FIGHT FOR THE NIGGER.

Tune—Well for the Wagon.

I calculate if darkies we soon shall have our bill,
With Abe's Proclamation and the Nigger Arbon my hill;
Who would not be a soldier for the Union to fight?
Now, Abe's made the nigger the equal of the white.

Fight for the nigger,
The sweet-scented nigger,
The woolly-headed nigger,
And the Abolition crew,
Each soldier must be loyal and his officers obey,
Though he lives on mouldy biscuit, and fights without his pay;
If his wife at home is starving, he must not be discontent,
Though he waits six months for green-backs worth forty-five per cent.
Fight for the nigger, &c.

Moreover, if you're drafted, do not refuse to go,
You are equal to a nigger, and can make as good a show;
And when you are in battle, to the Union be true,
But don't forget the darkey is as good a man as you!
Fight for the nigger, &c.

If ordered into battle, go in without delay,
Though slaughtered just like cattle, it's your duty to obey;
For when old Jeff is captured, 'praps paid up you may be,
If you ain't, don't mind the money, don't you set the nigger free?
Fight for the nigger, &c.

Three cheers for honest Abe, he will be a great man yet,
Though he's loaded us with taxes, and burdened us with debt;
He often tells us little jokes, whilst pocketing 22 per cent,
And his last has made the nigger the equal of himself!
Fight for the nigger, &c.

Guard well the Constitution, the Government and laws,
To every act of Congress don't forget to give applause;
And when you meet the Rebels, be sure and drive them back,
Though you do enslave the white man, you must liberate the black.
Fight for the nigger, &c.

A Capital California Yarn.

A San Francisco contributor writes:

In the northern part of this State is a stream called Yuba River. Across it some enterprising individual erected a bridge, and on the banks somebody else built three or four houses. The inhabitants called the place Yuba Dam. Three bars were instantly erected, and the town increased rapidly. About noon one cool day, a traveller and a sojourner in the land passed this flourishing locality, and seeing a long-legged specimen of humanity in red shirt, smoking before one of the bars, thus addressed him:

"Hello!"

"Hello!" replied red shirt, with vigor, removing his pipe from his mouth.

"What place is this?" demanded the traveller, whose name was Thompson.

The answer of the shirt was unexpected.—"Yuba Dam!"

There were about fifty yards between them, and the wind was blowing. Mr. Thompson thought he had been mistaken.

"What did you say?" he asked.

"Yuba Dam," replied the shirt, cheerfully.

"What place is this?" roared Mr. Thompson.

"Yuba Dam," said the shirt, in a highly elevated tone of voice.

"Lookee here!" yelled the irate Mr. Thompson; "I asked you politely what place this was; why in thunder don't you answer?"

The stranger became excited. He rose and replied with the voice of an 80-pounder:

"Yu-ba-Dam! Do you hear that?"

In a minute Thompson, burning with the wrath of the righteous, jumped off his horse and advanced on the stranger with an expression not to be mistaken. The shirt arose and assumed a posture of offence and defence.

Arrived within a yard of him, Thompson said:

"I ask you for the last time—what place is this?"

Putting his hand to his mouth his opponent roared:

"Yuba-Dam!"

The next minute they were at it.—First, Thompson was down; then the shirt; and then it was a dog-fall—that is, both were down. They rolled about, kicking up a tremendous dust. They squirmed around as energetically that you'd have thought they had a dozen legs instead of four. It looked like a prize-fight between two pugilistic centipedes. Finally they both rolled off the bank and into the river. The water cooled them. They went down together, but came up separate, and put out for the shore.—Both reached it about the same time, and Thompson scrambled up the bank, mounted his warlike steed, and made tracks, leaving the foe gouging the mud out of one of his eyes.

Having left the business portion of the town, that is to say, the corner where the three bars were kept, he struck a house in the suburbs, before which a little girl of about four years of age was playing.

"What place is this, Sissy?" he asked.

The little girl, frightened at the drowned-rat figure which Mr. Thompson cut, streaked it for the house. Having reached the door she stopped, turned, and screamed:

"Co-ba-dam!"

