to preparation for issuing a periodical more particularly adapted to the wants and tastes of the American public. While it will be the object of the proprietors to make the work strictly what its title indicates, it will, nevertheless, contain articles of interest to its patrons which appear in foreign Magazines.

Extensive preparations have been entered into, both with artists and authors, to furnish for all parts of the Union, drawings and illustrations of every subject of interest, and the proprietors confidently believe will enable them to render a work worthy of its title, and acceptable to an American people.

The first number of the American Magazine, illustrated with numerous [illegible] or more splendid engravings, will [illegible] on the first of [illegible] and will contain monthly, [illegible] thirty and thirty imperial octavo pages, [illegible] furnished at the low price of two dollars per annum. It will contain—

Portraits and Biographical Sketches of distinguished Americans; views of Public Buildings, Monuments and improvements; Landscape scenery; the beautiful variety and [illegible] of nature in this country, will form an [illegible] source of instruction and gratification [illegible] Buildings and [illegible] of the [illegible] Glass, Porcelain and Pottery, together with [illegible] and [illegible] connected with Geography, History, the management of [illegible] the cultivation of the soil, [illegible] and horticulture.

[illegible] of the Boston Bewick Company [illegible]

Boston, July 17.

Editors throughout the Union [illegible] who will give the above Prospectus a few insertions in their respective papers, will be entitled to the [illegible] of the Publishers.

COMPANION TO WALDIE'S LIBRARY.

The cheapest reprint from English Periodicals ever offered to the public.

BEFORE the Select Circulating Library had been long in existence, it was discovered that there was still something wanting—that many occurrences in the literary world must pass unknown, as regarded our agency, without an extension of the plan. To establish a fuller medium of communication and supply the desideratum, the Journal of Belles Lettres was added; which we have reason to believe has afforded general satisfaction. The very liberal patronage extended to the Library induced the proprietor to give that gratuitously as an evidence of his acknowledgments.

More extended experience has shown other desiderata which the "Companion" is intended to supply. While reading for the "Library" a large mass of material accumulates on the hands of the editor, of an interesting, entertaining, and instructive description, such as would properly come under the designation of Magaziniana, interspersed with the Reviews from the English Quarterlies. To publish every thing of this nature which we deem desirable would encroach too much on the columns of the "Library" designed for books, and yet to pass them by is constantly a subject of regret. To concentrate, therefore, the publication of Books entire, Reviews, lists of new works, the choicest contributions to Magazines, &c. &c. &c. the "Companion to Waldie's Library" will be offered to the patronage of the present subscribers and the public at large. It is believed that with the "Library," the "Journal," and the "Companion," such an acquaintance with the literature of the age may be cultivated as to leave little further to be desired. Being all published from the same office, more facility offers for subscribing, and having fewer people to deal with, mistakes are less liable to occur, and more readily corrected when they do. The short interval of two weeks between the publication of each number, it is thought too, will be an advantage over monthlies and quarterlies.

The following plan is respectfully submitted.

1. The "COMPANION" will contain the earliest possible reprints of the best matter in the British periodicals.

2. It will be issued every fortnight, and the form will be the same as that of the Library—each number containing sixteen pages—thus, every six months, giving thirteen numbers, which can be bound with the Library at little or no more expense, and making a better sized volume; and to those who do not take the Library itself, a volume every year, of 416 quarto pages of the size of the present.

3. The price will be three dollars for a subscriber—five dollars for two—and clubs five and upwards will be supplied at two dollars each.

4. As the work will not be commenced, unless a sufficient patronage be obtained, no payment is required at present, only the name, sent free of postage. Those wishing to support the publication will be pleased therefore to announce their intention as early as possible: as it is intended to commence the work on the first of January next. On the issuing of the second number payment will be expected, as its appearance will evince a sufficiency of patronage.

The proprietor of the "Select Circulating Library," fully aware from experience of the advantages to the public of the rapid diffusion of cheap and select literature, has been induced to add the important feature to the work, and of course leaves it optional with the present subscribers and others to take it or not.

It is confidently believed, that, with the attention on the part of the Editor, who has already at hand the material for such a work, all the really valuable matter of the English literary and amusing publications may be comprised in this form at a rate of subscription and postage, so trifling as scarcely to be felt. It will form the cheapest reprint of reviews and magazines ever attempted in any country; a comparison with others it were useless here to enter upon, the 'Library' itself being the best test by which to judge of the difference between an octavo and a quarto page. It will be the study of the Editor to embody a record of the day, adapted to the wants of this country, which can have no competitor for value or cheapness; how far he is likely to do this he must leave at present to the decision of his readers.

Clubs of five individuals, who subscribe to the 'Library' and 'Companion' both, will obtain the two for six dollars, the postage (a very important consideration) to the most distant post office, on the two, will be one dollar and ninety-five cents, divided into seventy eight payments, and half that sum for 150 miles or a less distance from Philadelphia, while the same matter, in the usual American reprints of reviews and magazines in octavo form would be eighteen dollars, and the postage as three to one. We make this assertion advisedly.

