Most of the above pieces have been performed on the American stage, but have not been published; a few of them have neither been performed nor published: but the whole will be carefully corrected and revised, and many of them will be nearly re-written. Age and experience, it is presumed, will enable the author to correct many of the errors and inaccuracies in his earlier productions.
Independent of any merit these plays may possess, the publisher hopes that some interest will be excited in the American public, to preserve, in a respectable form, the works of the first native of the United States who has devoted his time and talents to dramatic composition.
Subscription papers are left at Messrs. Michael and John Conrad's, where may be seen some of the likenesses painted for the work, with other specimens of MINIATURE PAINTING.
