Flash News In Brief

Roundup Of The Week's Newsmakers

(Continued from Page 1)

in the intimate little Mars Club to hear Billie (Lady Day) Holliday sing her haunting songs. It's her first appearance in Paris and she has them weeping in their beer, reports the AFRO's Ollie Stewart.

• • •

LOS ANGELES — First big plum of the sweeping Democratic victory in California will go to Loren Miller, publisher of the California Eagle and nationally known housing lawyer. Miller is to be appointed secretary in charge of clemency and extradition by Governor-elect Edmund G. (Pat) Brown.

• • •

PHILADELPHIA — Councilman Raymond Pace Alexander, who was by-passed as Pennsylvania's first colored Congressman, is reportedly in line for appointment to the Court of Common Pleas. He has the endorsement of the Philadelphia Bar Association and the pledge of Democratic bosses, Gov. George Leader would make the appointment.

• • •

NEWARK — Samuel A. Haynes, former managing editor of the New Jersey AFRO, has been named by Gov. Robert Meyner to a $6,500 post as public relations aide in the New Jersey Department of Labor. He assumes his new duties on Jan. 1.

• • •

PITTSBURGH — Senator Lorenzo Sumulong of the Philippines told a television audience here Sunday that cases of racial discrimination involving schools and other phases of life in America have had an injurious effect on United States prestige in Asia.

• • •

PHILADELPHIA — Willie the Junkman, whose real name is Julius Bracey will get 36 per cent of the gold treasure he found in a discarded drain pipe two years ago. Since many of the coins are collector's items, Bracey's share has been estimated between $25,000 and $50,000.

• • •

NEW YORK — Althea Gibson, Wimbledon and national singles tennis champion, said last week that she did not plan to do any playing next year and "might stay retired," depending upon her work in the movies, singing career and publication of her book.

• • •

BALTIMORE—Colt halfback Lenny Moore left home for the West Coast Tuesday, and there was only one child in his family. By Friday, however, the number jumped to five when Mrs. Moore, a former teacher, took in four tots, ranging in age from less than a year to nine, who had been left unattended in a neighboring house. Things were back to normal, however, by the time that Lenny got back home from Saturday's game.

• • •

WASHINGTON — Mrs. Marva Trotter Spaulding, former wife of Joe Louis, told the United States Tax Court last week that the Government is attempting to make her pay $132,499 of the former ring champion's taxes despite her contention that she is not responsible for his debts to the government, and that they waited too long under the statute of limitations to move against her.

About Politics And Some Politicians

WASHINGTON — The Rev. James O. Duncan, editor of the Capital Baptist, last week proposed Rep. Brooks Hays of Arkansas as Democratic candidate for vice President in 1960 as "a man who knows and loves the South . . . understands the problems that exist there, yet has complete devotion and allegiance to the whole nation."

• • •

NEW YORK — Elijah L. Crump, Tammany leader of Harlem's 12th Aldermanic District, announced last week that he would fight Congressman Adam Powell's attempt to unseat him as district leader in next year's primary. Powell recently announced that he had changed his voting residence from the 13th district to Crump's district as part of his strategy to oust Harlem Tammy leaders.

• • •

WASHINGTON — A House Election Investigating Committee took the first steps toward probing the write-in victory of Dr. Dale Alford, Little Rock segregationist, over Rep. Brooks Hays in the Arkansas Fifth District Congressional race by ordering court clerks in the district to preserve and protect ballots, ballot boxes, signature books and other items used in the election.

• • •

ATLANTA — Sen. Herman Talmadge, former governor of Georgia, said last week that Georgia's private school plan, which calls for individual grants to pupils rather than financial aid to school systems, is sound and "a better solution than integrating our schools."

• • •

WASHINGTON — R e p. Brooks Hays, defeated by a segregationist write-in candidate, Dr. Dale Alford, in his bid for re-election, said last week that the election would be protested by a group of Little Rock citizens who would cite the use of gummed ballot stickers by Alford supporters and the casting of 100 more votes in one precinct than there were voters registered.

• • •

WASHINGTON — A proposal to divide the unwieldy 30-member House Committee on Education and Labor into two committees which had been received enthusiastically earlier in the year by House leaders became less attractive to the legislators when it was noted that Congressman Adam Clayton Powell would be in line to head one of the committees by virtue of his seniority.

• • •

WASHINGTON — Adlai Stevenson declared last week that "I am not and I will not" be a candidate for a third Presidential nomination in 1960 to scotch reports that he might seek to run a third time despite two defeats by President Eisenhower.

• • •

BALTIMORE. — The addition of 218 new registrants since Nov. 20 has raised the total number of colored qualified voters in Baltimore to 100,430, the Supervisor of Elections disclosed. The new voters registered three to one Democratic.