"Good Heavens!" said Thompson, digging his heels between his horse's ribs—"Good Heavens! let me out of this horrid place, where not only the men but the very babes and sucklings swear at inoffensive travellers!"

SHRINER'S Balsamic Cough Syrup,

For Coughs, Colds, Croup, Whooping Cough, Asthma, Bronchitis, Spitting Blood, Pain and Weakness of the Breast, Difficulty of Breathing, &c.

THIS IS NO NEW REMEDY. It has been used for a number of years in Maryland and parts of Pennsylvania, and has, wherever known, acquired an unprecedented reputation for curing the various diseases for which it is recommended.

So apparent is its usefulness, and so remarkable has been its cures, that it is fast superceding every other remedy for those diseases. The afflicted can rely upon its doing as much for them, and in many cases more, than any other remedy now before the public.

It is recommended and prescribed in the practice of a large number of the most intelligent and able physicians of Maryland. It is used and considered an indispensable household remedy by a large portion of the first families of the State.

It is used by all classes of society, and the universal opinion is, that it is good. This Syrup is purely Vegetable Compound. It is pleasant to take, and never does injury. But owing to its purifying qualities, must do good under any circumstances. Its effects are truly wonderful, soothing, exciting and allaying the most violent coughs—purifying, strengthening, and invigorating the whole system—calming and soothing the nerves—aiding and facilitating expectoration, and healing the DISEASED LUNGS—thus striking at the root of disease, and driving it from the system.

CROUP.

This disease is announced by difficulty of breathing, shrill whistling or wheezing, hacking cough, or threatened suffocation, &c. It mostly occurs in young children. No child need die of croup if this Syrup is properly used and used in time. Mothers having croupy children should watch the first show of the disease, and always keep this remedy at hand.

For coughs after measles this Syrup is most excellent. Experience has proven that it is equalled by no other preparation.

☞ The price of the remedy is such as to place it within the reach of all, the poor as well as the rich, and every person should have it.

Every person should have it in the house. It is a true and faithful friend to all who value health and wish to secure themselves against that most terrible disease, consumption. It will be found the most useful as well as the cheapest family medicine in the world. It has been used for the last four years with a success without a parallel.

Price 37 cents per bottle, or three bottles for $1. For sale by

FOUTZ'S Celebrated Horse and Cattle POWDERS.

THESE POWDERS have proved, after a trial of several years, to be superior to any preparation of the kind in use. The chief superiority of these powders arises from the fact that they are composed of medicines that have laxative, tonic and purifying properties.—The laxative ejects crudities from the stomach and intestines; the tonic gives strength to the system of the horse, and the purifying medicines contained in them cleanse the blood, and lay the foundation for a healthy and vigorous circulation. The use of them improves the wind, strengthens the appetite, and gives the horse a fine, smooth and glossy skin—thus improving the appearance, vigor and spirit of this noble animal.

These powders are not intended, as most powders are, to bloat the animal, so as to give him the appearance of being fat when not really so—but to remove his disease and promote his general health.

These powders will strengthen the stomach and intestines, cleanse them from offensive matter, and bring them to a healthy state. They are a sure prevention of Lung Fever, and a certain remedy for all diseases incident to the Horse, as Glanders, Yellow Water, Distempers, Founder, Hoarse, Slavering, Coughs, Fevers, Loss of Appetite, and Vital Energy, &c. These powders, if used two or three times a week, through the winter and spring, your horse will never get the Lung Fever, Cholic, or Bolts. A few doses of these powders will remove the worst cough on any horse. Were owners of horses to feed a few of these powders every year, they might save the lives of many valuable horses.

MILCH COWS.

The properties this powder possesses in increasing the quantity of milk in cows, gives it an importance and value which should place it in the hands of every person keeping a cow. In fattening cattle, it gives them an appetite, loosens their hide, and makes them thrive much faster.

HOGS.

In all diseases of Swine, as Coughs, Ulcers in the Lungs and Liver, &c., by putting from half a paper to a paper of these powders in a barrel of swill, the above diseases can be cured or entirely prevented. By using these powders, the Hog Cholera can be prevented. Prepared by
