SOUTH BALTIMORE NOTES

Westport Center has full slate of fall activities

By WALTER W. E. HILL

Leroy W. Hammond spent the holiday visiting the family of Anthony Ward of Chrisfield, Md.

Twenty-five Christmas baskets will be given by the Community Club of South Baltimore. The annual Christmas party will be held at the home of Mrs. Janet Bryan, 603 W. Hamburg St., Dec. 12.

A dinner will be held for the honored women of Ebenezer AME Church along with a program on Saturday, Dec. 6, sponsored by the Senior Missionary Society.

The Methodist Men of Ebenezer raised $2,228.67 on their recent day.

The Westport Center is featuring arts and crafts, waltz demonstrations, sewing, cooking, ballet and a self defense class.

The club of the Center are the Teen Council, the Pool Club, Pully Pig Tails and the Tots Club.

The Teen Council is made up of hard working teenagers who plan and decorate for their senior dances. The members are:

Vonita Christian, Juanita Price, Virginia White, Carolyn Christian, Brenda Price, Jean Bethea, Maybelle Nicholas, Geraldine Nicholas, Buster Jones, James Nicholas, Paul Lambert, and George Hill 3rd.

The next dance at the Center will be Tuesday, Dec. 2 from 7 to 10 p.m.

* * *

VOLUNTEERS play a great roll in the activities. They are Miss Allen (movies) Mrs. Billings (cooking) Mrs. Lee (sewing) Mrs. Hendricks, (arts and craft) and Clifford Hendricks (self defense class).

A Mothers Club is another of the outstanding clubs that plans and conducts activities to raise money to help the center put over special programs. Members' names will be given at a later date.

The Center is also forming a basketball league and these interested are urged to sign up as soon as possible.

The gym at School No. 223 is open on Wednesday and Thursday nights for this and other activities. Center Director is Mrs. Laura Garrison and James Diggs is leader.

* * *

THE SOUTH Baltimore playground held a can-can dance Thursday at School 106. The admission was a can of food until 9 p.m.

People coming and going, and what they did on Turkey Day

By B. M. PHILLIPS —

Although Baltimore had no traditional Turkey Day football classic here (Morgan was at Va. State,) there were plenty of visitors and parties and family gatherings to mark the holiday.

* * *

Morgan Coach Eddie Hurt missed his first Thanksgiving Day classic between Morgan and Va. State.

He stayed here in Baltimore to be at the bedside of his wife (Bea), who remains ill in Hopkins Hospital.

Morgan coach Talmadge Hill accompanied the team and the college was officially represented by Dean James Nix, Dr. Clifton R. Jones and Dr. Nathaniel Proctor.

Morgan President, Dr. Martin Jenkins and Dean George C. Grant were also among the absentees.

They attended the annual meeting of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools in Atlantic City.

* * *

One of the more fabulous Turkey day dinner parties—and it is every year—was that hosted by Mrs. James T. Gunn (Virginia) at her Morgan Park home. (Mr. Jefferson was the caterer.)

Her guests included: Mrs. Essie Marie Dorsey, Philadelphia; Smart Abbey of Ghana; Mrs. Edith Ranger-Jones, Kingston, Jamaica, houseguest of Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. Folkes.

Others about, Mr. and Mrs. Folkes, Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Nicholas and son; Dr. and Mrs. M. L. Barksdale, their daughter son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Williams and son; Mrs. Fannie Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Roberts, Mrs. Mattie Connor and Dr. Irene Diggs.

* * *

Baltimore Guardsmen, whose Thanksgiving weekend parties have been a tradition here for 25 years, are not holding the events this year.

Reason: the chapter has grown too large and the cost of the two-day affair is prohibitive. Plus the national Guardsmen policy is for six affairs a year with the Thanksgiving weekend parties being held on alternate years.

However, Baltimore chapter members and wives or sweethearts will gather — on Saturday evening at a closed dinner affair — at the beautiful new Morgan Park home of Dr. and Mrs. William Garner.

* * *

Also on the agenda this weekend: The Neptune Yacht Club's cocktail party on Sunday evening at 8.

It is set for the Famous Ballroom.

Carl White is commodore of the club. Chairman of arrangements committee: Wallace Hall.