• • •

WINDSOR, Ont. — Michael Patrick was returned to office last week as Mayor of Windsor, polling 20,331 votes as contrasted with 5,311 received by his nearest opponent, Dr. Ray Perry, who was seeking to become the city's first colored mayor. Other candidates, John Reardon and Edgar Charron, received 1,748 and 846 votes respectively.

• • •

WASHINGTON — S e n a. tor Everett Dirksen, (R.-Ill.) who is in line to become the Senate's new Republican leader, said last week that he has changed his mind since he voted in 1957 against a change in Senate rules which prevent the ending of filibusters.

• • •

WASHINGTON — Senator Javits (R.-N.Y.) told newsmen last week that strategists planning the fight to kill the filibuster in this session of Congress feel that they have 51 votes — one more than the necessary number to change Senate Rule 22, which makes prolonged and dilatory debate possible in the Senate.

• • •

ST. LOUIS, Mo. — Former President Harry S. Truman told reporters last week that his role in the next election would simply be to "help elect the man the Democrats nominate."

• • •

ATLANTA — Senator Talmadge (D., Ga.) predicted last week that the 86th Congress would bring about more strife for the South than at any time since the days of Thaddeus Stevens — when his only objective was putting bayonets in the backs of Southerners."

The Sound And Fury Of Racial Madness

RALEIGH, N.C. — Governor Luther Hodges last week made public a report in which Monroe County Juvenile Court Judge J. Hampton Price sought to justify his sentencing of an eight and a nine year old boy involved in the "kissing" of a six - year - old white girl. Parents of both boys had been warned to keep a closer watch on them prior to the "kissing" incident, Judge Price said.

• • •

BIRMINGHAM — Strategy for a continuing battle to preserve racial segregation was discussed at a meeting of Georgia and Alabama leaders Monday. The Alabama delegation was headed by Gov. - elect John Patterson. Gov. - elect Vandiver of Georgia was unable to be present and was represented by a committee of lawyers.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — A City Hall spokesman last week apologized to Mrs. Iris King, mayor of Kingston, Jamaica, who was refused the right to be served a cup of coffee at a Walgreen drug store counter. Lyle H. C. Bing, administrative assistant to vacationing Mayor Hobhitzelle, expressed regrets for the mayor's office after being told of the incident by the Rev. Fred S. Anderson, a state representative.

• • •

COLUMBUS, Ga. — The Presbytery of Southwest Georgia has criticized lay leaders of the First Presbyterian Church of Columbus for attempting to silence its pastor from speaking out on thoughtful racial issues. The Presbytery appointed a judicial commission to investigate the friction between the pastor and congregation, then dissolved the church's governing body, taking over its duties.

• • •

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — Arrangements were made last week for a meeting of the Federal Civil Rights Commission and its staff to be housed at Maxwell Air Force Base while they conduct a hearing on voting rights denials in Alabama. Because of state segregation laws, it would be impossible for J. Ernest Wilkins, Assistant Secretary of Labor and a member of the Commission, to stay at the same hotel with other members.

• • •

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — An attempt of Civil Rights Commission probers to subpoena voting records of Barbour and Bullock Counties was blocked last week by Alabama Circuit Court Judge George Wallace who said they had already been impounded the files "for a more important local investigation."

• • •

WASHINGTON — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said in a recent editorial in the FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin that "hate bombings" by "Criminal bigots" could be fought most effectively by local law enforcement officials, whom he claimed the "first line of defense against criminal acts." He added, however, that the facilities of the FBI are available to aid the local officials.

Newsmakers Of The Week

Things Of Interest You May Like To Know

CHICAGO — No colored children were enrolled at Our Lady of the Angels School where 87 children and 3 nuns died and 90 others were injured when fire swept the building last week. The school, which housed some 1,200 elementary pupils, is located on the Far West Side in a neighborhood where there are virtually no colored families.

• • •

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — None of the "private" schools now attended by pupils from the nine public schools in Virginia which are closed under the state's anti-integration law was accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools in its five-day meeting which ended Friday.

• • •

LOUISVILLE — Kentucky State College, Frankfort, was voted into full accredited membership in the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools as the Association ended its annual meeting last week. The college was one of 14 colored colleges admitted to association membership.

• • •

DOVER, Del. — Nine children and an adult, members of three families, but related, died in a fire which destroyed their 2-story frame house Friday night following the explosion of an oil stove. Six of the dead children, and another who was seriously burned, were those of Mrs. Callie Wilson, who was at work in a restaurant. Fifteen persons lived in the house which had neither electricity nor running water.

