

was more than I could do to keep up my payments and repair the place and meet all my other expenses too. So I thought probably I could better myself, I don't know, that remains to be seen.

Q Who holds the mortgage on your place?

A Home Owners Loan Corporation.

Q Are you unable to take care of the repairs to the property?

A I felt I was unable to, yes.

Q Are you working, Mrs. Bishop?

A No, not at the present time. I may have to though.

Q Can this property be divided between you and your daughter?

A As far as I am concerned it can be.

Q What I mean, can you divide two-thirds of the property to your daughter and one-third to you?

A Well, I suppose it can't be any other way, can it?

Q I mean divide it physically?

A Oh yes, she is perfectly satisfied. That is what I meant, as far as I am concerned, and I know she is satisfied. I talked it over with her.

Q She is 14? A. Yes.

Q She is willing for it to be sold?

A She is willing.

Q You couldn't divide the property itself into one-third for you-- you couldn't separate the property by dividing one-third to you and two-thirds of the property to go to your daughter without loss or injury to you and your daughter?

A Well, I don't know just what you mean.

Q You couldn't saw the house in parts?

A I don't see how that would be. That would ruin everything. Couldn't do that.

Q It is your view that the best interests of the child as well as yourself could be best served by it being sold?

A I think so, because I feel in probably a couple months' time I can build something that will suit us better than this
