Rev. Dr. & Mrs. Kelly Jackson observe 25th anniversary

With Lula Jones Garrett

The Rev. Dr. Kelly Jackson and Mrs. Jackson celebrated the silver anniversary of their wedding with a reception at their home in Washington, Friday afternoon.

With him having formerly served at Sharp Street and Metropolitan churches, here, and with her now being principal of the William Alexander School No. 112, here, the event was of natural importance to Baltimoreans.

Dr. Jackson is now district superintendent of the Washington District of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

In receiving line with them were members of the original wedding party, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Monroe and Mrs. George Fields of this city and Mrs. Chester Gates of Easton, Md., sister of Mrs. Jackson.

Bishop Edgar Love read the renewal of vows ceremony.

And assisting hostesses included Mesdames Sallie Fletcher, Addie Butler, Emma Bright, Anita Johnson, and Anne Payne of this city, and Mrs. William T. Bridell of Berlin, Md., Mrs. J. D. Foy and Mrs. Edward McGowan of Washington.

The hosts used a white and silver theme in decorating, and Mrs. Jackson wore a lovely sheath of imported blue lace with matching headpiece, doe skin gloves, silver slippers, and a corsage of white orchids.

Mrs. Monroe wore champagne lace with white accessories; Mrs. Gates, pale pink organza with the same color shoes, gloves and head piece and Mrs. Fields, rose satin with matching accessories.

All wore wrist corsages of pink carnations.

Actually, the party on Friday spilled over into Saturday and Sunday as the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Jackson kept open house for late callers.

ST. EDWARD'S Catholic Church, beautiful unadorned, was even lovelier in its dress of poinsettias and holiday fir and an especially appealing setting for the wedding, on Saturday, of Anne Sherrington and L. Gerald Davis.

Father Edwin DeLawder officiated, and the music was by Miss Jane Parker, organist, who had rushed back from Savannah, Ga., where she went for the holiday; and Daniel Comegys, soloist.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, Dr. Walter Sherrington, was picture pretty in her gown of white poiret de soie, the skirt front in wide shallow scallops and slightly dipped at the back; the fitted bodice having its upper section of French lace.

She wore a formal veil, brief at the front, carried a bridal bouquet of orchids and, white bridal roses, and wore white satin slippers, pearls in her ears and a single strand about her throat.

Her gown was designed and executed by her aunt, Mrs. Elmer Patterson.

Her sister, Carole, was junior bridesmaid, and other attendants were Miriam Hughes and Lola Matthews.

Bob Barksdale, scheduled best man, was delayed by auto trouble. So, Donald Dyson moved up to serve as best man, and Donald Matthews came in as a usher, while the bride's brother, Walter, held down his post as chief usher.

The bridemaids wore green, their frocks being sleeveless, with fitted torso bodices and full circular skirts attached in impressed pleats.

They wore gold accessories, (slippers and half-hats) and carried nosegays of gold pens, daisies, sweetheart rose tinted with red ribbons. Miss Hughes, and Mrs. Matthews' nosegays were centered with orchids.

At the reception at the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Sherrington were assisted by a group of hostesses who included:

Mesdames Bernard Harris, Myles Harrison, Jesse Clarke, James Mebane, and Herbert Rice.

Misses Freddie Hill, Marcia Chatman, Barbara Rice, Joan Turner, Elaine Ellis and Shirley Richardson, Anita Harris, Frances Davis, Deatrina Duganey.

For the wedding and reception, Mrs. Sherrington chose Dior blue taffeta sheath made with a tiered skirt and enhanced with a flat bow at the back waist. Her accessories were in pink, and her corsage of pink camelias.

The wedding and reception were attended by a large number of out-of-town guests, including 15 members of the bridegroom's family among them were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Franklen Davis of Jersey City, N.J.

Also Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. M. Clark of Bayonne, N.J., and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Blake and Miss Frances Davis of Jersey City.

