Spring decor enhances Zeta Sorority's dance

Spring made an early entrance at Catonsville National Guard Armory, Friday evening, where waving palms and huge baskets of flowers artistically decorated the hall for the annual spring dance of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority.

Members of Alpha Teta Chapter and their guests danced to music of Stan Bridge's orchestra, interican rhythms.

Hors' doeuvres and punch were served throughout the evening.

Numerous cocktail parties and breakfasts were held before and after the dance, including ones given by Sorors Beatrice A. Mayo, Hazel M. Phillips, Emma C. Henson, Emma Dudley and Elizabeth Demby.

Good family relations dire need declares Zeta speaker

"The expanding responsibility of citizenship in the world today demands that youth be trained in the importance of family relations," Mrs. Irma B. Thompson said, here, Sunday.

Mrs. Thompson, of Washington, is national project director of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority and was speaker at the annual Finer Womanhood Week public meeting of the sorority.

The meeting and a tea were held in the Morgan State College Christian Center.

Mrs. Thompson, who conducts European Tours for young people, added that youth, to whom the future belongs, must realize and accept individual responsibilities, and acknowledge their responsibilities to home, community, the nation and the world.

She was introduced by Soror Thoma Ashe. Other participants on the program included the Rev. Howard L. Cornish, who gave the invocation; Miss Hansonia Caldwell, pianist; and Soror Hazel Phillips, organist.

• • •

MRS. LENA K. LEE was honored by the Zeta Phi Beta "Woman of the Year." She was introduced by Soror Beatrice Hall, who spoke of her achievement in the field of education, where she is a principal of Elementary School No. 146.

• • •

FINER WOMANHOOD WEEK officially opened with services in Provident Baptist Church, Sunday morning.

On Monday night the white robes of the sorors were picturesque against the blue of the Zeta emblem as Sorors Vivian Purviance and Audrey Davis lead the processional of the annual rededge service. Soror Althea Cornish was at the organ, and Soror Ruth Cleaver conducted the services.

A member of the National Association of Parliamentarians; first to serve on the Baltimore Redevelopment Commission, a member of the Vice President's Committee on Problems of Minority Youth, an attorney, and the wife of Robert Lee, theatre owner.

Said Mrs. Lee:

"As I listened to the citation given me today, I looked out at my husband and at my friends. There is a standing joke in that circle about my personal involvements. From others who share this bit of intimacy comes an expression of amazement which almost always met by a quip from me which is equally amazing.

"To those who constantly ask 'Why, Lena?' I can only say that I am impelled by a compulsion which stems from a happy childhood. To put it simply and directly — I have since those startling revealing days of my early experiences an abiding wished for every child the same parents as those who lived were inspiring and inspiring lessons in charity, goodness, and magnanimity of heart; the same unified family; the same home which taught by precept and example mutual respect, unity with God, the interdependence of men, love of service and sacrifice, and help, not exploitation, of the weak.

"These have been the burning ideals of my life and they have set for me an indubitable goal, the achievement of which is fraught with all of the incredible complexities of life; the achievement of which has compelled me to cast about in the diverse channels of life. Thus, my great involvement is no mere accident. I say this not in defense nor in mitigation, but as full evidence of the exacting requirements of a modern society upon its members who champion, as you do, human rights in any form."

• • •

ON SATURDAY NIGHT, Sorors Beatrice Mayo, basileus of the chapter, and Audrey Davis were co-hostesses at a reception in honor of Soror Irma Thompson.

• • •

THE AFFAIR brought out an exceptional array of smart gowns.

Rosalie McGuire, chairman of the affair, looked as pretty as a picture in her pale blue satin, with pearl studded bodice, graced with an orchid and bouffant bottom. Carrie Johnson was in blue satin, princess effect, trimmed with pearls and Alice Ford wore a beautiful royal blue, net over net, with scoop neckline.

Beatrice Rawlings selected a green lace sheath with cumberbund encircling with bows at the side. Delores C. Hunt's black sheath had rhinestone clips at side and back. Louise Jones chose red velvet.

Isabelle Masins' attire was pink silk with tiny print design with a full cocktail length skirt. Elmira Collins was dressed in a black taffeta and chiffon, fitted cocktail length dress. A sea foam, harem bottom silk, taffeta, rounded neckline and tight bodice was worn by Florine Allen. Bennie Roey was in pink organza with permanent pleated skirt.

Gladys Wallace chose a bouffant, glazed print cocktail dress with gold trimmed. Gold accessories added the finishing touches. Elaine Nickens was in a baby blue silk trimmed with rhinestones and beads. Della Macer looked smart in an aqua taffe dress with unpressed pleats and rhinestone accessories. Elizabeth Stewart was dazzling in red taffeta.

Of the guests Audrey J. Davis was in a sassy eggshell bouffant bottom dress. Ruth Marshall in a red satin top, chiffon flared skirt of red; Lillian Dantley in a white lace bodice and lace black skirt and Ada Washington in a sheath of brown silk and lace.

Delilah Pierce from Washington wore black taffeta trimmed with rhinestones, and Mrs. John H. Murphy, III, in peacock blue satin.

Emma Brown was in metallic gold brocade; Bernice Nickens in a strapless peach satin with wide flared skirt. Edith Scott in black velvet with rhinestones, and Beatrice Butler, lovely in flowered silk with velvet blouse picking up the colors in the skirt.