* * *

Mrs. Nancy B. Armstrong, 1412 W. Lanvale St., had ja for Sunday dinner her mother, Mrs. Susie Jackson, and her sisters, Mesdames Laura Lampkins, the beautician; Mrs. Lula R. Dukes, the wife of Sydney Dukes, the bandleader; Mrs. Neva Young, wife of teacher Clarence J. Young Sr. and their son, Clarence Jr.; and Miss Dolores H. Johnson, her niece who is a New Jersey Hospital dietician.

Unable to be present because of illness, was another sister, Mrs. Alease Delhi Thweatt.

Mrs. Armstrong, by the way is saddened because her home and others in the 1400 block W. Lanvale St. will soon be torn down to make way for the new school building slated to be erected in the Harlem Park Urban renewal area.

* * *

The A. Jack Thomases (Anita) had the usual Turkey Day dinner party at their Glen Burnie home.

About were her sister, Mrs. Blanche McRae, and Mrs. Theresa Waters, Margaret and Edgar Ewing and John and Ethel Rich.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Cheeks are hosting her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Smith and their son, Richard of Homer, N. Y., and William Westbrook of Syracuse, N. Y.

Mrs. Inez Aldrich and two sons of Del. State College are holiday guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Carter.

Dr. and Mrs. Julius Taylor (Patricia) and children spent the holiday with her brother, Judge and Mrs. Theodore Spaulding in Philadelphia. It was the annual gathering of the Spaulding clan.

* * *

Dr. and Mrs. Martin H. Rodney (Olga) had in for Turkey Day dinner — Dr. and Mrs. Louis E. Harmon and Dr. and Mrs. Eddie McDaniels.

At the home of Dr. and Mrs. Orris Walker (Llewellyn), it was like old home week, what with several of the dinner guests marking birthdays around this time.

His mother, Mrs. Annie Walker of Govans was a Thanksgiving Day baby. Also, another guest, Mrs. Marie Johnson, recently observed a birthday, as did the Walkers' teenage son, Orris Jr. (they call him 'Jay') and Joel Clark of Washington.

Other guests, Mrs. Clark, and the children; and Willis Hyman of Annapolis.

* * *

Father Cedric E. Mills, St. James PE Church was the minister this year who offered special Thanksgiving prayer at annual AFRO meeting of employees.

The five-minute stop for prayers started back in the days when the newspaper office was open on Thanksgiving and is continued now on the day before Thanksgiving.

The Rev. William Jeffries, member of the AFRO staff, read the scripture.

Museum taking entry cards for exhibition

Entry cards for the Maryland Regional Artists Exhibition to be held at the Baltimore Museum of Art from Feb. 1 through Feb. 22, 1959, are now being accepted, it has been announced by Mrs. Adelyn D. Breeskin, museum director.

The exhibition is open to all artists born or now residing in Maryland, Delaware, or the District of Columbia.

Entries will be restricted to original work designed and executed entirely by the entrant. They may not, with the exception of one - man shows and rental gallery exhibitions, have been exhibited at the Baltimore Museum of Art. In addition, no entry may exceed 53 inches maximum width including frame.

* * *

THERE is an entry fee of $1 for each work. Fees are used for jury expenses and for the "best of show" award.

Entry cards must reach the museum not later than Monday, Dec. 15, 1958. They may be obtained by writing to Mrs. Helen Ewald, Baltimore Mu-

SANS SOUCI — The pinochle club was entertained by Mrs. Eva Hawkins of 1927 Franklin St., Tuesday.

Prizes went to Mrs. Beulah Davenport, first; Mrs. Tillie Vincent, second; and Miss Avis Smith, third.

NOUS LES FILLES — The club met Tuesday, in the home of Mrs. Pauline O'Neal, 1429 Poplar Grove St., and made plans for a supper party on Dec. 2, in the Pride of Baltimore Elks' Home.

TOURIN' TURNER STATION

New Shiloh ushers mark their 27th anniversary

By E. S. McDANIEL

The Turner Elementary School PTA's monthly meeting featured a panel on "Do We Hamper Our Children's Growth," which was ably handled by the guidance counselor, Mrs. Jennie Robinson; the school nurse, Mrs. Cremella Fowlkes; and the public health nurse, Mrs. Agnes Williams.

The progress of the Turner Health Committee was discussed by Mrs. Spriggs, one of the parents. Mrs. Bruce, principal, discussed the report cards with the parents. John Williams presided. Robert Lee Abbott is the president.

