Full Story Of Dispute Over Harlem Park Site

By MAX JOHNSON

The long-controversial Harlem Park School Condemnation Ordinance 1288 is expected to pass a final third reading by the City Council without difficulty Monday evening, and go to Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro for certain approval.

These will be the final steps in authorizing the School Board to take, through condemnation proceedings and purchases, 204 properties directly to the north of Harlem Park for the erection of two schools.

The School Board plans a junior high school for 2,000 students in the two square blocks of the 1400 block W. Lanvale St., Harlem Ave. It will face Harlem Park.

An elementary school for 1,000 students will be erected in the square block bounded by Lafayette Ave., Calhoun, Lanvale and Stricker Sts.

This is the block directly north of the 1400 block W. Lanvale St.

THE OVER-ALL planning calls for use of the eastern side of Harlem Park — the sector bordering Calhoun St. — to be converted into a hard-surfaced playground.

The playground will service outdoor recreational activities of students at the two schools, and serve as a general play area for the neighborhood.

School Board officials have estimated that it will require approximately three years to build the schools.

They contend that the two schools are necessary to these locations to meet expected population increases of school-age children in the area.

WILLIAM E. LEHR, assistant superintendent of school facilities, told the AFRO recently that 12 to 14 months would be required to complete plans and give out bids for the erection of the schools.

This means that residents of the affected area must seek new homes within the next 12 to 14 months.

Ordinance 1288, first introduced in the City Council last April 15, was finally brought to the Council floor last Monday evening, with a favorable report from the council's Judiciary Committee.

Solomon Lass, Judiciary Committee chairman, moved for adoption of the favorable report.

* * *

THE 16 City Council members present voted: 14 to accept the favorable report, 1 opposed, and 1 passed.

The opposing vote came from William D. Schaefer (Fifth District).

Councilman Chester J. Ray, Second District, passed in the voting.

Absent from the City Council session and the voting were Councilmen William Bonnett, First District; Michael J. Rankin, Fifth District; and Thomas P. Fallon, William M. Hudnet and Michael J. McHale, all Sixth District.

* * *

UP UNTIL a few days prior to Monday, the City Council session, the entire Fifth District delegation of Councilmen Jacob J. Edelman, Leon A. Rubenstein, Hankin and Sahaefer had stood firm together in opposing the Harlem Park school site.

Councilmen Edelman and Rubenstein reversed their previous stand on Monday to give an okey to the ordinance.

The Harlem Park site had been strongly protested by residents of the area, represented by the Harlem Park Homeowners' Association, headed by Leroy Jones, with Mrs. Juanita Jackson Mitchell, as their attorney.

Also opposing the site were the NAACP, and Sol Lemler, druggist of the 1400 block W. Lanvale St.

* * *

THESE protestants argued: (1) homes in the proposed school site area were a credit to the sector and should be preserved.

(2) An alternate site one block further north was almost a slum area, and the schools would help to erase this; and

(3) Harlem Park should be kept intact to continue to beautify the area.

The alternate site suggested by the protestants is bounded by Laurens St. on the north; Calhoun St. to the east; Mosher St., south, and Gilmor St. on the west.

* * *

SCHOOL BOARD officials stood fast in their selection of the Harlem Park site, by contending the alternate site:

(1) Was impractical because it would place the proposed schools too close to existing ones;

(2) Was out of the Urban Renewal area for which Federal funds were available, and the added cost to taxpayers would be approximately $1,000,000;

(3) Would require condemnation of 402 properties, more than twice the 204 properties in the Harlem Park site; and

(4) That an additional 125 families, and cost of $400,000, Sary purchase of another block for school recreational facilities.

* * *

URBAN RENEWAL and Housing Agency officials joined with those of the School Board in pointing out that the two schools on the proposed Harlem Park site fitted in urban renewal planning for the area.

Among other organizations favoring the site are the Harlem Park Neighborhood Council, headed by Mrs. Mary N. Brooks; Citizens Planning and Housing Association, Frontiers Club.

Also the Sandtown Neighborhood Association, composed of residents of the proposed alternate site, represented by Milton Allen and William Murphy.

IN A NUTSHELL

1. School Board, Urban Renewal officials and seven organizations win Harlem Park school site fight, with opposition still current for 1400 and 1500 square blocks of Harlem Ave. An elementary school for 1,000 students planned, for square block between the 800 blocks of Calhoun and Stricker Sts.

