4th District winners spent $15,296; losers, $12,540

By MAX JOHNSON

The city's Fourth District Democratic forces spent $15,296.74 for the successful election of its General Assembly candidates, while one unsuccessful candidate in another district spent $1.59 — $1 for a ball point pen, and 59 cents for paper.

A total of $12,540.83 was spent in the interest of the Fourth District's Coalition candidates.

This is revealed in campaign contributions and expenses of candidates in the past General Election, filed in Circuit Court as required by law.

The candidate who listed the $1.59 campaign expense polled 15,000 votes in last place among the General Assembly aspirants in his district — as compared to 43,000 for the top winner.

Delving into the realm of pure speculation, with a mathematical assumption in view, one observer has wondered what would have been the vote-count, had this candidate bought a dozen ball point pens and more paper.

• • •

WELL — to get on to the more complete picture of campaign contributions and expenses.

The Fourth District's Coalition ticket listed receipts of $4,135.69 — and expenditures of $3,982.72.

Largest contributors included these candidates:

State Senator Harry A. Cole —$750; Mrs. Verda Welcome, Emory R. Cole and Daniel Spaulding — $500 each; Mrs. Bertha Winston — $315, and Howard Dixon — $300.

Mrs. Welcome and Mrs. Irma Dixon were successful candidates on the Coalition ticket. However, Mrs. Dixon, who disavowed Coalition support, made no contribution to this fund. She was also supported by the Pollack faction.

The Metropolitan Methodist; Pennsylvania Ave. AME; Zion New Shiloh Baptist; Douglas Memorial; Bethel AME, and Zion Baptist Churches were listed as $100 contributors. Also, Mrs. Lillie M. Jackson.

The Coalition accounting lists a balance of $132.97, with a $500 indebtedness to Womanpower.

• • •

IN THE upper end of the Fourth District — James H. Pandy, POLLACK'S Trenton Democratic Club lists receipts of $10,000 — and expenditures, of $10,000.

This fund was reported to come from contributors who gave $100 each.

Supplementing the Democratic campaign in the Fourth District, was a Fourth District Democratic Headquarters, with Stanley M. Waxman, treasurer.

This organization listed contributions of $4,146.74 — and expenditures of $4,246.74, leaving a deficit of $100.

The Democrats were successful in the election of their slate of General Assembly candidates, headed by Senator-elect J. Alvin Jones.

• • •

ANOTHER organization, the Greater Baltimore Bi-Partisan Voters Association, headed by Bernard K. Rusk, listed contributions of $1,005.66 — and expenditures of $1,005.66.

This group endorsed first the candidacy of J. Millard Tawes for governor, and just prior to the Nov. 4 election supported the re-election of Senator Cole.

• • •

Utopia? No -- Harlem Park traffic plan

An intricate and tremendously effective traffic scheme, beautiful "interior" parks and plenty of stretch-out space for everyone seems like the makings of Utopia.

According to Robert Zimmerman of the Baltimore Urban Renewal Agency. These things will be true-to-life for the Harlem Park area.

As after-luncheon speaker for the Frontiersmen, Mr. Zimmerman explained the project in detail.

• • •

HE SAID there were "several reasons why the Harlem Park was selected as the city's first renewal area."

Explaining his reasons, he said that although it was not a "bad area," it was going downhill. There was "considerable stability," — many families had lived there all their lives.

• • •

AND THERE were families of both low and high income brackets. These things are needed for the success of a renewal area, he said.

• • •

IN PLANNING Harlem Park, he said Urban Renewal sponsored numerous surveys to find what sort of facilities were already available in the area and what sort were needed.

"We found most of the area used for residential purposes; few commercial buildings but there was a lack of recreational facilities."

He said for an area that size — 200 acres, 40 city blocks, 5,500 families and 19,000 people — at least 36 acres of play space were needed but Harlem Park has only 11 acres.

The traffic situation will be handled in a most unique way, he said, to divert thoroughfare traffic from the residential streets.

Thoroughfare traffic will move around the border of each three-square blocks. All of the inner streets will take one-way traffic.

Cars will loop around the three-square residential streets in the pattern of a four-leaf clover.

Homes on the "interior" streets (small streets, alleys, sideways) will be removed and replaced by parks and recreation areas.

Harlem Park area is bounded on the north by Lafayette Ave., Mulberry on the south; Fremont on the east and Monroe on the west.

900 block Arlington gets multiple housing

The Board of Municipal and Zoning Appeals on Tuesday approved requests to house six families at 906 N. Arlington Ave., and to locate five families at 908 and at 915 N. Arlington Ave.

Also approved was a request to house three families at 1036 N. Central Ave.

An application to locate a private school and four roomers at 2432 Madison Av. was withdrawn.

This coming Tuesday, the Zoning Board is scheduled to hear requests to house seven families at 1127 N. Fulton Ave., and three families at 622 N. Mount St.

In Memoriam 1

TOLSON — In loving memory of my dear mother, MINDELL, who passed away December 7, 1943.

Nine long years have passed since that day,
Not ever will you be
As long as life and memory last,
I will remember you dear mother.
Your loving daughter,
MONZELLA HOWARD

Card Of Thanks 2

BAILEY — The family of the late MARY E. BAILEY wishes to express its many thanks for the cards, flowers and other gifts received during her long illness and sympathy expressed during our recent bereavement.

Our burdens were lighter because you remembered us.

May God ever bless you.
THE FAMILY

REDD — I wish to thank my many friends, neighbors and relatives for cards, floral designs, kindness and sympathy expressed in every way during my recent bereavement at the passing to my son, DANIEL B. REDD.
Mother,
MRS. ESTELLA REDD.

WILSON — Words cannot adequately express our sincere thanks and appreciation for the numerous acts of kindness, expressions of sympathy, visits, donations of food, cards, telegrams, floral tributes and use of cars during our recent bereavement, at the passing of our beloved son, MELVIN WILSON. It is our prayerful hope that God will answer the kind deeds in His response and call-to-aid as has been displayed by our friends and neighbors when they are confronted with a similar situation. May God bless each of you.
