harbor, mutinied and the captain fired upon them, and wounded two of the seamen, of which one is said to have since died, in the Hospital, of his wound. The seamen in the harbor manifested on Saturday a disposition to be riotous, and to commit some outrage upon other British vessels in the port; the Croydon having went to sea on that morning. In consequence, the Governor, on Saturday evening, ordered out a very strong military force to preserve the peace of the city.

Extract of a letter from an officer to his friend, dated NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 10, 1806.

"As unaccountable as it may appear at the first glance, I verily believe that Aaron Burr has been a prime mover in the villainous slanders of the "Western World," the letter to fit Gen. Wilkinson for his damnable plan of corruption. In aid of numberless falsehoods which have been transmitted to the general (of the hostility of Congress to his interest, and of the President's determination to abandon him.) Wood's calumnies were to complete his desperation, and fit him for the most villainous of all atrocities, Military treason; as if an Arnold had not lived. This arch tempter has (the general now believes) from the retrospect of years, been long laboring to prepare him for his purpose—but never dared until now to offer him a dishonorable proposition.—His conduct candles the general to exhibit to the world, the indissoluable bond by which he is bound to his honor and his country—he has proclaimed himself a villain and prepared a pit for his country, into which the general trusts he will have it in his power to bury him. His accomplices are numerous, powerful and opulent—his plan deeply laid."

From a New-York Paper.

To the Editor of the Morning Chronicle.

Sir,

Although I have ever held it a degradation of my official character to notice the slanders of anonymous writers and wretches of little or no consideration in society, who I have borne with the in silence—yet when they present themselves, sanctioned by the signature of a man of respectable standing, to repel them is a duty I owe myself and the community, which is interested in the character of its officers. I am therefore constrained to declare, that the assertion contained in the Republican Watch Tower of the 25th ult. under the signature of THOMAS FARMAR, of my having formed a coalition with the federalists, for the purpose of procuring or retaining power, is a base, villainous, and slanderous falsehood, destitute of even the colour of foundation.

In justice to the gentlemen of the federal party, I am bound to declare, that I have no reason to believe they ever contemplated or wished such corrupt combination, or any other political combination or coalition with me; as no proposition, or even hint of the kind, was ever given or made to me directly or indirectly by any one of them.

MORGAN LEWIS.

Albany, 11th Jan. 1807.

We understand that the governor has directed a suit to be commenced against Thomas Farmar, for the libels contained in the resolutions referred to in his excellency's communication.

Letters from New-York, by the last mail say, "Large orders for wheat and flour have been received by the packet; the price of those articles much advanced. Prussia will want all she has got, as her granaries are lost by the campaign; on this speculators in Ireland predicate their orders. Flour 8 2-4 and looking up." Norfolk paper.

DOCUMENTS

Accompanying the bill repealing the acts laying duties on salt, and continuing in force for a further time the section of the act entitled "An act further to protect the commerce and seamen of the United States against the Barbary powers."

COMMITTEE ROOM,
December 12, 1806.

SIR,

The committee of ways and means, to whom has been referred that part of the message of the President of the United States of the 2d instant, which suggests the expediency of abolishing the duties on salt and of continuing, for a limited time, those duties, the proceeds of which constitute the Mediterranean fund, have instructed me to request that you will furnish them with such information in possession of the Treasury department, as you may deem connected with the subject.

I am, sir, with very high respect, your's,
JOHN RANDOLPH.

The Secretary of the Treasury.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
December 18, 1806.

SIR,

I had the honor to receive your letter of the 12th instant, requesting such information as I might deem connected with the proposition for abolishing the duty on salt, and for continuing, for a limited time, the duties which constitute the Mediterranean fund.

An examination of the report made on the 5th inst. in obedience to the provisions of the act, supplementary to the act to establish the Treasury department, will shew, that if no other expense whatever shall be incurred, but such as are already actually authorised by law, neither the salt tax nor the Mediterranean fund are any longer wanted. The propriety of continuing the last mentioned fund for a limited time, must be decided by considerations connected with the political situation of the United States. For it is only to provide for the speedy payment of any contemplated acquisition of territory, without creating a new debt, or in case of war, that the fund can be wanted. Under existing circumstances, I should think it consistent with prudence to continue it for one year longer.

As to the duty on salt, the only additional information which appears connected with the subject, is what relates to the allowance heretofore made to vessels employed in the cod fishery. For this perhaps exceeds the duties paid on the importation of the salt employed in curing the fish.

The allowance has amounted

	Dolls.
For the year 1803, to	117,174
For the year 1804, to	145,957
For the year 1805, to	152,928

The quantity of dried American fish exported, during the year ending on the 30th September, quintals.

