OBSERVATIONS

A Real World Series.

It opened in bleeding Belgium with
the Kaiser at the bat;
He won the game at Leige and
thought he had the series pat.
Then Johnny Bull went in to pitch,
and stop the foe's advance,
While a feature of the game was the fielding work of France.
Russia went in to pinch hit along the Eastern front,
While Italy and Roumania each laid
down a perfect bunt;
They trimmed old Bill at Vimy Ridge,
with woe they filled his cup.
While out along the foul line Uncle
Sam is warming up.

Your Uncle Sam is warming up to mount the pitching hill,
And show some speed and curves that sure will strike out Kaiser Bill.
That war machine to conquer worlds
will know the very worst
When we hit one down to Hindenburg and beat his throw to first
When Sims goes up to bat and sweeps
the subs from off the sea,
And Pershing, sliding into third, spikes
the Crown Prince on the knee Yes, Uncle Sam is warming up, and after he goes in,
We'll be building base ball diamonds
in the city of Berlin

Uncle Sam isn't asking you to give him anything. That's not his way. He'll pay you good interest for a loan. What better do you want. And the greatest part of it is, its to your own interest and your country's interest that you make this loan.

Generous Response Third Liberty Loan

Counties Subscribing Quotas and Are Working Hard For Honor Flag

"Over There" Proves Big Help

Reports coming from all parts of the country to the National Liberty Loan Committee indicate that the country districts with the towns and smaller communities are going to exceed all former efforts in their contributions to the Liberty Loan of the present issue.

That the counties of Maryland are not to fall behind those of other commonwealths is likewise indicated by the enthusiastic zeal with which their people have gone to work for the loan. They have an excellent example in the pledge of old Frederick that "we are going to send our dollars to back up our boys at the front." This message was conveyed to the Maryland Publicity Committee in Baltimore in a telegram a week ago, and since then Frederick has been diligently at work to fulfill its pledge.

It is not yet known how many Maryland communities have completed their entire quota of the loan and earned the Honor Flag, but it is known that the best licks are being hit by all of them in efforts to achieve this distinction. Montgomery, first county to report, has already subscribed its quota of $329,800.

On Saturday the reports to the National Committee showed that 700 communities throughout the country had won this honor, and the list was growing rapidly. Another feature in this connection is that almost invariably when a community reports it says:

"We have filled our quota, but have not relaxed our efforts. We will try to double the quota."

Thus is evidenced the spirit of the American people which has been whetted to the point of enthusiasm by the larger part that our people are now playing in the theatre of war.

There is another big outstanding feature of the present drive in the smaller as well as the larger communities, and that is the more determined and successful part being played by women in raising the loan that Uncle Sam has called for.

The Maryland Section of the Maryland League for National Defense on last Thursday subscribed $26,000. The various women's organizations of Baltimore are daily reporting large lists of subscriptions.

Mary Pickford, the movie actress, was at the "Over There" Cantonment at Baltimore last Monday, and when she had finished her little speech and made an appeal for funds the audience responded with subscriptions for $410,000 worth of bonds. And the best part of it was that these subscriptions were principally in small amounts, so that the number of subscribers was very large.

Down in Richmond on the opening day of the loan the women's committee sold $201,000 worth of bonds.

In the first two days of the loan the women of Delaware sold $90,000 worth of bonds.

In the town of Virden, Ill., on the first day of the loan the women went to work and carried the town over its quota entirely through their own efforts. That shows just what a live organization in a small community can do.

On April 6th the women of Hoquiam, Washington, sold $55,410 worth of bonds.

In New Braunfels, Texas, the women's committee reports that the full quota of $124,150 has been subscribed and they are still pushing on. This town subscribed only $7,150 to the first loan and $29,000 to the second loan. There is no question that the country is awake.

And there is no question in the minds of the Maryland Committee that the communities of this state will measure up to the records of sister states.

The quotas apportioned to Baltimore City and the counties of Liberty Loan were officially announced yesterday afternoon by the Reserve Bank of the Fifth Regional District. Of the total of $38,482,200 apportioned to the State of Maryland, Baltimore City is called upon to subscribe to $28,453,900 or approximately three-fourths of the total amount leaving $10,028,300 for the counties. The following are the amounts each county is required to subscribe:

Allegheny County	$1,478,300
Anne Arundel County	244,000
Baltimore County	650,000
Calvert County	65,200
Carroll County	971,800
Caroline County	305,200
Cecil County	330,400
Charles County	101,500
Dorchester County	356,000
Frederick County	1,577,300
Garrett County	168,900
Harford County	330,100
Howard County	161,500
Kent County	254,400
Montgomery County	329,800
Prince George County	200,000
Queen Anne County	218,300
St. Mary's County	98,200
Somerset County	218,000
Talbot County	321,000
Washington County	1,185,500
Wicomico County	258,900
Worcester County	356,900