The Family Life Discussion Group of the Turner Elementary School held a very lively session on last Wednesday with the leader, Mrs. Ruth Riddix in charge. The group of ladies discussed the problem of lying among children.

The next meeting will be held Dec. 17 and the topic will be, "Development of Personality in Children," to be led by Mrs. Freddie Durant, mother of three children. The writer will be on hand to serve in the capacity of consultant.

THE27TH anniversary of the male and female ushers of the New Shiloh Baptist Church was celebrated last Sunday with an overflowing audience. There were churches represented from Baltimore, Sparros Point, Edgemere, Cottage Grove, and other nearby communities.

The sermon was delivered by the pastor, the Rev. James A. Everett, who was introduced by the Rev. Isaac Williams, pastor of the Mt. Pleasant Baptist Church of Baltimore.

Special music by the Senior Choir No. 2 of the church. Solos by the Rev. Mr. Williams and the Rev. Mr. Everett. The receipts totaled $2,168.10. Mrs. Rosa Knuckles and Ernest Colona are the presidents.

George Patterson is recuperating after a brief illness at his home, 115 Main Street.

William Harris of 2034 W. Lanvale St. is seriously ill at his home. He is a member of the Union Baptist Church. You will remember Mr. Harris as the head custodian of the Bragg School in Sparrows Point for many years.

* * *

THE BROTHERHOOD Organization of the Union Baptist held its eighth anniversary Sunday with a literary and musical program. Present were many choirs and choruses. After the program, the men put on their aprons, went into the kitchen of the church and served a most appealing repast.

Three cheers to the Brotherhood. Next Sunday the famous Gospel Chorus of Wayland Baptist Church of Baltimore will feature special music for the Missionary Circle of the Union Baptist Church. Mrs. Hannah Dawson is president and the Rev. Carlton O. Cooke is pastor.

The Joint Thanksgiving Services of the Ebenezer Methodist Church, the Shiloh Baptist Church of Edgemere, and the Union Bipt1st Church were held at the Ebenezer Methodist Church on Thanksgiving with the Rev. Mr. Cooke delivering the message.

The Alumni Association of the Sollers Point High School held a Pre-Thanksgiving Record Hop in the auditorium of the school on Wednesday.

MRS. BARBARA JENNINGS, wife of William Jennings, formerly of 751 N. Avondale Rd has been in the hospital where she spent several months following an automobile accident. She will probably have to remain in a cast until January. Barbara's spirits are high after the ordeal that she has undergone.

The family now resides at 2908 Bateman Avenue in the Windsor Hills section. We could spread a little sunshine in the life of Barbara with a shower of cards or a telephone call, or even a visit.

The AFRO Clean Block Campaign has left a lasting impression on Turner Station. The clean up effort is still in effect. Many of the properties of the community are being put in fine shape.

Painting, new roofing, new side walls, new walkways around properties, new fences and a new building here and there add to the overall improvement of our surroundings.

A little effort on the part of the citizens will make Turner Station a more attractive place in which to live.

Have you seen the smart ranch house on Oak Street adjacent to the Turner Elementary School? It is being built by Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Patterson Sr. of Sparrows Point.

Rev. Melvin J. Key to be cited by Masons

WASHINGTON

The Rev. Melvin J. Key, past grand master of Prince Hall Masons in the District and a charter member, Doric Lodge No. 19 of the Mrsons, will be guest in whose honor Doric Lodge will entertain at a testimonial banquet, Sunday (November 30) evening at 5:30 at Masonic Temple, 10th and U

The banquet honoring the Rev. Mr. Key will be a "thank you" from the lodge and its associates for his leadership of Prince Hall Mas ns in 1948.

As grand master in 1948, Past Grand Master Key led the craft in re-purchasing their temple at Tenth and U Sts., NW, from a local realty firm for $400,000. The D.C. Prince Hall Masons lost their Temple during the depression of the early "30's". The fete will also mark the tenth anniversary of the repurchasing of the temple by the craft.

George W. Browne and Past Master William S. Manning are chairmen of the banquet committee.

They are planning to move in between now and Christmas. How nice to spend Christmas in a new home. Congratulations to the Pattersons.

The community wishes to express deep sympathy to Avon B. Collins in the loss of his father. Mr. Collins is the manager of Day Village.
