EX-TEAMMATES TOGETHER— Al Frazier, who recently signed a pro football contract with the Chicago Bears, takes time out from his studies at Florida A and M University to chat about the Bear organization with his close friend and ex-teammate, Willie Galimore. Galimore was a rookie sensation with the Bears last fall and is visiting his old alma mater.

Boyd, 2 others ink Oriole contracts

First baseman Bob Boyd, outfielder Joe Durham and pitcher Charley Beamon signed the 1958 contracts with the Baltimore Orioles, it was announced late this week.

Boyd, the Oriole front office disclosed, was the second Bird to be satisfied with the club's terms for the coming season. He is believed to have signed for $12,000, representing a $1,000 boost over his 1957 salary.

* * *

SECOND BASEMAN Billy Gardner was the first Oriole in camp when he signed a week ago.

The 31-year-old lefthanded hitting first sacker is participating for his third season as an Oriole. He led the team in hitting last year with an average of .318 in 141 games, and as a result boosted his lifetime average to .301 to become one of 18 currently active major leaguers with a career mark over the .300 figure.

* * *

DEFENSIVELY, THE 5-foot, 10-inch, 167-pounder accepted more chances than any other first baseman in the league, and finished with an impressive .994 fielding percentage.

Boyd, who is married and has one daughter, has spent the off season doing public relations work in Baltimore. He will report to the Oriole training base at Scottsdale, Ariz., Feb. 27.

* * *

DURHAM, a 25-year-old right handed-hitting outfielder from Newport News, Va., returned to the Orioles last spring following two years in the Army. He was assigned to the San Antonio club of the Texas League and by June 11 he was hitting .391 there. He was called up to the Orioles and wound up playing in 77 games.

* * *

BEAMON MADE his American League debut in late September of 1956 when he pitched a 2-0 shut-out against the New York Yankees, defeating Whitey Ford who was seeking his 20th triumph of the season. Manager Paul Richards decided to Vancouver for another season of minor league ball.

This winter, Beamon won nine games for Caracas of the Venezuelan Vanguard and tied for the top spot in the loop in 10 for the Monarchs, pitching 177 innings and hurling three shutouts.

Turner loser on split decision

Philadelphia — Vince Martinez, the Paterson, N.J., dancing master, exhibited his skill before 7,129 fans who paid $37,759 to welcome the return of "big time" boxing to Philadelphia as he duelled Gil Turner in a 12-round welterweight elimination bout at the arena here Wednesday night.

Martinez took command at the opening bell and was never in trouble although Turner was groggy in the late rounds.

Only in rare spots did the Philadelphian show flashes of the prowess which carried him to a shot at Kid Gavilan several years ago.

The official decision showed Judge Nate Lopemen voting 5-35, Judge James Mina voting 5-1 at 56-54, while referee Pete Panteleo scored it 54-53.

Turner weighed in at 145½, Martinez at 147, which caused the odds to shift from 8-5 to 2-1 at fight time. There were no knockdowns, although Martinez slipped to the canvas in the fourth.

Amateur boxing returns Monday

The Cross Country Club completed plans early this week for the resumption of amateur boxing in Baltimore, the first of a series of shows to be staged Monday night at Lithuanian Hall, 851 W. Hoijns St.

An 8-fight card has been set up, with a 5-round main event topping the bill.

TED EATON, 165-pounder of the Baltimore Athletic Association will box Lareell Thompson of Ringside A.C., in the top event.

Ted's record as an amateur dates back to 1952 when he became a semi-finalist in the open division in the Maryland State Tourney. Most of Ted's matches were in tournaments and he has met the best in his weight class.

Thompson, a newcomer in amateur boxing, went to the semi-finals in the 1957 Maryland State Tournament.

Also appearing on the card will be Calvin Little of Ringside A.C., who is the current titleholder in the open class.

He will be matched with Paul Reed of the Baltimore Athletic Association.

BALTIMORE BEAT

By SAM LACY

It isn't unusual for the coach of an athletic team to express dissatisfaction with things as they are, even though his team is riding high on the crest of a victory wave.

So, Bill (Sugar) Cain doesn't have to be an odd person simpl- because he's weeping over a Dunbar High School aggregation that has never been beaten in Maryland Scholastic Association competition.

