BALTIMORE,
WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 12, 1804.

We discharge a mournful duty in laying before our readers the following statement of deaths in Malaga, in this year, up to the 17th September last, communicated in a letter received from Cadiz.—

19,843 of both sexes,
1,200 soldiers,
300 guards,
17 physicians,
42 clergy of the cathedral,
72 private clergy,
82 religious persons,
76 monks

[Nat. Int.]

LIBERTY OR DEATH.

IMPERIAL DECREE.

JACQUES Emperor of Hayti directs the following Ordinance to be carried into effect throughout his dominion.

All vessels, to whatever nation belong, that shall introduce spiritous liquors into this Island, shall be liable to pay a duty of two dollars per gallon, on the liquor thus imported.

The general minister of the finances is specially charged with the execution of this decree, and the generals and other military authorities are directed to aid and assist in carrying the same into effect.

Done at the Imperial Palace of Dessalines, the 22d day of September, in the first year of independence and of our reign.

By the Emperor,

DESSALINES,

BOISROND TONNERE.

The following extract of a letter, the subject of which we are unable to explain or account for, was handed to us this morning by a respectable gentleman, to whom it was addressed by his correspondent, an American, then resident in the Island of Dominique.

Dominique, 3d Nov. 1804.

"This port was closed yesterday against all American cargoes of every description: this I am informed is to be the case in all the British Islands. The cause of this procedure is not known here; some suppose it owing to the application of the Irish merchants." [Po. and Com. Reg.]

From the NATIONAL ÆGIS.

BOOK OF THE FEDERALITES.

CHAPTER I.

1. And it came to pass as it drew nigh unto the fifth day of the eleventh month, which is the month November;

2. That the Federalites gathered themselves together unto their chiefs and wise men of whom they were wont to counsel

3. And the wise men said, now are the Republicanites coming in mighty against us; if we flee this once, then we cannot desire the people to follow after us any longer.

4. Then rose up ISAIAH, who was surnamed "Thick-Scull," saying—go to, now will we send a letter unto all the Friends of Britain secretly;

5. Charging them to be arming for the great battle; and to arm their Bondmen and those who owed them Silver and Gold, and all those, whom they could by any means force into the battle; for the cause was urgent.

6. Straightway they went and did as they were commanded, for they were not wont to disobey, and many were obliged to join them who disprized them in their hearts.

7. Moreover they sent men to cry out in the streets and highways, and in public places, saying, our nation is undone, our chief ruler is an Infidel! Religion is in danger! but the people believed them not.

8. And the day came, and the sun shone, and the people gathered together in all the land of Massachusetts, and the battle waxed hot, and the Republicanites prevailed.

9. And there was slain of Federalites even in this one battle, Nine Thousand Five Hundred valiant men; for the hand of the Lord was against them;

10. And when they came from the battle they hung their heads, and they do so even unto this day.