• • •

ST. LOUIS, Mo. — Mrs. Thomas Sutton, who relatives said was 104 years old, died Thursday at Homer G. Phillips Hospital. Mrs. Sutton was born on a Mississippi plantation and came to St. Louis in 1939 to live with a daughter, Mrs. Willie Mae Robinson of 1528 Lovejoy Lane.

• • •

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Kentucky State, Morris Brown and Spelman Colleges were accepted for full membership by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools during its annual meeting here last week. All three schools are now fully accredited.

Covering The International Scene

KINGSTON, Jamaica —Travel agencies reported that the migration of Jamaicans to Britain is tapering off and passenger bookings for England are at their lowest ebb since the exodus began six years ago.

• • •

MOSCOW — The Russian press last week urged Africans to "throw out the imperialists." Proclaiming Dec. 1 as "the day for struggle for liberation of Africa from imperialism," the Russian newspapers denounced Britain, France, Belgium, Portugal and the United States as imperialists.

• • •

JOHANNESBURG, S. Africa —Two white men, Hundrek Classens and Willem de Bruyn, were fined $300 each and Classens was sentenced to three months in jail for an attack on a multi-racial meeting in Pretoria last August. "You men went to the meeting specially to break it up," the presiding magistrate declared.

• • •

KHARTOUM — Sudanese police have detained five leaders of organizations considered Communist dominated and questioned several others. Those arrested were leaders in the former Anti-Imperialist Front and the Sudan Workers Trade Union Federation. Under emergency orders of the new regime, the Army and police have powers of search and detention on suspicion of activities detrimental to the security of the state.

• • •

ACCRA, Ghana — The Henry J. Kaiser Company is expected to submit a report on the $644 million Volta River dam project by February, following which — if the report is found technically and economically feasible — negotiations will start for aid from interested governments and work on the project will be begun immediately.

• • •

WUERZBURG, Germany — A native African Zulu bishop officiated here at the ordination of 10 Roman Catholic priests from Germany, Austria and Switzerland last week. He was Bishop P. . . Benyehora Diamini of Umzimkulu in the Union of South Africa, who is on a tour of Germany. He was ordained in 1937 and consecrated bishop in 1954.

• • •

LONDON — A 21-year-old Sikh whose desire to join Britain's crack cavalry Royal Hussars led him to travel 10,000 miles in 322 days of walking, cycling and hitchhiking, shaved off his beard (one of the marks of adherence to the Sikh religion) in order to qualify for joining the regiment. Last week he was notified by the Duke of Gloucester, commander - in - chief of the 10th Royal Hussars that he could grow it again and wear his turban at all times.

ATLANTIC CITY — Seymour Harris, chairman of the economics department of Harvard University, told the 39th annual meeting of the Eastern Association of College and University Officers that college tuition fees should be raised between 84 and 116 percent in the next 10 years to meet the greatly increasing costs of higher education.

• • •

SOUTH BOSTON, Va. — Four hunters, William R. Barksdale, 70, Germantown, Pa., Albert Logan, Jamaica, of L.I., Edward Hawkins, NYC, and Alvin Garvin, Mt. Vernon, N.Y., were instantly killed when their car collided with a tractor-trailer near here. The four were returning to Halifax, Va., from a hunting trip in West Virginia.

• • •

NEW YORK — $25 million worth of external loan bonds of the Union of South Africa were placed on sale last week in the United States while at the same time the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development announced a loan of a similar amount to that country.

• • •

WASHINGTON — John L. Lewis won a $2-a-day wage increase and other concessions for his soft coal miners in northern mines, last week. Southern operators are expected to go along with the agreement.

• • •

NEW YORK — A group of Texas scientists reported last week that the increasing amounts of arsenic found in cigarettes over the past 25 years might be a factor in the rising incidence of lung cancer. Most of the arsenic, they said, comes from insecticides used to spray tobacco plants. The arsenic, attached to small irritating particles of tar and inhaled habitually may lead ultimately to lung cancer, the report indicated.

• • •

HANCOCK, Mass. — Ricardo Belden, the last male member of the United Society of Believers, also known as "Shakers" because of a dance ritual which was once part of its form of worship, died last week at the age of 89. The sect, once numerous in many of the New England states, held to celibacy as one of the tenets of its faith. Only a few aged members remain.

On The Desegregation Battlefront

NEW YORK—Four mothers were convicted of violation of New York's compulsory education laws last week as a result of their refusal to send their children to predominately colored schools to which they were assigned. The mothers had contended that the schools were inferior and could not provide their children with a proper education.

• • •

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — The Rev. M. L. King and his Montgomery Improvement Association, are turning their attention toward school integration after Jan. 1, it was announced here Thursday. A plan has been drawn up for submission to the school board. If it is rejected, "we will go to the courts," Dr. King said.