Cain's youngsters have won 20 straight MSA eage-tilts as of this writing, and have taken 25 of their last 26 outings against all opponents in the last two years.

* * *

AT THE MOMENT, the Dunbar mentor is spurring his team to run for its proverbial life while looking back over his shoulder at the opposition. Cain spends the afternoon squeezing victories out of his quint, then goes home and devotes the evenings nursing the ulcer he cultivated while doing the same thing little over a year ago.

"If we can just get over Carver and Southern next week," says Cain as though haunted by the future instead of the past, "I know I'll feel better.

"I can't get it out of my mind that we're in trouble after February 1st. That's when we lose Joe Pulliam and Mel Bailey. Pulliam's our big scorer and Bailey's our rebounding ace.

"You can believe me the other people are going to find things a lot different playing us after these fellows leave."

Pulliam and Bailey are scheduled for graduat classification at mid-term. And Cain pictures their loss as posing a serious threat to his chance of repeating as MSA basketball champion.

* * *

"WE GET both Carver and Southern next week, and they're both tough — I mean tough! Carver comes to our gym on Tuesday and we visit Southern Friday (24th).

"If we can get over them, it'll give us a kind of cushion to start the second half. We won't be able to coast after that, but it will give us room to breathe, at least."

Southern is just a half-game behind Dunbar in the MSA standings with a 4-1 record, and Carver is one game back with a 3-1 slate.

* * *

WITH REGARD to his own 4-0 mark, Cain indicated some concern. "We've been winning," he said, "but we really haven't played well. The only time this season we looked really good was in the game with Patterson, the other day when the kids scored 23 points in eight minutes.

"I certainly wish they could keep that up," concluded the Dunbar tutor wistfully.

SOUTHERN, incidentally, may be a tough one against the league-leading Cainmen with its four tan players in the starting lineup.

They are Rodie Brodgan, Frank Young, George Green and John Anderson.

Brodgan, their 6-feet-3 scoring ace, is high-point man for the Bulldogs. His 72 points in four games put him on a highly respectable 18-point average.

Young is a clever rebounder who formerly was an Innsbruck A lad with a remarkable underthe-basket touch. Young also is a tough man to defeat because he is a natural lefthander with ambidexterous tendencies.

* * *

GREEN, though only a tenth grader at Southern, is regarded as one of the few players left in scholastic ranks with a solid two-hand set shot. With most of today's youngsters following the one-hand push shot pattern, Green is somewhat unorthodox. Still, he is one of the most reliable point-getters with the title-chasing Southernites.

Anderson is a 5-foot-9 performer, whose value lies in his versatility. A steady defender, John is capable of getting his on the cords and upsetting the scouting reports.

* * *

MAINSTAYS of Sodi's White's ambitious Carver five are Joe Parker and Horace Bass.

Parker had 17 points in the Trainers' 56-42 loss to Southern Tuesday, and was a constant headache to the Bulldog defense all afternoon on the latter's home floor.

Bass is a sophomore, but already rank# with the most promising newcomers to MSA ranks.

PARING NOT SO well in the MSA chase are two once-powerful teams captained by ex-athletes for the first time.

Poly, with Wayne Cole as captain, is playing at a .500 clip for the first half of slate, having won two and lost two.

Co-captains of the seventh place City team, with a 1-3 record, are Maceo Williams and Warren Cruze.

TOAST OF TEAMMATES— Oscar Robertson is hoisted to the shoulders of his Cincinnati University teammates following his sensational Madison Square Garden performance last week. Robertson hit for 56 points to set an all-time collegiate scoring record in the New York sports palace, thus leading his Cincy team to a 118-84 shellacking of Seton Hall.

Tennessee State 5 notches 13th win

NASHVILLE — Tennessee State's fast break, offense put deep freeze 64-48, for the NAIA National Champs 13th win against 2 defeats in Kean's little garden last Saturday night.

Breaking back into the win column after suffering two setbacks during holiday tourney play, Coach Johnny McLendon's Tigers, down 25-28 at intermission, turned on the second half heat to keep their conference record clean behind the 15-point shooting of co-captain John Barnhill, flashy forward from Evansville, Ind.

* * *

COACH JIM BROWN'S Thorobreds' ball holding tactics allowed each team to score three points during the game's first five minutes.

