mation on the Winter Class schedules by registrar Miss Mary L. Allen.

A new idea for a Christmas gift is a YWCA gift certificate for a YWCA class or workshop. Call Miss Allen, MA. 3-6443 for information.

Miss Rosalind Allen is chairman of the members council; Miss Ann Howard and Mrs. Effie Weatherly are party co-chairmen.

FEELING BETTER, THANK YOU

Dr. Carl J. Murphy, AFRO president, is due home this weekend. He's been at Hopkins Hospital these last two weeks.

Dr. Dwight O. W. Holmes has already left Hopkins' Hospital, is now recuperating at his home, 2355 W. North Ave.

Still at Hopkins is Thayer's Mrs. Eddie Hart (Beatrice) wife of the Morgan State College coach. But, she's improving.

Also home from Hopkins—the AFRO's Mrs. Reginald Holcombe, 133 Etheldred St., who is recuperating from injuries suffered when her car struck an island.

THE ANNAPOLIS Elite Social Club has developed a theme for the Appreciation Tea to be given Sunday, Dec. 28 from 4 to 7 p.m. honoring five of the town's outstanding women.

The event will be at Carver Hall, one of the nation's most historic hotels in Annapolis.

Honored will be Mesdames Eloise Richardson, Malla Hardesty, Helen Snowden, Emma Stepney and William Tate.

Mrs. Hattie Parker is Colonial 8-3620, Annapolis, is accepting subscriptions.

Kappa Alpha Psi men are holding open house at their new headquarters, 1207 Eutaw Place on Saturday evening will also install officers.

MISS JOAN DISTANCE

Annual concert set at Douglass tonight

This evening (Friday, Dec. 12) the Bureau of Music will present the free annual Winter Concert in the auditorium of the Douglass High School at 8:30 o'clock.

This will be the final concert of the 1958 season for the famous Baltimore City Orchestra and Baltimore City Chorus.

The soloist for the evening will be the Baltimore soprano, Miss Joan M. Distance, who is studying at the Peabody College of Music, has appeared in many concerts in Baltimore, an the eastern part of the country.

She has also appeared on television and radio. Critics have applauded her fine stage presence and her excellent voice.

The Baltimore City Orchestra with be directed by James O. Jones and the Baltimore City Chorus will be under the direction of Almira Miller.

HARRISON M. DODD, the permanent conductor of those two groups is now home from the hospital after a siege of illness and it is hoped he will be back next year.

A most interesting program has been arranged for this concert and will be as follows:

Baltimore, Our Baltimore, Hemberger; Finlandia, Sibelius; Menuet in G, Beethoven; Silent Night, (traditional); Jesu Bambino, Ayon; Fantasia composed and played for the first time by James O. Jones, director of the orchestra, L'Amour Toujour L'Amour, Friml; Love Is The Wind, Mitchell; Roses of Picardy, Haydn; Rise Up Shepherd, arr. by Wilson; Go Tell It On The Mountain, arr. by Smith,

A Trumpeter's Lullaby, Anderson; I Wonder As I Wander, arr. by Niles; I Want Jesus To Walk With Me, (traditional); Victor Herbert's Favorites Herbert; The Star Spangled Banner, Key-Smith.

CATONSVILLE NOTES