• • •

LITTLE ROCK — Officials of Little Rock's two largest private high schools said last week that the statement that no Federal funds would be allocated to private segregated schools came as no surprise or disappointment to them. "When we set this thing up," said W. J. Brasheare, superintendent of the Little Rock Private Boys' School Corporation, "we did so with no expectations of any handouts from Washington."

• • •

ALEXANDRIA, Va. — The Alexandria School Board, defendant in a school desegregation suit filed by the parents of 14 pupils, disclosed last week that it has adopted a seven-point pupil placement program similar to those adopted by Norfolk and Charlottesville which make no reference to race as a criteria for assignment.

• • •

LITTLE ROCK—The Arkansas Education Department said last week that 123 school districts had applied for transfer and payments for 1,275 displaced Little Rock high school pupils. State law authorizes payment of $127 per year tuition for transfer pupils.

• • •

LITTLE ROCK—W. H. Goodman, an official of the board of the Little Rock Private School Corporation, predicted last week that private schools are "here to stay" because of the integration crisis. Declaring that colored people should "be left as they are," he added: "They are willing to accept the simple life as it has been handed down to them."

The Continuing Struggle For Equality

ATLANTA—A Federal grand jury last week indicted Carl Braden for contempt of Congress as a result of his refusal to answer questions of a House subcommittee on Un-American activities at Atlanta on July 30. He has been allowed 10 days in which to come to Atlanta and post $1,000 bond. Braden, identified with the integration movement, is a former employee of the Southern Conference Educational Fund.

• • •

BURLINGTON, Vt.—A Committee on Burlington community relations recently reported that there is discrimination against colored persons in housing and employment in the city. The discrimination is disturbing, Committee Chairman Phillip H. Hoff said, because "many people sincerely believe that there is no discrimination."

• • •

NEW YORK — The New York State Advisory Committee of the Federal Civil Rights Commission named City College President Buell G. Gallagher as temporary chairman at its organizational meeting held last week. Among subcommittee chairmen named were Hubert T. Delaney, education, and Elmer A. Carter, housing.

• • •

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — The Civil Rights Commission last week subpoenaed Macon County Probate Judge William Varner and his voting records for this week's hearing on Macon vote rights denials in Macon County.

• • •

CHICAGO — Ted Jones, president of the Chicago branch of the NAACP, has enlisted the agents of 10 insurance companies in a drive to increase NAACP membership in Chicago. Mr. Jones pointed out that NAACP membership in the South wide is now "in comfortable situations," frequently means job loss, and that it is the duty of colored residents of Northern cities to increase their memberships to balance Southern losses.

• • •

LITTLE ROCK — Attorney General Bruce Bennett last week submitted approximately two dozen statements for the NAACP to agree to or deny in connection with his suit for a $5,000 penalty for the organization's failure to register in Arkansas.

• • •

WASHINGTON — School authorities here are denying that the fact his wife was white had anything to do with the discharge of John E. Rudder, 33 year old math teacher. They say it was for incompetence. Rudder graduated from Purdue University and has studied law at George Washington University. Rudder's troubles began when his blonde wife, Doris, accompanied him to a football game.

They Said It: "Quote And Unquote"

NEW YORK — "The chill of death is on the South. We must not consent to her self-destruction in a segregated gas chamber. Hatred, if we will, can crush this massive ice pack of prejudice; if we are to dispel the soft coal miners in northern mines, last week. Southern operators are expected to go along with the agreement.

• • •

NEW YORK — A group of Texas scientists reported last week that the increasing amounts of arsenic found in cigarettes over the past 25 years might be a factor in the rising incidence of lung cancer. Most of the arsenic, they said, comes from insecticides used to spray tobacco plants. The arsenic, attached to small irritating particles of tar and inhaled habitually may lead ultimately to lung cancer, the report indicated.

• • •

ST. LOUIS — "Crowded cities and the modern type of industrial civilization tend to break down barriers between races more rapidly than is the case in more primitive societies. . . The same modern conditions, however, tend to increase stress, particularly when people accustomed to farm life are trying to get used to city life." — DR. CARLETON S. COON, professor of anthropology, University of Pennsylvania.

• • •

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. — "The communities must realize that closing the schools is not right. If we try to force from Washington what should seem obvious to them, we may get further retrogression and an unwillingness to accept a solution. For that reason I feel that the Federal Government should proceed cautiously." — REP. P. FRELINGHUYSEN JR. (R. N.J.).

• • •

LITTLE ROCK — "We must all realize this. There needs to be some kind of a plan. Discrimination as an end in itself cannot be maintained. . . If I had lived in America, I probably would not have been a segregationist. — JACOB BASSIAN, member of the House of the South African Parliament, and member of a delegation studying the Little Rock situation.