3. Residents of these blocks must vacate their homes within the next 12 to 14 months.

IN A NUTSHELL

- Mrs. Lillie M. Jackson spells out NAACP position in Harlem Park School Site controversy.
- Charges, city made mistakes, urges other redevelopment sites.
- Calls controversy a "sinister" attempt to set community against NAACP.

In a telegram to Mayor D'Alesandro, Clarence Mitchell Jr., chairman of the board of trustees of Sharp St. Memorial Church, raised the question as to whether approval of the Harlem Park site would "adversely affect" the church.

Mr. Mitchell said he had been informed that approval of the plan called for the demolition of buildings on the north side of Dolphin St., between Druid Hill and Pennsylvania Ave.

Sharp St. Memorial Methodist Church is located at Dolphin and Etting Sts.

Mrs. Lillie M. Jackson, president of the local NAACP issued the following statement on the Harlem Park situation:

It is important to tell you of the extreme lengths to which the School Board, Urban Renewal officials and certain political leaders in our city have gone in a sinister attempt to set the community against the NAACP in the Harlem Park matter.

This is the same type of action which our branches are facing all over the South today.

City School Board and Urban Renewal officials have used their paid staffs and descended on organizations, presenting only one side of the picture, demanding immediate action on the grounds that the interests of school children are at stake.

The resolution passed and the statements issued following these meetings were almost exactly the same language.

And in all these meetings, speakers cautiously avoided presenting the positive side of the persons who are trying to save their homes and the side of the NAACP which is trying to help the home owners.

Nor has the NAACP been officially asked to present its view at any one of these meetings. Rather the NAACP has been branded in its absence as "selfish" and "certain to the school

IN A NUTSHELL

1. Mrs. Lillie M. Jackson spells out NAACP position in Harlem Park School Site controversy.
2. Charges, city made mistakes, urges other redevelopment sites.
3. Calls controversy a "sinister" attempt to set community against NAACP.

Now these same city officials, whom we have opposed for the sake of our school children, would have you believe that your NAACP in the Harlem Park matter represents the "selfish, vested interests," in "instrumental" and would "sacrifice the rights of our school children."

Nothing can be farther from the truth.

* * *

OUR CITY IS NOT always right. It makes mistakes. The Mayor has just admitted his mistake on the 26 and inventory tax.

The Broadway and Waverly Redevelopment sites stand as mute monuments to the price mistakes of city officials in moving out hundreds of colored families in "the name of the greatest good for the greatest number. Yet in the new housing which has been erected on those sites, not one single colored citizen has been housed.

In the Broadway site, the School Board is now planning to remove Public No. 102 from the heart of the site and place it in a new school which they plan to build out of the site at Monument and Central Avenues, across from a junk yard, rag shop, and in the vicinity of two taverns.

The NAACP's interest is to prevent the Mayor and City Council from committing their previous errors and Park site.

THE CITY HAS BEEN trying to graft the public squares in our colored neighborhoods for many years. We have continuously fought with the residents against such attempt over the years, as a matter of policy.

Our people who live in these congested communities need every inch of park space they have.

We can see no difference between the effort to take a small park in a congested neighborhood and the taking of a small part of a big park for a civic center.

The residents in the area of Druid Hill Park are properly fearful against the destruction of their property value. The NAACP also opposed the use of Druid Hill Park for the Civic Center.

The difference between the NAACP stand and those who would ignore the plight of the Harlem Park homeowners is that we believe the Harlem Park home owners have just as much right to peace and landscape beauty as those who have been able to afford to move their residences out of the Harlem Park area to Liberty Heights and Northwood Terrace directly across from Druid Hill Park.

* * *

WE HAVE encouraged our people to beautify their neighborhoods and protect their home, church and school areas against the invasion of taverns and other commercial interests.

Your NAACP organized the first residential protective association in the history of the late Dr. George S. Murphy in 1937. We have organized and encouraged many others.

The homeowners in Harlem Park paid great prices for their homes in the one mediate vicinity of the square and have struggled through the years to comply with the city's housing codes to maintain a decent community and to keep out slum-making forces.

Now that Urban Renewal officials come along and under the guise of giving our children another school, take the best housing in the Harlem Park area, and leave standing the worst slums, saloons, dives and other eyesores.

Our children need good schools. But they also need good homes.

* * *

THE REASON for this is clear. Taking colored homes — owned properties and public squares is cheaper than razing slums where commercial interests have large investments.

But we ask you, Mr. Mayor, why economize at the expense of colored citizens? The cheapest thing is not always the best nor the right thing. The slums will have to continue to blight, for the city is to do a thorough job of removing the real slum evil. Why not do it now?