Other out-of-town guests included Eldridge Ralston, William Womack, Merrial Fitzgerald and Humphrey Bruce of Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. George Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. William Patterson, Miss Lee Etta Powell of Washington, Lee Bostic of Brooklyn, N.Y.

Also Mrs. Helen Moseley and Dr. and Mrs. Alexander Bell of Washington; Dr. and Mrs. Marshall Tyree and daughter, Kitty, and son, Chuck, of Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Nowell, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Sherrington of New York City; Miss Delores Morris of Brooklyn, N.Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Patterson entertained forty-odd out-town guests and members of the bridal party, at breakfast, Saturday morning.

Mrs. Davis had been honored at a lingerie shower the previous Saturday when Mrs. Matthews and Miss Hughes were hostesses.

And members of the wedding party had been her guests at supper following rehearsal on Thursday evening.

THE ENGAGEMENT of Gayle Sandra Spaulding to Lt. Jre Harold Bostic, U.S.A., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bostic of Brooklyn, N.Y., is announced, this week, by her parents, Dr. and Mrs. George Spaulding of Morgan Park.

A June wedding is planned.

Miss Spaulding, a senior at Morgan State College, and a Delta Sigma Theta soror, made her debut at the Me-De-So Cotillion, in 1955.

Lt. Bostic, a Morgan State graduate, was president of the Student Council. He is an Omega, and is stationed at Fort Carson, Colo.

And, incidentally, this marriage will really triple Morgan ties in these families.

Parents, on both sides, had campus romances: Dr. and Mrs. Spaulding (the former Gaynell Jones of Lynchburg) and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bostic (the former Dottie Mitchell of this town) having been classmates.

THE ENGAGEMENT of Barbara Rice to William Lambert, son of Mrs. Edith Lambert, is announced at a buffet dinner party given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Rice of Roxton Ave., Friday evening.

A June wedding is also being planned.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Howard University, having won her degree last year. She is a Delta.

Mr. Lambert is a senior at Morgan State College.

THE FIRESIDERS held their Round-Robin holiday party, last Thursday.

The group started at Evelyn West's with "Christmas punch" then with a verse giving their guests the clue to the next house. They had hors d'oeves and salad at Francis Ashby's. Then they were joined by guests for the main meal at Bea Nixon's. Finally they went to Ada Webver's for sippables and cards.

Hostesses were Evelyn West, Francis Ashby, Ada Weaver, Bea Nixon, Ida Smith, Eula Watkins and Inez Reed.

Club guests were Chita Shipley, Esther Johnson, Ivy Grinage, Jewell Rawlings. Club members about were Madeline Harding, Helen Osborne, Irene Mapp, Milburn Brown and Irma Dancey.

The Wanah's Auxiliary to the Monumental City Medical Society entertained their husbands at a Christmas party at the Chesapeake Club.

A relaxing evening was spent by the doctors and their wives.

Bridge W. Benjamin won first prize in the quiz game which highlighted the evening. Motion pictures of the evening's activities were taken by Dr. and Mrs. N. Alan Harris and Dr. Emerson C. Walden. An enjoyable dinner was served by Mrs. Charlotte Marshall, caterer, and each doctor and his wife received a holiday momento of the occasion.

The members of the committee were Mesdames Bernard Harris Sr., Bernard Harris Jr., N. Alan Harris, and Emerson C. Walden, president of the auxiliary.

Other members participating were Mesdames Bruce V. Benjamin, Simon H. Carter, Ralph Garland Chissell, Charles Davidson, J. Edwin Fassett, J. Preston Grant, Thomas W. Harris, John H. Holmes, Albert L. Laforest, Marcus W. Moore, Glenford P. Mussenden, J. Douglass Shepperd, and Percival C. Smith.

MR. AND MRS. John Grinage entertained at a birthday party for their twins, Judy and Johnny Grinage, at their beautiou Street home last Friday evening.

The twins were 17 years old.

The guests included:

Anastatia Phillips, Jackie and Barbara Battle, Sandra Davis, Ann Wood, Carol St. Clair, Othelia Reynolds, Joyce Ann Parker, Bunny Littler, Brenda Watts, Jay Henson, Gilda Jones, Carol Gross.