• • •

ATLANTA — "I for one am unwilling to capitulate and hand our children over to the Supreme Court for social experimentation." — SEN. HERMAN TALMADGE, Dixiecrat, Georgia.

• • •

WASHINGTON — "Indefensible. . .but no one can foresee all the significant social, economic, and psychological effects on the children, on teachers, on the community—of closing the door of public schools to our young people. . .Failure of the schools to open when everything was in readiness for the school year was a tragic new circumstance in a nation which has proudly pioneered in providing free public education for all." — ARTHUR S. FLEMMING, U.S. Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

• • •

BATON ROUGE, La. — "Although Alabama's law does not mention race, it was deliberately drawn so the local school authorities can throw thousands of hurdles in the path of the NAACP while the South gathers its strength. We adopted it here in Louisiana a few months ago for the same purpose." — STATE SEN. W. M. RAINACH, Southwide Wiise-Citizens Council leader and chairman of the Louisiana Legislature's "Watchdog Committee on Segregation."

• • •

UNITED NATIONS — "In nine cases out of ten, when I see a foreign film on Africa, there are wildly costumed Africans dancing around a pot where an amiable fat white man is cooking. This sort of thing does not do much to help peaceful international relations. — J. E. JANTUAH, Ghana delegate, speaking before the UN General Assembly's special Political Committee.

The Fight For Justice Through The Courts

LITTLE ROCK — Federal Judge John E. Miller said last week that he would set a hearing date in the Little Rock school integration case shortly after he receives the mandate from the Eighth United States Circuit Court of Appeals which was mailed to the clerk of his court last week.

• • •

NASHVILLE, Tenn.—Criminal Court Judge Homer Weimar last week postponed until Dec. 15 the hearing of a motion for a new trial by John Kasper, segregationist agitator, on a conviction of inciting to riot. Theodore Bassett had originally been for Dec. 4. Sentenced to 6 months and a $50; fine, Kasper is free on $2,500 bond pending the appeal.

• • •

RICHMOND—The United States 4th Circuit Court of Appeals last week upheld a trial court's dismissal of a suit brought by Drs. Hubert A. Eaton, Daniel C. Roane and Samuel James Gray who had challenged the right of the James Walker Memorial Hospital to bar them from practice there on the basis of race. The court ruled that there was no "state action which offends the Federal Constitution" involved.

• • •

BIRMINGHAM — Circuit Judge George L. Bailes last week upheld the conviction of 13 Birmingham residents including the Rev. F. L. Shuttlesworth, who are accused of violation of Birmingham's new housing law. Rev. Mr. Shuttlesworth and another minister, the Rev. J. S. Phifer, were sentenced to $100 fines and 90 days in jail for the Rev. Mr. Shuttlesworth and 30 days for the Rev. Mr. Phifer. Sentences were suspended for the other defendants.

• • •

MACON, Ga. — Lawyers for the Terrell County Board of Registrars said last week that they would fight a government move to get an early ruling on their motion to dismiss a civil rights suit pending against the registrars. The suit alleges that the registrars refused "arbitrarily" to register colored persons qualified to vote in the Terrell County primary.

"MY BACK IS KILLING ME"
—why put up with sluggish kidneys...when relief is often so swift and easy to obtain?

Backache, dizziness, lack of energy, nervousness, getting up nights, may be caused by functionally sluggish kidneys, mild bladder irritation.

* For 50 years people have found swift, effective relief with DeWITT'S PILLS. This famous diuretic stimulant 1) flushes congestion-made material out of kidneys, 2) increases circulation of blood through the area, 3) reduces irritation of kidneys and bladder; 4) fights infection and treats irritation.

You can be sure that DeWITT'S PILLS are at work when "the blue comes through." Get DeWITT'S PILLS today without prescription.

De WITT'S PILLS..."the blue comes through"

The Man Who Thinks For Himself Knows...

DESIGN ENGINEER LEROY F. FLORANT,
B. M. E., Howard University, shown here with his Micro-Manipulator—one of many delicate instruments he has designed for medical and industrial use. Mr. Florant is Chief Design Engineer of the Process & Instruments company. His cigarette . . . VICEROY.

ONLY VICEROY HAS A THINKING MAN'S FILTER... A SMOKING MAN'S TASTE!

Design Engineer Leroy F. Florant is a man who thinks for himself. He knows the difference between fact and fancy. He trusts his own judgment.

Men like Mr. Florant usually smoke VICEROY. They know for a fact that only VICEROY has a thinking man's filter . . . a smoking man's taste.

Familiar pack or crush-proof box.
© 1958, Brown & Williamson Tobacco Corp.

