Uniform Crossing Signals

The long-drawn-out campaign to provide uniform signals at railroad crossings throughout the country is at last about to meet with success. The railroads have agreed, provided the Public Service Commission is satisfied, to place uniform signals of black and white at every crossing. Tests have proven that black and white as a color scheme is much more conspicuous than red and is not confusing to engineers. Queen Annes county crossing may soon be given the black and white treatment.

Wilmington nowadays is so easy of access by reason of improved transportation facilities and good roads that a long full day can be spent in shopping. Few cities of Wilmington's size can boast of better stores in all lines. For years this particular store has been known for the high character of its merchandise, the newest ideas being shown frequently before they are the vogue in the largest cities.

For the coming Fall and Winter season our lines are larger and better than in any previous season. Our ready-to-wear section is showing an exclusive variety of Coats, Suits, Dresses, Skirts, Waists, Petticoats, Kimonas, Sweaters, Muslin and Knit Underwear and Corsets.

Equally as attractive are the lines of Dress Goods, Silks, Laces, Trimmings, Hosiery, Gloves, Neckwear, Linens, Bedding and Domestic Dry Goods.