Roslyn Johnson, Penny Lewis, Jean Ford, Lynda Hall, Sheila Chapman, Howard Neale, Johnny Grinage, Clifton McDonald, Ronnie Strickland, Reggie Thomas, Melvin Carroll.

Richard William, Bernard Stokes, Eddie Sal Parker, Sidney Edwards, Masey Paul Talley, Gug Bragg, Michael Monroe, Leroy Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. William Carter and Mrs. Woodland and Miss Bettye Johnson.

POT - POURRI. Proudest prospective parents in 10 counties are the John Richa Jr., whose first baby is expected in May.

Most concerned family is the Chandler Wynns. Mrs. Wynn having been ensconsed in Johns Hopkins Hospital on Christmas Day.

Hardly most fun is Flozella Clark, who is floating around in a brand new white motor.

MISS SUSAN RANDALL, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Evans, and Warren J. Wilson were married in Baltimore, last week.

Christmas gift of husband Harold.

The Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Carroll dashed off to Congo, N.J. for the Christmas Day with her family. Were house guests of brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. James Thompson. Shared the occasion with other family members: Mrs. Madelyn Dotson, Miss Meriat Cooper, Walter Cooper, Miss Juanita Cooper, and James Thompson, home for the holidays from Camp Lejeune.

The Rev. Mr. Carroll was back by Sunday, to play like an inspired angel at Sharp Street Methodist Church's annual presentation of "The Messiah." Incidentally, Lucy Holt Jones was replaced at a last moment by Veronica Tyler as soprano soloist. Mrs. Jones' doctor laid down orders.

At the Templars' dance, Tuesday evening, the guys were making most over their lovely brides and bridesmaids. Senator and Mrs. Harry A. Cole, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Parker and Mr. and Mrs. William Patterson, all having exchanged vows within the 24 hours prior to the party.

Dr. and Mrs. Reid Jackson, heretofore of Texas, who holidayed here with his in-laws, Jacksonville, Fla. from here, where he will take over the post as dean at Edward Waters College.

Chi Eta Phi sorors will honor Mrs. Ada Veney as their tea in Douglas Memorial Church Parlor Sunday.

Mrs. Veney has recently been appointed an assistant supervisor of nurses in City Schools.

THE RUDOLPH (DORIS) WHEELERS entertained a dinner, Sunday, with Messrs. and Mesdames Fred Morrow of Washington, Lawrence Young of Chicago, James Murphy, Charles Law and Medford Reynolds of this city, as guests.

Other guests who came for cocktails during the evening included:

Dr. and Mrs. Myrlin D. Jenkins, Dr. and Mrs. Saul Perdue and Messrs. and Mesdames Yancy Whitaker, Talmadge Hill and Frank Phillips.

Doris was a striking hostess in Christmas green satin pants and matching blouse. Over which she placed a pert red apron.

And equally striking were her guests, particularly Mrs. Young, whose green velvet sheath had a flower and flowing panel to enhance its back. Mrs. Morrow, a black sheath cocktail frock topped with a brief jacket; Mrs. Jenkins, a lovely black wool, with an intriguing cape that flowed into a panel at the back, and further enhanced with gold trim.

Mrs. Reynolds was in smart black chiffon, made cocktail length, with long sleeves.

THERE WERE also some pretty snarky togs at the Temptars' Christmas party.

Sadie Jenkins' gold-lame top frock was underpinned by a gold and beige net skirt. Ella Harrad chose a white lace blouse, with pink collar. Vash-ti Christmas was inclaret sheath, sequined at the top.

Gladys Daniels picked an ensemble of red velvet top and white pleated chiffon skirt. Elsie Scott, coral silk spattered with rhinestones and pearls.

They had a number of out-of-town guests including Imogene Martin of Detroit, Eddie and Ella Horrad and Romeo and Evelyn Horrad of Washington.