The Crime Element: Man Against Man

BONIFAY, Fla. — Two Florida sheriffs said last week that Frank Peterson, 27, has signed a statement confessing to the axe slaying of a white Florida tenant farmer and his two-year-old daughter and to a criminal assault upon the farmer's wife. Arraignment of Peterson, who had been released from a hearing by prison farm only a few hours before the crime, was set for Dec. 16, following a preliminary hearing Wednesday.

• • •

PHILADELPHIA — Fire and police officials last week conducted an investigation of a 7-alarm fire which destroyed the Apostolic Church of the Lord Jesus Christ and cost the life of a ten-year-old girl who died of asphyxiation when trapped in a fire - proof rest room.

• • •

PROVIDENCE, R. I. — Mrs. Rita M. Furtado, 34, was held in $2,500 bail after appearing before a U.S. Commissioner on a charge of embezzlement based upon her allegedly having spent her own use $650 paid her by the Veterans Administration for the support of her three minor children whose father is a deposed veteran. The children are alleged to have been left with relatives who received none of the money.

• • •

AUSTIN, Tex. — W r i g h t Stubbs, an Austin lawyer, went on trial last week accused of misappropriating more than $12,000 entrusted to him as chief administrator of the estate of Mrs. Irene Meeks, who died Nov. 12, 1956. Lawyers for Stubbs admitted their client's guilt, but are basing their defense on a claim of insanity.

• • •

SELMA, Ala. — Columbus Boggs, 32, was sentenced to death Tuesday for the second time in two years for the slaying of Dallas County storekeeper M. Lee Chance, in September, 1957. The Alabama Supreme Court ruled that his first trial, in December, 1957, was prejudicial to him.'

• • •

SELMA, Ala. — A 21-hour manhunt for a suspected moonshine still operator who disarmed and threatened the life of a Lowndes County ABC agent ended early last Tuesday when Lloyd Brown, 39, was shot to death by two deputies who claimed that he had "lunged" at one of them after they halted a car in which he was riding. Each of the deputies fired four shots at Brown. He was hit by six bullets.

WHAT'S YOUR SKIN MISERY?

Genuine BLACK AND WHITE OINTMENT
SOLD ALL OVER THE WORLD

Famous Skin Ointment Has Brought Help To Thousands!

Follow the example of thousands of grateful users: Get Black and White Ointment. So good, over 51 million packages sold. Be sure to buy Black and White Ointment today! Cleanse skin with Black and White Skin Soap.

Quickly Relieves Itching, Stinging Of:
- UGLY BUMPS (Blackheads)
- ACNE PIMPLES
- Simple RINGWORM
- TETTER • ECZEMA
- Burning, IRRITATED FEET
- Red, IRRITATED HANDS

Large 75c size contains 4½ times as much as the regular 35c size
(TRIAL SIZE 20c)

BLACK AND WHITE OINTMENT

SLAIN TEACHER LIVED IN FEAR FOR HER LIFE

12 YEARS TO PULL—Joseph Lee (Little Joe) Fowler Jr., 28-year-old paraplegic, who was convicted of hiring another man to kill his father, Joseph Sr., has started a 12-year penitentiary sentence. The Army veteran will be assigned an attendant and confined to the prison hospital, prison officials decided. Ernest H. Tankard, 20, 1800 block N. Payson St., convicted as the trigger man in the gun-for-hire slaying was sentenced to 15 years.

High bail set in 45G gem theft

NEWARK

Chief Magistrate Nicholas Castellano on Monday fixed bail at $54,000 for six persons, including a Central Ward political figure, charged in the theft of $45,000 worth of jewelry from a parked car last week.

At the request of Detectives James Caffrey and William J. Hamilton the magistrate postponed the hearing until Dec. 15.

"You know I'm a sitting duck here," said John J. Salvato, 54, of Golden St., an unsuccessful contender for the job at date this year, charged with receiving part of the stolen property.

• • •

MR. SALVATO voiced protest to the postponement, contending his "prestige and reputation" had been damaged by the published reports of his arrest.

At this point William Farlanto, assistant prosecutor, noted that Mr. Salvato has a prior police record.

Magistrate Castellano fixed bail for Mr. Salvato at $1,000.

• • •

THE MAGISTRATE set bail for the others as follows:

Edward Castellano, 24, of unit block Springfield Ave., $25,000 on charges of breaking and entry, theft and narcotics.

His cousin, Frank Jackson, 28, 200 block Hunterdon St., $25,000 on charges of breaking and entry, theft and narcotics.

Mrs. Kathy Adams, 26, of 98 Orange St., $1,000 on a charge of receiving stolen property.

Mrs. Ruby Fairley, 40, of New York City, operator of a restaurant at 100 block Springfield Ave., $1,000 on a charge of receiving stolen property.