Gertrude Grignart wore a striking white ensemble; Josephine Rogers selected a sheath print; Myrtice Bennett chose a short formal of aqua blue, trimmed with rose buds; Minnie Lee from Washington, was in red velvet and lace; Catherine Parker resembled a doll, in a beautiful blue print. Edna Stanford's red taffeta had a bouffant overskirt, and Lillian Dabney Dearing was in black taffeta with bouffant back.

CLOTHES modeled by girls from the Pauline Brooks fashion shop at 2137 W. North Ave., attracted these matrons' attention. They were among 350 at gala fashion show at Friendship Airport on Sunday. Left to right, Mesdames Irean Johnson, Jessie Rose and Edith Burens.

ROYAL HOFFMAN — The auxiliary will have a cabaret party on March 28th in Pythian Castle. Mrs. Charlotte A. Dyson is chairman; Mrs. Ethel Jackson, co - chairman, Mrs. Veatrice Brown heads the club.

Pauline Brooks fashion show guests liked the conventional

By B. M. PHILLIPS

The new chemise look thrilled them, but it didn't cause near as much excitement as the conventional ensembles — sheaths bouffants — which Pauline Brooks and her 13 models exhibited on Sunday at a fashion extravaganza held at Friendship Airport.

The 350-odd women and some men too — oohed and aahed over an assortment of clothes for all occasions which ranged from the budget-price numbers at $8.95 to the more expensive ones at $100 and over.

The show had an airline motif with Dorothy McGowan dressed as an airline stewardess, introducing each section of the trip. It started with clothes for visits in the Bahamas, Paris, the French Riveria, Cannes, Morocco, and ended with ensembles for right here at home.

Miss Mazie O. Barbour was the commentator who supplied vital information about each garment; and the Vari-Tones provided suitable background music.

• • •

GREY, WHITE and the proverbial navy blue were the predominant colors but spectators admired most the dashing, colorful hats, made by Nell Sheridan; and the oh so gay accessories with which talented Pauline Brooks dressed her models to show off the gowns, suits, playclothes to advantage.

The result was that until the announcer gave the price, it was not easy to distinguish the lower price numbers from the more expensive ones.

For example, the $55 beige suit blouseon with bow modeled by Gwen Atkinson, was as pretty as the $129.95 double-breasted navy blue suit with deep V neck and belted back as modeled by LaNhetta Maith.

The $17.95 orange and turquoise all-over lined floral print, modeled by Helen Tucker, was as eye-catching as the more expensive models.

• • •

THE OUTFIT which caused most excitement and brought prolonged applause was $45 black eyelet over rayon beige ensemble modeled by Melinee Yerrell. She looked like a million dollars.

The jacket of the ensemble was split up to the waist where it was caught by a bow. Under the jacket, the linen sheath dress repeated the eyelet in the collar and bodice.

In the stylish adult class, the $39.95 beige basket weave coat with inserted gleats shown by Lenya Wiggins was outstanding.

• • •

THE CROWD was pleased too that so many of the cotton, play suits and other numbers for the stylish adults were moderately priced like a number of the outfits shown in the taller sizes.

And there were a number of other outstanding things— like the unusual grey rawsilk ensemble modeled by Gladys A. Maith, so unusual it is difficult to describe.

Priced at $49.95, it featured a wide black ribbon on the coat and under the coat a black sheath dress. The ribbon ended the bottom of it so that with the coat on it appeared to be all one piece.

The bright orange hat she selected to wear with this made her a picture.

There were many, many more — like the very pretty white drip and dry coverall trimmed with red and blue bands modeled by Joan Stevenson.

It looked like it cost much more than its $8.95 price tag said.

And the $32.95 outfit of orange, beige and gold sweater and skirt ensemble in nylon which Melinee Yerrell modeled. Her white sailor hat trimmed in orange set off!

And Mae Leonard was striking in a Navy blue pure silk outfit which white polka dots that featured a large portrait collar, two belts and a huge red rose.

Joan Stevenson who wore the new chemise look well—especially the horizontal blue nubber with deep pleated back that featured a double row of white buttons.

• • •

AND THE toast waffle weave two-piecer worn by Hilda Kelson, Marie Hawkins's three-piece chemise in cotton and rayon; Shirley Lassiter's irridescent green gown, and oh so many more . . . it looked like the models just kept coming.

Madame Brooks herself was dazzling in a turquoise satin sheath number . . . and gracious as she accepted the plaudits of the crowd at the end of the show.

The models and sizes of clothes they wore were:

Gwendolyn Atkinson, 13; Marie Hawkins, 15 and 16; Hilda Kelson, 9; Shirley Lassiter, 7 and 9; Mae Leonard, 10 and 11; LaNhetta Maith, 11 and 12;

Also, Joan Stevenson, 10 and 11; Helen Tucker, 4; Melinee Yerrell, 14 and 16; Eva Hughes, 18; Edna Durant, 12; Tena Wiggins, 20½; and Leatrice Hubbard, 14 and 15.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery
Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain, Stops Itching as it Shrinks Hemorrhoids
New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time, a scientist has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop their itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.
In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.
Pain was relieved promptly. And, what is perhaps relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.
And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!
In fact, results were so thorough that suff-rers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years standing.
All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.
This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H.® Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.