The Thomas Whaleys of Columbia, S.C., who are guests of Dr. and Mrs. Barnett Rhetta Jr.; the Alonza Hilliards of Boston, who are guests of Mrs. Jet and Mel Callaman; and Fred Miller of Washington, who was with Albert and Estelle Jacobs.

* * *

THAT BEAUTIFULLY detailed dinner that Gwendolyn Lewis had on Monday evening was "just to get a few old cronies together," said the hostess.

And together for a luscious meal and cards afterwards were Georgia Chester, Catherine Wilson, Catherine Jackson, Aline Lang, Susie Clark, Inez Kent, Helen King and Thelma Rice.

On the next day, Mrs. Lewis had at dinner her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lewis of Washington, and her neighbor, Sterling Graves. Mrs. Graves is visiting her family in Florida.

MR. AND MRS. Sidney Stives of Buffalo, N.Y., were guests in whose honor Mr. and Mrs. Lawson Brooks entertained at cocktails on Sunday.

Mrs. Stives is the aunt of Mrs. Brooks.

To meet the visitors were: Messrs. and Mesdames Medford Reynolds, Leslie Bell, George Tatnallyn, Clifton Oberton, and Willie Brooks; and Mesdames Inez Smith and Lewis Grass and the latter's daughter, Gilda.

ELIZABETH (JACKIE) MACK and Earl Bolden, threw one of the nicest parties of the year and say so it that everybody had a gay time at their Christmas party, held in their home on Myrtle Avenue, Saturday night.

They served buffet style a most beautifully decorated table with hot and cold hor d'oeuves, steamed and imperial shrimp (Jumbo) with sauces, onion rings and sliced tomatoes, American and imported cheeses, assorted breads, potato chips and pretzels, assorted cold cuts, assorted pickles and olives and all kinds of sippables.

Lilly Anderson did her interpretative and mambo dancing and what a dancer she is!

About were the Walter Jacksons, the George Williamses, Clarence and Odessa Dyson, the Ben Handys, the John Royslins, Gloria and Hefner Watts, the James Adamses, the James Bartleys, Gussie and Frank Jackson, the James Wallaces, Marlene Chase, Ethel Wilson, Mollie Pleasants;

Rosa Thompson, Emma Lewis, Eleanor Ash, Kitty Peck, Aviation Apprentice Leatora Watts (WAVE), Joyce Matthews, Garnetta Jackson, Charlotte Williams, George Jackson Jr., Frank Sills, Clayton Bowles, Thomas Gunther, Bill Mobley, Lewis Royslin, John Maths, Dorothy Dickerson, Eula Anderson and Russell Tarter.

Among the other pretty Sunday evening parties was the dinner gathering Granville and Gwen Hillen held for 14 friends who were treated to turkey with all the trimmings and Hi-Fi concert too.

About were:

Samuel and Pauline Blackwell, Rudolph and Mary Lou Redd, Cliff and Ethel Murray, Lucille Birdwell, Hollis Posey, Mary Adams, Bill Daniels, Milton and Doreen Stanley, Frank and Bettye Phillips.

THE WILLIAM C. TAYLORS (Bill and Amber) entertained on Saturday evening at their Cecil Ave. home, in honor of Mrs. Lucille Dogan, New Orleans; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Madden, Monkton; Mr. and Mrs. and Mrs., Lee Powell of Washington.

In to greet them were Mrs. Dogan's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. C. Hughes; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Turner, Dr. and Mrs. Frank DeCosta, Dr. and Mrs. Louis A. Johnson, Mrs. Alma V. Thomas and Leroy Taylor Sr.

JACQUELINE WILLIAMS was really surprised last week when the doorbell rang. And in walked 12 members of the Mondawmin Child Study Group.

It seems that the girls took Jackie's husband, Bill, into their confidence and planned a shower in honor of Ruth Victor, (a Elizabeth Williams, newest member of the children's division of M.C.S.G.) Ruth was born on December 6.