The Mayor's purpose of Urban Renewal is not to tear down good substantial housing. This was reiterated again and again when they were seeking adoption of the Urban Renewal idea.

* * *

THE SCHOOL board has said it needed the site immediately because three schools will be taken by the Franklin Mulberry Streets East — West Expressway. Oliver Winston, Urban Redevelopment Director, was asked by the Council Committee when the expressway proceedings would begin. He said he didn't know. The city official was also asked how estimated it would take it to 15 12 years.

Why rush into this grievous mistake now?

Dr. Fischer (John H. Fischer, superintendent of public instruction) admitted it is not good educational policy to place elementary and junior high schools together because of the difference in the age levels. That the Board only does it when it has to.

Where else has the School Board done it? The all colored residential development at Cherry Hill.

Why violate educational principles always at the expense of colored children?

Your NAACP, all over the country has to concern itself with preventing the use of school construction projects to extend and perpetuate Jim Crow. Quite elementary schools had to be in walking distance of small children. Junior High Schools do not.

Placing the Junior High School in the proposed site will make it a Jim Crow school and perpetuate segregated schooling. It should be placed in an area where white as well as colored children will have equal access to it.

ONE OF THE most vicious rumors is that a large part of the opposition to the proposed site has been generated by protest Lemler's Drug Store. This is an ungodly untruth which has been spread as a means of confusing the real issue.

These same property owners and the NAACP successfully opposed this same project in previous years when we sought to extend his liquor license. It just happens that this time he is on the same side as the residents. He is, also, one property owner.

The overwhelming and almost total opposition to this plan is composed of more than 400 colored home owners who have fought against all kinds of encroachment in their area in the past.

If the School Board had had its way in 1947, the Harlem Park site would not be available. It would be occupied by the Carver Vocational School.

I want you to have the benefit of these facts at a time when you and NAACP is under attack for our persistence in pursuing in the courts the ending of school segregation policies throughout the South and in those parts of our city and county school systems where integration is still non-existent or on paper only.

MR. MITCHELL'S telegram to Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro reads as follows:

In conversation with city officials today have learned that approval of the Harlem Park Urban Renewal plan for location of schools may adversely affect Shar St' Memorial Methodist Church, located at Dolph and Etting Sts.

Am advised that plans for widening Dolphin St. will require demolition of buildings on north side of Dolphin St., where our church is located in line with the traffic flow to Harlem Park Area.

"Please advise by return wire if this information is correct. If not correct please indicate city plan for future use of north side of Dolphin St. between Druid Hill and Pennsylvania Ave.

Hot dog didn't cause child's death; it was blood disease

Sickle cell anemia, a rare and incurable blood disease, caused the death of three-year-old Daniel Harvey, 709 E. Preston St., the Medical Examiner's office said on Wednesday.

Mrs. Olivia Harvey, the child's mother, took him to University Hospital early Saturday. She reported he became ill after eating a hot dog. However, the Medical Examiner's autopsy showed the youngster was the victim of the inherited blood disorder which is common among colored peoples of the world.

• Sickle cell anemia victims have a congenital defect in the red cells causing them to have fever pains in limbs and abdomen. Most victims die before the age of 10 and rarely live beyond 40 years.

Up until last week, the only treatment for the ailment has been transfusions of healthy blood. Last week, a new drug, acetazolamide was reported successful in one patient by a doctor at the Tropical Disease Hospital in London. He told of the success of the drug in an article in the British Medical Journal.

HILL — In loving memory of our dear mother, SARAH, who passed away February 24, 1954.

Days of sadness still come over us,
Tears to silence often flow.
Memory lingers her ever near us,
Though she left us four years ago.
LOVING CHILDREN.

KING — In loving memory of my wife and our mother, SUSIE KING, who passed away February 23, 1942.

We often sit and think of her when we are all along,
For memory is the only friend that grief can call its own;
It lays the sweetest flowers on life's path, when all other things decay;
We love her not till we lose her, and memory leads the way.
YOUNG KING, Husband,
DOW MITCHELL, Son
ANNIE MARTIN, Daughter.

PHILLIPS — In loving memory of our beloved husband and father, FRANK W. SR., who departed this life February 22, 1935.

Deep in our hearts you are fondly remembered,
Sweet happy memories clung round your name,
True hearts that loved you with deepest affection,
Always will love you in death just the same.
THE FAMILY
