Patent Iron bound Boots, Boots, and Shoes.

JOHN BEDFORD,

PHILADELPHIA,

Respectfully informs the public in general, and Store-keepers in particular, that he is now prepared to supply them with the above valuable goods, wholesale and retail, on moderte terms.

Shoemakers, also, may be supplied with patent-rights, on easy terms, which they will find it highly their interest to obtain, as they can, by this improvement, make four times the quantity of shoes, with their usual number of hands: for example, the usual work of three men, is only three pair of common shoes per day; whereas, in the improved way, three men with the assistance of a boy, can make from twelve to fifteen pair per day. Thus the advantages resulting from this improvement are evidently of the most essential importance: in the first place, three-fourths of the labour is saved; in the second place, half the leather is saved (for one pair of shoes, made in this way will wear as long as two pair, made in the usual way) and in the third place, there is a saving of wax (at the rate of one cent, to twenty-four pair of shoes) they are also much more water-proof than the others, in a easier method.

These are well ascertained facts, proved by actual experiment. For particulars [illegible] hopes, that any gentlemen [illegible] improvement, will not only [illegible] but the encouragement [illegible] [illegible] country. It may be [illegible] that the [illegible] patent-rights, [illegible] have the [illegible] of his [illegible] creditors.

Stop the Thief.

One Hundred Dollars Reward,

FOR apprehending and securing in Baltimore jail, my apprentice boy, named JACOB VANFREISWACK, aged 18 or 19 years, about 5 feet 3 inches high; very stout and strong for his age; fair complexion, and good features; short thick brown hair, inclined to curl; his hands very large. He is a native of Holland, and was bound an apprentice to me on board of the brig George, of Baltimore, in the year 1806, at Rotterdam, from thence he made a voyage with me to Baltimore, and from thence to Amsterdam, and back to Baltimore in 1806. He was at school with Mr. Hargrove, where he remained for several months. He was always a thief, and finally stole a gold ring, and knowing that he would be flogged, he ran away from school, and entered in the United States navy, where he remained 2 or 3 years, and afterwards sailed 1 or 2 voyages out of New York, to Antigua, where he was impressed; and in a few days after, ran away from the British man of war. About the latter end of August, 1807, after being gone about 3 years, he returned, expressing much concern for his past conduct, and begged [illegible] I would forgive him and take him as an apprentice again. I consented, and boarded his mother, Mrs. Hagen, on Dugan's wharf, and for 12 days he served as a porter in the store—And on the 26th Sept. whilst I was at breakfast, [illegible] the store in his charge, he availed himself of the opportunity, broke open my desk, stole [illegible] dollars, several silver table and tea spoons, marked S and a small brass pocket watch, maker's name, Ryan and Watson, London. Jacob can read a little, and sometimes attempts to write, but cannot make his letters plain enough to be understood; when he first came to this country, in 1802, I boarded him with Captain Geese on the Point, and he went to school a few months to Mr. Cooke. He speaks the English language very well, and has but little of the Dutch accent. I think that he has forgot the most of his mother tongue. If taken in this state and brought to Baltimore jail, 50 dollars will be paid; but if taken out of the state and lodged in Baltimore jail, 100 dollars will be paid.

The Old Line.

The proprietors of the New Line in Baltimore, or some of them, having advertised that they have fitted up the new sloop Sarah, ought to have noticed other particulars which I suppose did not occur to them. The President has got over to the glass-house before the Sarah started. The Sarah stopped at the Point to take in a passenger and when she started again, the P. has got nearly to the Fort, afterwards the wind increasing, the ladies on board induced Captain Parker to shorten sail, though (except to assuage their fears there was no occasion to do so.

Every man who has the least knowledge of such matters, knows that the manner in which a new vessel ought to be trimmed is not discovered at once. I will suppose that in six weeks one may discover the trim of the Sarah, and as soon after, as there occurs a wind with northing and easting, or northing and westing in it (those winds being commonly general & uniform, or rather increasing) we will run with any boat on the new line on this bay. The result of this competition shall be made public with impartiality, and my opponents shall not want an announcement to try the contest.

C. CHAMBERS

P. S. The Sarah beat the Pinkney going up the bay five hours. Captain Thomas in the Cecil beat the superior one mile.

THE FAMOUS AFRICAN HORSE,

SPOTTEE,

Has just arrived, who (from the great progress he has made in arithmetic and the art of boxing,) may justly be entitled,

The Real Horse of Knowledge

He will be exhibited every day (Sundays excepted) at Mr. Cook's Tavern, Market space, Baltimore.

This beautiful animal was caught on the Coast of Africa, and from the beauty and peculiarity of his colours and shape, was imported to this country, and exhibited as a natural curiosity. He is variegated with four very rich and distinct colours, which are formed into circular spots, similar to those of the Leopard, and his tail resembles that of the Elephant. Exclusive of these peculiarities, he will add, subtract, multiply and divide, tell the hour of the day by a watch, the number of buttons on a gentleman's coat, and the number of persons present; with many other pleasing exercises and marks of sagacity, which excite great admiration.

No danger need be apprehended during the performance, as the apartment is rendered very convenient.

☞ Doors will be opened from 8 until 12 o'clock in the morning, and from 3 until 6 in the afternoon.

☞ Price of admittance twenty-five cents only—Children half price.—Tickets to be had in the bar room.
