Groom, 83; bride, 77, take wedding vows here

WASHINGTON

More than 60 years ago two youngsters met as schoolmates in the town of Shelbyville, Ind. Last week they were married here in Washington at the home of the bridegroom's son. He is 83 and his bride is 77.

The bride is the former Mrs. Lizzie Allen of Shelbyville and the bridegroom is Alfred Taylor, father of James H. Taylor, 2208 16th St., NE. The elder Mr. Taylor resides in Wilmington, Del., where he and his new bride will live after a brief honeymoon in Shelbyville.

• • •

A RETIRED railroadman, Mr. Taylor first met his bride after he moved to Shelbyville from his native Virginia. They were casual friends but each later married and went their separateways.

Both marriages lasted over 50 years, but she was widowed six years ago and his wife died two years ago. During the marriages, the couples had remained in each other's acquaintance.

After both their mates succumbed, Taylor and Mrs. Allen renewed theishr m m m ln renewed their old friendship and marriage resulted.

• • •

THE WEDDING, held last Monday, was attended by close relatives. They were the bridegroom's sisters, Mrs. Bessie Petties, Miss Alberta Taylor, both of Elizabeth, N.J., and Miss Minnie Taylor of Baltimore; a niece, Mrs. Daisy Talley of Elizabeth; and Mr. and Mrs. James H. Taylor of the 16th St. address, here.

Mrs. I. C. Reddie, wife of minister, is buried

Funeral services were held for Mrs. Martha Reddie; 78, wife of the Rev. Issac C Reddie 2141 Division St. Wednesday at Macedonia Baptist Church.

Mrs. Reddie died last Friday while visiting her daughter Mrs. Helen Goodman in Brooklyn, N.Y.

The Rev. W. L. Clayton, pastor of Macedonia, officiated at the services.

Born in Essex County, Va., Mrs. Reddie moved to Baltimore at an early age and joined Macedonia where she has been a member for over 55 years.

THE DAUGHTER of the late Mr. and Mrs. Richard Roane, she was a member of such organizations as the Nazarites Order, Household of Ruth and the Missionary Society.

She is survived by her husband, the Rev. Isaac Reddie; a sister, Mrs. Fannie Wilmore of Philadelphia; two daughters, Mrs. Helen Goodman, New York; and Mrs. Mary Rankin, Baltimore; and two sons, Emerson Reddie, New York; and Milton Reddie, New Mexico.

Harry L. Katz, former magistrate

Funeral services for Harry L. Katz, former traffic court magistrate and important figure in the Republican Party in Maryland, were held Thursday afternoon from a funeral home in the 1100 block W. North Ave.

Mr. Katz was found dead on a couch in his law office in the Fidelity Building Monday evening by a charwoman. He was 53.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Edith T. Katz; a sister, Mrs. Fannie Kaplan, and three brothers, Gilbert, Sylvan and Herman Katz.

Mrs. Florence Hill Stewart, 79, Falls Rd. Church secretary, buried

"I like to remember her as I knew her full of energy, full of devotion, and above all the very epitome of modesty itself.

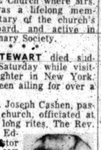
"We should emulate her life, emulate that virtue, modesty, — whatever you have to do, do for the love of the work itself rather than for credit, she has left us that legacy."

The Rev. J. M. Cox, presiding elder of the Baltimore Conference AME Church was speaking Wednesday afternoon at funeral services for Mrs. Florence Hill Stewart, 79, 901 Warwick Ave.

The funeral was at Falls Road AME Church where Mrs. Stewart was a lifelong member, secretary of the church trustee board, and active in the Missionary Society.

MRS. STEWART died suddenly on Saturday while visiting a daughter in New York. She had been ailing for over a year.

The Rev. Joseph Cashen, pastor of the church, officiated at the hour - long rites. The Rev. W. N. Edward, pastor emeritus of Mt. Ararat Church, offered the prayer. Music was by the church choir with Mrs. Mildred Bryant at the piano.



In his eulogy, the Rev. Mr. Cashen recalled: 'Sister Stewart was a good Christian woman who had faith in God's words and relied on His promises . . . she was a loving mother and friend. She loved her church and her minister. Many times we received her words of comfort and encouragement.'

To the relatives, and friends, he added: 'You may weep for her, but remember what you lost as a mother, grandmother, friend; is her gain. Be thankful for what He gave you in her . . . bless all who bought her . . . cheer and friendship to this departed life . . .'

After the eulogy, the choir sang the deceased's favorite hymn, 'Jesus Keep Me Near The Cross.'

• • •

MOURNERS filled all available seats ofthe small church auditorium and extra chairs which were brought in were not sufficient and some sat two to a chair.

The mahogany casket was surrounded by three dozen floral pieces including a huge basket of white carnations, lilies, mums and orchids from her children.

A native of Montgomery County, Md., Mrs. Stewart was the daughter of the late John and Anna Hill.

She completed her education in the Washington, D.C. schools and taught in D.C. and Montgomery County until 1904 when she was married to Samuel E. Stewart Sr. Mr. Stewart died in 1950.

• • •

OF THIS union were eight children, seven of whom survive. They are: Samuel E. Stewart Jr., a Dunbar High teacher and contractor; John Stewart, contractor; and Marshall Stewart, postal employee, all of Baltimore;

Also, Mrs. Ella Peace and Mrs. Natalie Parr, both of whom are restaurant owners in New York; Mrs. Julia Frye, N.Y., with whom she was visiting at the time of her death; and Mrs. Gwendolyn Hillen of Baltimore, with whom she made her home at the Warwick Ave. address. Mrs. Hillen is placement officer with the U.S. Public Health Service.

Also surviving are nine grandchildren.

Pallbearers were: Earl Parker, Ernest Lee, Louis Scott, Aquilla Scott, Willie Adams and Slamon Merritt. The Arlington Phillips Funeral home was in charge.

Relatives and friends temporied 15 cars for the trip to Arbutus Memorial Park.