Kentucky's freeze put a first half chill on the 4,000 home folks who sat numbed silence as Tennessee trailed 12 with better than seven minutes remaining in the stanza.

TENNESSE, who knotted the game on a layup against the front 39-37 on freshman forward Ben Warley's lay-up with 10 minutes remaining in the game.

At this point Kentucky tried to run at McDonald's Bulldog Merchants and in five minutes the Tigers ripped a 19-point (10-2?) lead.

Bowie scores at will, routs Coppin, 83-38

Bowie (Md.) State Teachers latched on to their second victory of the season by whitewashing Coppin State Teachers, 83-38, at Ballfmore Saturday.

Bowie had a big halftime lead, of 40-18 and continued to pour it on during the last two periods.

FOUR MEN were in double figures for Bowie. Al Remy and Thelbert Moorne had 18 and 17 points, respectively.

Phelps Dennis and Chaunceys Stirrups of St. Augustine's, 20th in scoring, 23 per game in three dates, Dances of C. Smith, 25th, 22 each game average; Syphax of Howard, 30th, 20 on light attack.

Field goal percentage leaders include Galloway, Bluefield, 65 for 112 in eight games for 58 per cent; Hooks, Howard, 47 of 83 in eight for 56.6; Syphax of Howard, 63 of 115 for 54.8.

Barnes of Smith is fourth free throw leader with 32 of 38 in six games.

Rebound leaders include Harrison of A. and T. 102 in six for 17.2; Eaton of Howard, 125 in eight for 15.6, and Wilfred of Winston-Salem, 125 in eight for 15.6.

Md. State 5 drops pair

WINSTON SALEM, N.C. — Overtaken three times after holding seemingly comfortable leads, Maryland State College dropped here second game in as many nights here Tuesday.

The Hawks from Princess Anne, Md., bowed, 71-70, in an overtime battle with the Winston-Salem Teachers College Rams. The night before Monday, Maryland absorbed an 83-72 licking from North Carolina College at Durham.

In the Tuesday game, Maryland was on the short end of a 21-12 lead until Winston-Salem rallied to take a 26-25 halftime advantage. Later the visitors saw a 51-48 margin disappear as the Rams tied at the buzzer to send the game into overtime, the home club again came from behind to nip the Hawks.

On Monday night, North Carolina led all the way in sinking Maryland, Taylor's Eastern Shoremen, despite a 29-point outburst by freshman Dave Smith of Washington, D.C.

BEARS 6TH IN U.S.

DURHAM (CIAA NS)—Coach Talmadge L. Hill's Morgan State College basketball team is sixth ranking nationally in team offense, according to current statistics of the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau.

With a 6-1 record, Hill's Bears last week were averaging 85 points per game.

And Ron Garner, Hill's high scorer, was bucketing 'em in at a pace of some 25 per till. Garner's total in four contests included 39 field goals and 23 free throws for 101 points.

IN THE first 30 college team offense standings, Hampton was 37th with a 77 point average and Howard was 28th with 76.7.

Fayetteville was 29th nationally in team defense, having held foes to 59.3 in three games. Howard was 13th among the top 20 teams in field goal percentage leaders (231 of 511 for 45 per cent).

Among free throw percentage leaders, North Carolina College was 17th in 5 games, Fayetteville, eighth, (57 of 73 for 72.6 per cent), and Jim Hagans with 34 of 53 for 72 per cent.

Patterson, pilot miss boat, London bout off

NEW YORK (ANP)—A scheduled trip to England for a Patterson bout for Floyd Patterson sizzled late last week when Patterson and his controversial manager, Cus D'Amato, "missed the boat" that was to get them there in time for the light Tuesday night.

According to British boxing promoter Harry Levene, Patterson was to defend his box an unnamed opponent in a three-round exhibition Jan. 14 at Empire Pool in London.

The bout was to be part of a fight card headlined by light-weights Orlando Zulueta of Cuba and South Africa's Willie Toweel.

While in Europe, Patterson was also slated to huddle with boxing biggies on prospects of a June defense of his title against British champion Joe Erskine; the game Erskine who was flattened by hulking Nino Valdes in one round, recently.

However, just before the appointed hour, Patterson and D'Amato reportedly missed the boat and there were rumors that D'Amato would not fly his prized fighter to the London date.