1803, to	461,870
For the year ending on 30th Sept. 1804, to	567,825
And for the year ending on 30th Sept. 1805, to	514,549

But the quantity of fish of that description, consumed within the U. States, is not known.

The bounty paid on the exportation of pickled fish, pork, and beef, is said to be no more than the duty on the salt used in curing the same.

Should there be any points on which further elucidations are wanted, and the committee will be pleased to designate what they are, their directions will be immediately attended to.

I have the honor to be very respectfully, sir, your obedient servant,

ALBERT GALLATIN.

Hon. John Randolph, Chairman of the Committee of ways and means.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
January 3, 1807.

SIR,

I have the honor to inclose a statement of the quantity of salt imported into the several ports of the United States, and exported therefrom to foreign countries, during the year ending on the 30th day of September, 1805.

I have the honor to be, very respectfully, sir, your obedient servant,

ALBERT GALLATIN.

Hon John Randolph, Chairman of the Committee of Ways and Means.

A statement, shewing the quantity of salt imported into the several ports of the United States and exported thence from, during the year ending on the 30th Sept. 1805.

Dr. Solomon Barncastle,

DENTIST,

LATELY FROM LONDON,

MOST respectfully informs the Ladies and Gentlemen of Baltimore, that he sets natural and artificial Teeth on an entire new principle, with ligatures, springs, and pivots, or on plates of gold, in such a manner as the nicest eye of discernment on the closest inspection, cannot properly discover that there was ever any derangement, so that the Teeth are not only of a beautiful complexion but perfectly useful. The tartar which is so destructive to Teeth, that it not only blackens, but if neglected, will entirely destroy them, he removes without injuring the enamel, and restores them to their native whiteness.

Decayed Teeth plugged, so as to chew with as much ease as any other sound Tooth, and their further decay prevented.

From the many years experience in the practice of extracting Teeth, he has acquired the safest, and easiest method of operating, as the nature of circumstances can possibly admit.

If indisputable abilities, tenderness and care in the different operations, and the most implicit candor in advice to patients, are the necessary essentials to procure promotion in his line of profession, such essentials will invariably not be wanting to attract the attention, and thereby merit a share of encouragement from an impartial public.

N. B. Those who wish to be attended at their residence, will please address at No. 125, Bond-street, Fell's-Point, at which place are for sale the following, viz. Tooth Powder, which cures the scurvy in the gums, at one dollar per box or bottle; it is of recent discovery. Also, a Liquid to fasten the Teeth in the gums, price two dollars per bottle. And an Oil which cures all Tooth Aches, without extracting the Teeth. Likewise, Corns extracted without pain or bleeding.

MR. MANFREDI,

And his company, consisting of five performers—three ladies and two gentlemen, Offer their services to the public, and respectfully inform them that their next performance will be

THIS EVENING, Jan. 19,
At Mr. Bryden's New Assembly Room.

The performance will commence

By Miss Louisa, with a dance in character on the tight rope, with the balance pole.

Miss Catherine will exhibit on the rope, a comic dance, after which she will dance a serious one.

Madam Manfredi will dance a Turkish dance on the rope, with the balance pole—she will perform the feat of the moving board, and take a collation on the rope, in the Turkish style, seated in a chair at a table.

Mr. Manfredi will dance an English hornpipe on the rope, and afterwards dance the Cossac dance.

He will jump over a ribbon 15 feet high, backward and forward.

Miss Catherine will dance without the balance pole, and perform several very surprising and agreeable feats on the rope.

Madam Manfredi will play on the Mandoline, without the aid of the balance pole, and afterwards display two flags at the same moment.

Mr. Manfredi, without the aid of the balance pole, will go through the surprising feat of the hoop; also the Spanish cloak, and exhibit the feat of the glass of wine in the hoop.

Tumbling agility of the Children,

Who will perform several feats on the Carpet, in the Italian style.

Extraordinary feats of the Tumblers, who will throw backward and forward Somersets over Tables and Chairs. Ground Tumbling, with English and Spanish Dances.

The Egyptian Pyramids.

Mr. Manfredi will balance several Persons on his Arms, Legs, &c. shewing several perspectives in the Roman style.

He will dance a Spanish Fandango over several Eggs.

The whole to conclude with

A HORNPIPE, by Miss Catherine.

Admittance, one dollar. The doors to be opened at half past 5 o'clock, and the performance to begin at half past 6.

☞ No segars to be smoked during the performance.

Good FIRES shall be kept.