Ernest Fairley, 34, of 100 block Court St., $1,000, accused of possession of stolen property.

• • •

POLICE SAID THE gems and some clothing were stolen owned by Mrs. Sol Kassin of 80 Roosevelt Ave. The victim she was in a beauty salon at 805 High St.

Arrest of Mrs. Taylor null, void

BALTIMORE

The arrest of a businessman's wife on a numbers charge was declared illegal and a lottery charge against her thrown out in Criminal Court on Monday.

Freed was Mrs. Stella Taylor, 36, 2800 block Auchentoshy Terrace. Her husband and father-in-law, Philip and Bernard Taylor, operate a Lafayette Market stall.

Judge Anselm Sodaro ruled that members of the Racket Squad who arrested Mrs. Taylor in Lafayette Market last April 9, had no search warrant and did not actually see a violation of the law.

• • •

JUDGE SODARO added: "I find that the officer did not testify that he observed numbers written on the slips and that he could not see because of a basket of spinach.

"It was only when he extended himself some 43 inches over the counter that he saw money and slips in a bag.

"Only after the bag was actually opened did he finally see that there were lottery slips."

The arrest was by Sgt. Joseph Judd and Officer Raymond Smith. They claimed they found lottery paraphernalia and some $1,083 worth of play. Mrs. Taylor pleaded innocent.

• • •

MONDAY'S dismissal marked the second time the courts declared illegal arrest on numbers charges placed against a member of the Taylor family.

In November, 1957, Philip Taylor, her husband, was freed at the request of States Attorney J. Harold Grady who stated that he had been conclusively established that there was no evidence legally sufficient to sustain a conviction.

At the Monday hearing Mrs. Taylor did not testify. Per her courtroom appearance she wore a beige coat, black hat and carried a black leather purse.

Mr. Taylor sat among the more than 50 spectators in the courtroom. He wore a blue sport jacket set off by an orange open-neck sport shirt.

Also in the courtroom throughout the trial was bondman William B. Dixon who placed $2,500 bail for Mrs. Taylor at the time of her arrest.

Maurice Siegal represented Mrs. Taylor.

• • •

At the conclusion of the case Mr. Siegal stated: "The law is not made to protect only the innocent but all citizens in their private rights given them by the Constitution.

"Before a person can be arrested the police officer must have more than mere suspicion.

"The verdict in this case shows that the courts protect all people under the rights of the law."

SUB-FREEZING WEATHER came to Baltimore this past weekend and with it came the annual run on service stations for automobile anti-freeze. Here, Holley Richardson, 821 Brice St., attendant at a service station at Carey and Mosher Sts., takes care of one of the late comers. Mr. Richardson is dressed for the type of weather in which he is working.

Suicide victim threatened her

WASHINGTON

"When she came to see me, she was very upset. She had tried to break off with him before, and he had beaten and threatened to kill her."

"This time, she was apprehensive about what would happen to her and the children."

Mrs. Juanita Mackey's fear for her life and the safety of her family was recalled in this manner by her attorney, Perry W. Howard, who represented the music teacher in a suit for separate maintenance filed two weeks ago in the Domestic Relations branch of the Municipal Court.

It has been speculated that it was this latest court action which led to the fatal quarrel in which Francis Mackey, 36, 1900 block Trenton St., S.E. made good his threats.

The Welfare Department employee and part-time cab driver fatally shot Mrs. Mackey Thursday (Thanksgiving Day) and critically w o u n d e d her mother before ending his own life with a .38-caliber revolver.

The wife, 35, was struck in the head by a bullet in a liquor store across the street from the home of Mrs. Tina B. Fulton, 50, her mother, until block R St., NW, as she made a futile attempt to escape from her pursuing husband.

MR. MACKEY, in full view of the surprised and horrified storekeeper, then turned the gun on himself, firing one bullet to the head.

Mrs. Fulton, with whom Mrs. Mackey and her two children, Francis Jr., 8, and Deborah, 6, were residing, was shot in the head and hand earlier at her home where the shooting erupted. The wounded woman remained in critical condition at Washington Hospital Center on Monday.

(Mrs. Fulton later died on Tuesday following the shooting.)

According to a relative, the suddenly orphaned children are being cared for by Mrs. John Price, aunt of the dead woman.

• • •

IN HER suit for maintenance, Mrs. Mackey who was married to Mr. Mackey on Dec. 28, 1948, alleged that he was "cruel" in his treatment of her and abusive.

She charged he struck her "whenever in a rage, which is often and destroys furniture and furnishings of the home during these rages!"

He had threatened on numerous occasions to kill her and the children, she alleged, adding that she was in fear of her life. Mrs. Mackey was married to Mr. Mackey on Dec. 28, 1948.

