STATE OF MARYLAND.
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

Whereas, by an Act of the General Assembly of Maryland, passed at January Session, 1867, entitled "An Act to provide for taking the sense of the people of this State on the call for a Convention to frame a new Constitution and form of Government, and for assembling the members thereof," it is provided that the Constitution and form of Government adopted by said Convention shall be submitted to the legal and qualified voters of the State, for their adoption or rejection, at such time, in such manner, and subject to such regulations as the said Convention may prescribe.

And whereas, it is further provided by said Act, that the Governor shall receive the returns of the number of votes cast in this State for the adoption or rejection of the Constitution submitted by the Convention to the people of this State, as aforesaid, and upon counting and casting up the returns made to him, as hereinbefore prescribed, it shall appear that a majority of the votes cast at the said election have been cast in favor of the adoption of the said Constitution, he shall issue his proclamation to the people of this State declaring the fact and shall take such measures as shall be required by said Constitution to carry the same into effect, and to supersede the existing Constitution."

And whereas, in pursuance of the said Act and of a vote of a majority of the people of the State taken in conformity to its provisions, and in pursuance of the assembling of said Convention, that body did convene at the city of Annapolis on the day appointed by said act, and did on the seventeenth day of August last adopt a new Constitution and form of Government, and did direct that the same should be submitted to the people of the State for their adoption or rejection, at an election to be held in the city of Baltimore and the various counties for that purpose, on the eighteenth day of September instant.

And whereas by said Constitution it is further provided that "the Governor, upon receiving the returns, and ascertaining the aggregate throughout the State, shall, by his proclamation, make known the same, and if a majority of the votes cast shall be for the adoption of this Constitution, it shall go into effect on Saturday, the fifth day of October, 1867."

And whereas the returns of said election so held on the 18th day of September instant, have been duly certified to me by the Judges of Election, and upon counting and casting up the same it doth appear that there were forty-seven thousand one hundred and fifty-two (47,152) votes for the Constitution, and twenty-three thousand and thirty-six (23,036) ballots against the Constitution, and that there were twenty-seven blank ballots; and there being therefore of the aggregate vote so cast a majority in favor of the adoption of the said Constitution—

Now, therefore, I, THOMAS SWANN, Governor of the State of Maryland, in pursuance of the authority so vested in me by the said act of Assembly and the Constitution aforesaid, do, by this my proclamation, declare and make known that the said Constitution and form of Government so framed and adopted by the Convention aforesaid has been adopted by a majority of the voters of this State, and that in pursuance of the provision therein contained, the same will go into effect as the proper Constitution and form of Government of the State, superseding the one now existing, on Saturday, the 5th day of October next.

Given under my hand and the (L.S.) great seal of the State of Maryland, at the city of Annapolis, this twenty-seventh day of September, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven.

THOMAS SWANN.
