To remove a distrust expressed in new undertakings, and often prejudicial to manufacturing attempts in America, they think it proper to observe, that nothing material is wanting in the business to enable them to compete with the work here, as well as in Europe. That they have these artists—that two of their partners were bred to the business in the city of Philadelphia of reputed, carried on by their father, and afterwards by themselves. They trust to whole foreign goods are received without a question, an unreasonable suspicion will not be cast on their countrymen from giving an equal trial to such as are working among their fellows—a side a natural doubt, there is room to fear, that certain interests, narrowed as well as individual may suggest objections to their undertaking—It is necessary therefore to say, that work of the like kind, shall be as well received here, as by foreign hands and extol. This Day Published,
BY SAMUEL BUTLER,
At the corner of Market and Charles-streets,
Price 1 dollar neatly bound and lettered,

Ferdinand & Elmira.

Printed from the original manuscript of an American lady, author of "Dorval," "Julia and the Banditti," and "Emira."

The writer of this instructive and amusing work, has hitherto published the effusions of her pen in New-England, and here (where the flights of fancy, as fostered by the religious sects of the north, are not received with that friendly welcome which they experience in the more genial climate of the south and middle states) commanded that applause, which genius and fancy never fail of producing on those liberal and candid minds who will take the trouble to discriminate between the ordinary day-labor of the common English novelist, who works for a living the same as any other mechanic, and have in view the end in view than to bring forth a fashionable piece of goods, that will serve the moment and remunerate himself; and the lady of refined sentiment and correct taste, who writes for the amusement of herself, her friends and the public.

It contains upwards of three hundred pages, is well printed on a new type and fine paper.

Also just published as above,
INTERESTING ANECDOTES
OF THE
Heroic conduct of Women,

Previous to, and during the French revolution: translated from the French of M. Du Broca, and other modern writers of authenticity.

When it is considered that this work records some of the most shining virtues of human nature, such as constancy, fortitude courage, affection, tenderness, love and patriotism, as well as superior good sense and judgment, which have been exhibited by females, and shews that the Fair Sex, when exigency requires, are by no means inferior in these virtues, and in several of them superior to what in like cases would be expected from the boasted lords of the creation—it is reasonable to expect, that almost every lady of information will be happy in purchasing a book so well calculated to defend the cause of beauty, when attacked by petulence or arrogance.

The present edition is enlarged by additional selections of about one-third more than the London translation of Du Broca's Anecdotes, and is printed on a fine cream colored paper, and still sells at only one half the price of the London copy.

In the press, and with all convenient speed will be published, the second vol. of the Baltimore Musical Miscellany, consisting of new and approved songs set to music.

VENEREAL COMPLAINTS.

AS Dr. WARNER's practice has been very extensive both in public and private, daily experience convinces him of the propriety of his method of removing the venereal disease, in preference to any medicine vended or known in Baltimore. He has removed the most desperate cases with care and dispatch, after the failure of some of the ablest physicians both in Europe and America. Complaints of the urinary passages and debility thereof, from various causes and accidents, removed in the shortest possible space of time.

—As there are persons from various causes cannot personally apply, it may be necessary to inform them, they may be relieved from a description of their complaint.

Dr. W. warrants a cure in all cases. Masters of vessels and travellers may have their medicines prepared that a safe, effectual and expeditious cure may be effected, without the least restriction in drink or diet.

Dr. MACE'S
ANTI-BILIOUS TINCTURE & HEALTH-PRESERVING PILLS

FOR preserving health in general, and especially for preventing the diseases of warm climates and warm seasons, such as the cholera morbus, dysentery or flux and lax, sickness of the stomach and overflow of bile, ague and fever, billious or yellow fever, liver complaints, billious pleurisy, billious head ache, and jaundice or yellowness of the skin and eyes.

It is here asserted with confidence, and without the least fear of a contradiction, by the use of these medicines, that they are the best remedies for curing as well as preventing, billious complaints of all kinds. A detail of many cases might be given to prove this assertion, but the following, which are taken from real facts, it is hoped will be sufficient:

E. M. has been afflicted with a billious complaint six years, so that every summer he was forced to take large doses of medicine, or else be confined to bed. By the remedies here recommended he has been [illegible] of health during the summer and [illegible] was [illegible] often [illegible].

I. M. was [illegible] with jaundice or billious complaints, and was perfectly relieved in 10 days by the same means.

G. A. had been for a long time subject to jaundice and billious fevers, the highest degree [illegible] was [illegible] boy. He had tried many [illegible] physicians and others, but without a [illegible]. He was, however, soon cured by the remedies given in the above cases.

I. T. had been for a long time afflicted with a billious complaint. He had applied to eminent physicians, and had taken the usual remedies recommended in such cases. He also took a journey to the springs. All, however, were useless. By the same remedies taken by the above mentioned patients he was completely relieved in four days.

M. F. a young lady, was affected for a long time with a bad [illegible] yellowness of the skin and whites of the eyes with other particular complaints, (for which the Tincture is a certain remedy) She had consulted a physician and had taken many remedies in vain, but was completely relieved by the same medicines as the above.

S. P. another young lady, in the same condition, was cured in the same manner.

B. S. had been subject to bilious complaints for a long time, and had taken the medicines generally recommended in such cases to no purpose, but was restored to health in a short time by the above mentioned remedies.

B. B. was affected with a billious fever in a violent degree. He had severe pains in his head back and limbs, with a sick stomach and yellowness of the skin and eyes, attended with a high fever. He took a tea spoonful of the tincture every hour or half hour until better, and then every two hours, together with the pills, and in a very few days was entirely restored to health.

The Anti Bilious Tincture and Pills have been taken by many persons in this city with the greatest benefit that could be expected, to whom reference for further satisfaction may be made if necessary. On the Eastern shore of this state, so far as real billious complaints, the reputation of these medicines is established upon the most solid foundation. The inventor of them has not yet known of a single instance in which they have not been taken with all the advantage which could be expected. Every day they are coming more in demand, while their credit is increasing in the same degree. Neither the tincture nor pills contain any mercury, or any dangerous medicine whatever; they are composed of simples entirely, and are perfectly innocent. These medicines are found, when taken for the prevention of summer and fall diseases, to carry off the bile in a gradual manner as it increases, and thereby hinder its coming to excess. When taken for the cure of billious diseases, they carry the bile away very speedily, but without any inconvenience; increase the strength of the stomach and occasion a good appetite, by which the patient is soon restored to health and spirits

The price of the tincture is one dollar by the bottle, and of the pills half a dollar by the box: wholesale purchasers are supplied with both at a dollar, which makes a generous allowance for retailing. Sold by the inventor on the Point, No. 21, Fell's-street, and in town by George Baily, druggist, No. 68, Market-street, and no where else in this city.

The inventor of these medicines recommends them upon principles which he will not hesitate to avow upon a proper occasion. He disclaims the character of a Nostrum-monger, nor [illegible] willingly ape the Mock-doctor of Molière.