Members of the group brought food, drink, and gifts galore to the Williams home on Allendale Road and refuted to let Jackie lift a finger to do anything during the entire afternoon.

DOWN GALESVILLE WAY SPEAKING

Lots of people, doing things in their community, and what a community it is! Here what can be done when people work together for a common cause.

Galesville has a community center, believe it or not, and they have it because of the ingenuity of a group of energetic and far - sighted citizens there.

The mass of people who this group organized as the Community Club note since May, raised over $1,100 during the month of August.

As of the old deserted school house, which stood in the shadows of past activity, beckoned for a chance to serve the community again, a committee under the able leadership of Mesdames Alice Harrison, approached the Board of Education of Anne Arundel County and made arrangements to purchase the old building for $1,000.

The first $500 was given by the group by the Woodfield Fish and Oyster Co., presented by William Woodfield, president of the company.

The club matched this with their $500, and now since December 2, a deed showing that Galesville has its own community center, is evidence. Temporarily decorated, a remodeling job will be done some time after the first of the year.

DURING THE fall activities such as suppers, bake sales, entertainment dances were given for the benefit of the project. At present the club has over $1,000 in the bank.

With a membership of over 50 the club has the following officers and trustees:

Clifton Crowner, president; Mrs. Mary Sellman, vice-president; Mrs. Corine White, recording secretary; Mrs. Martha Watkins, financial secretary; William Jackson, treasurer, and Mrs. Harriet Hull, chairman of the business committee.

Also Mrs. Edith Crowner and Messrs. James Hicks, Howard Selegand, Frank Makell and Benjamin Crowner Sr., trustees.

Mrs. Hull heads up the special committee which works in the interest of the center. She is assisted by Miss Reba Turner, Mrs. Watkins, Frank Makell, James Hicks and Clifton Crowner.

NOW THAT Galesville has its center, many activities are being held there. On Sunday afternoon, a surprise birthday party was given in honor of Mrs. Monia Thomas, wife of the Rev. Jesse C. Thomas, pastor of Ebenezer AME Church.

There never was such enthusiasm, and you can be sure that the decorations were lovely.

We all know the beauty of the woods at this time of the year, and Galesville is surrounded by all kinds of beautiful green, throughout the area. Holly - loaded with - berries, something we fight for in Baltimore, and cedars, centered the tables in splendor.

The large birthday cake was inscribed with "Happy Birthday Mrs. Taylor." was the center of attraction. The refreshments were all kinds of other cakes, punch, ice cream, candies, good, colorful and dainty. Word receives Mrs. Taylor received loads of gifts including cash.

Among the guests were:

Messrs. and Mesdames Clifton Crowner, Benjamin Crowner Sr., Virgil Moulden, Mesdames Eliza Crowner, Martha Watkins, and Arlena Crowner; Misses Lillian Makell and Reba Turner; Messrs. Vernon Easton, Howard Makell, Daniel Easton.

Hostesses were missionary women of the church. Mesdames Marie Modden, Augustine Turner and Pearl White.

The Community Club gave its first Christmas Eve dance at the center, with the Van dykes Orchestra of Annapolis furnishing the music.

MISS ELIZABETH HULL, a sophomore at Maryland State College, Bowie Hull, a senior at Morgan State College, and Sidney and Howard Hull of Salisbury High School, are spending the holidays with their parents Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Hull.

Miss Mary L. Jackson, also a student at Maryland State, spent last week end with the Hulls as guest of Elizabeth.

Mrs. Dorothy Gross had as her holiday guest, her daughter, Miss Marjorie Makell of Washington, D.C.

Mrs. Emily McPherson of New York City is visiting her sister, Miss Lillian Makell.

Congratulations are in order for Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sellman. They are the proud parents of a new baby girl. Wysesels, born first week in December.

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Boots. The quiet ceremony took place in November. Mrs. Boots was formerly Miss Ruth Boots. The quiet ceremony took place in November. Mrs. Boots was formerly Miss Ruth Boots. The bridegroom is the son of the late Harry and Carrie