☞Subscriptions to the 'Companion,' will be taken either with or without the 'Library.'

The proprietor trusts that his punctuality and exactness in executing his part of the contract in the publication of the 'Library,' will be considered a sufficient guarantee of the completion of his proposed undertaking.

PROPOSALS

TO REPUBLISH THE

LONDON, EDINBURGH, FOREIGN AND WESTMINSTER

QUARTERLY REVIEWS,

FOR $5 PER ANNUM.

THE above Journals are already so well known to the public, that little need be said of their respective merits.

The well sustained reputation of the LONDON QUARTERLY, not only as an able defender of Tory principles, and the old order of things, but as the wittiest and most entertaining of Reviews, will always command the attention of the literary and scientific.

The EDINBURGH, celebrated for the vigor, learning and acuteness which its articles display, conducted by some of the principal literary men of the modern Athens, is an equally powerful champion of the moderate Reform party.

The FOREIGN QUARTERLY occupies a neutral ground in Politics, and is devoted to continental literature.

The WESTMINSTER is but little known in this country. It may be considered as the advocate of the Radicals, and the mouthpiece of Republicanism. It represents the principles of a party already numerous in England, and rapidly increasing in the United States.

The numbers will be put to press immediately after they shall be received from Europe, and from the extreme accuracy of the above arrangements, the annual volumes of upwards of [illegible] pages will be delivered in as good style, and [illegible] out in a cheaper form than [illegible] European editions.

[illegible] $5 per annum, payable [illegible] delivery of the first [illegible] copies cannot be had [illegible] than five. On the three [illegible] present [illegible] of them alone cost $4 to [illegible]

[illegible] subscribers [illegible] the [illegible] an additional copy. [illegible] papers to be addressed, post paid, [illegible] Albany, N. Y.

PROSPECTUS

Publishing in the City of B[illegible] a Weekly Paper under the title of THE WEEKLY BALTIMORE REPUBLICAN.

T[illegible] the solicitation of several of our friends in this city, and applications from the different counties of the state, we have concluded on issuing a weekly paper, on or before the first of next, or as much sooner as a number of subscribers shall be obtained to warrant the undertaking.

It is deemed unnecessary to enter into a detail of our political opinions, as the [illegible] known to our friends throughout the state, as it is usual to make some [illegible] on commencing a new publication, we feel bound to state, that as we have always been Republican, so shall we continue. [illegible] the machinations of wily politicians, we have exerted every energy to break them, and so long as the principles of the Democratic Administration continue to receive the support of the people—the sovereigns of this land, we shall continue their sentinels on the watch-tower of freedom to give the alarm of every encroachment on the rights of the people by ambitious and aspiring men. We are not disposed to eulogize the measures or conduct of men in this place, but we may make these few remarks that our readers may know that our principles are those of our fathers, and that we shall never desert our colours in time of need—when the cause of our country calls every man to arms. It is unnecessary to extend a prospectus of a Newspaper, as every citizen is acquainted with their utility in diffusing information on all subjects of a local or foreign nature, and the influence placed within their reach may be exerted over the public mind, when properly conducted, by giving the people those principles upon which our institutions are founded, or in correcting any errors in their papers; and by securing this prospectus a few gratuitous insertions in their papers; and by securing subscribers to obtaining it, marked, they will be entitled themselves to a free exchange, and those friends to whom we may send it will please procure as many subscribers as they can, and return their names about the time the publication is commenced.

Post Masters and others, who may find themselves in procuring subscribers, shall be entitled to a deduction of fifty per cent. on the amount of their subscriptions, or a copy of the paper for one year for every five subscribers they may obtain. They will also forward the names immediately, in order that we may be able to keep our list of Agents. Ad[illegible]

S. & J. N[illegible]
South Gay-street, opposite the Exchange.
Baltimore, Md. December, [illegible]

TERMS.

THE WEEKLY REPUBLICAN will be of the same size sheet as our daily edition, and will contain most of the matter which may appear in the course of the week. Good type will be used, and every [illegible] its mechanical arrangement shall be of which the encouragement we will admit. It will be issued every morning, at the low price of [illegible] per annum, if paid in advance, or Two and Fifty Cents at the expiration of six months, or Three Dollars if not paid at the end of the year. ☞ These terms will be strictly adhered to.

Editors with whom we exchange, and those in adjacent states, will confer a favor by giving this prospectus a few gratuitous insertions in their papers; and by securing it, marked, they will be entitled themselves to a free exchange, and those friends to whom we may send it will please procure subscribers.

NOTICE.

[illegible] persons having Books belonging to the Sunday School Library will please return them [illegible] December 11.