Mrs. Mackey also asked the court to restrain her husband from molesting her. Court records show that the teacher filed a maintenance suit in June, 1957, making similar accusations. It was dismissed after their reconciliation.

Officers reported the original purpose of Mackey's visit to the mother-in-law's residence Thursday was not known.

• • •

POLICE SAID no one in the home heard the conversation between Mr. Mackey and his wife which triggered the shootings.

"She had had him locked up several times for assault and threats," Sgt. Emmett Waters of the homicide squad reported.

"The cases were either dismissed or nolle prossed. Once he went to trial for assaulting her but was found not guilty in Municipal Court."

Officers also reported that the couple's nine - year marriage had been marred by quarrels and fights.

• • •

WHEN Mr. Mackey, 1900 block Trenton St., SE., came to see his wife, Thursday, she had been living with her mother, Mrs. Fulton, approximately two weeks, police said.

"He said something to her, but no one knows what he said. When she wouldn't talk to him, he pulled out the gun and started shooting," officers reported.

Present at the time in addition to Mrs. Mackey were Mrs. Fulton, the two children, and Mr. and Mrs. Price, 600 block C St., SE, who were visiting at the time.

Mackey fired 14 shots, striking Mrs. Fulton in the hand and head. Another shot knocked off Mrs. Price's glasses as she ran out she was not hurt. Police said Mackey stopped twice to reload his gun.

Mrs. Mackey, who had run into the kitchen, was followed there by her husband, officers reported, where he struck her in the head with the gun.

The wife ran out of the back door, Mr. Mackey rushed out of the front door and gave chase to his wife as she fled into the Quality Liquor Store around the corner.

Richmond man held

SALUDA, Va. — A two-month investigation of the death of a 36-year-old man has resulted in a manslaughter charge against a blond Richmonder.

Hugh C. Hicks, 42, of the 3400 block Rosewood Ave., has been charged in connection with the death of Benjamin Johnson. Johnson was drowned Sept. 14 when he fell or was pushed from a pier into Urbanna Creek.

Hicks was indicted by a grand jury here. Court records show that the teacher filed indictment followed an investigation by state and county police on reports that Johnson had been shoved or thrown from the pier.

Arrested in Richmond by State Police Investigator J. M. Lloyd, Hicks was released on $1,500 bond. He is slated to stand trial Jan. 28 in Middlesex Circuit Court on the manslaughter charge.

Johnson, a laborer, worked as handyman at the Inn from which he was drowned. His body was recovered in 21 feet of water.

Mother of 4 tots sought by police

BALTIMORE

"We can't tell what has happened to the mother.

"We find no trace of her."

The above statements represent the latest word concerning the mother of four small children found alone in what has been described as an untidy Gay St. house on Thanksgiving Day.

On Saturday, Policewoman Eleanor Truman of the Northeastern District told the AFRO that investigation so far had given no clues as to the whereabouts of the mother.

She said: "We have not been able to locate her. We have no idea how old she may be, what she looks like nor why the children were left alone.

"We can only make a guess.

"We feel that no mother would just go off and leave her children by themselves, but we really know nothing."

One source reported that the missing mother is a teenager and appears to be emotionally disturbed.

• • •

DISCOVERY OF the abandoned children was made by Northwestern District policemen who went to the home after they saw a five-year-old boy wandering in the street Thanksgiving Day.

He was armed with an empty soda bottle and said he was on the way to buy crackers for his younger sisters and brothers, police said.

After a half hour ride in a police cruiser, the youngster was able to point out the house in the 1200 block North Gay St., where he lived.

There police found three small children on a girl about six months old who appeared to be crippled in the right leg; the other a boy about ..l months old who seemed to be very ill, and another child about three years old.

They were alone in a second floor room which had only a bed and a stove.

There was no heat. A blanket partially covered the room's only window.

Both infants were in diapers and in need of a change.

THE TWO children under two years of age were immediately taken to City Hospitals while the two children over two years of age were lodged in Pine Street Police Station.

On Friday police report that a relative of the children's mother arrived at Pine Street stationhouse and the children were placed in her care.

On this point Mrs. Truman stated that the police department at first concerned itself with placement of the children in competent hands.

She said, "Until there is time to get the attention of the Welfare Department or Juvenile Court action, we are primarily interested in getting the children in a home where they may be adequately cared for, then that leaves us free to go on and see what this is all about."

Shortly after the children were discovered police summoned next door neighbors to help locate the missing mother.

One of the first persons on the scene was an East Baltimorean who told the AFRO: "I've read about such things, but I never believed I'd ever see it. It was a shame and so very pathetic."

The matron said that she went into the home and changed the