Pearlie's Prattle

By PEARLIE B. COX

Well, follows, we hate to rave in the best parlor chair and even this way, but you've had this coming move on to the dining room to long, long time.

We bachelor gals and widows sip the tea we had brewed for have donned our prettiest, frilliest movies, once or twice to church, frocks, and welcomed you SABBATH after SABBATH, and often and to a Joe Louis fight here or on other days. We've let you sit there. BUT, you did not take us to the PREACHER!

So, since Leap Year is here we're giving you warning now that we aren't going to wait for June when you MAY get in a MARRYING MOOD, but we're going to BATTLE now while yet Jan. year is young! And don't forget, dear brothers, that when we do begin to "shoot" we'll know who the top TARGETS are. And just to prove it, Sonny, we'll list a score or more.

Year after year, we've seen Judge James A. Cobb and ex Recorder of Deeds Jefferson S. Coage dodging poor Cupid's shots. They'll be surely difficult to land, but rumor did have it recently that one of them had met his "Waterloo" (a charmer, too). There's Ambassador Joseph D. Charles of Haiti. On the list too, are A. Langston Taylor, Attorney Aden and James V. Herring.

For lovely lasses, or even for bachelor girls and widows who haven't any qualms against snatching from cradles, there is handsome Elwood Payne, who's smart enough to build anything he sets his mind to. I've seen a new-looking motorcycle that the versatile Elwood assembled from practically nothing but junk; I've seen a cabinet whose shelves are worthy of holding the Bible, Bacon and Shakespeare, no less; and I saw the gas log glow in a fireplace that Elwood had beautified. There's Thurlow Tibbs, who's apt to be a diplomat, and Clifford Jackson, who won much honorable mention during the war. Dulpain Gant, now distinguishing himself in the field of Journalism at Dillard University, New Orleans, La., being the editor of that school's sheet. There's Julian C. Wyche, editor of the Yellow Jacket, school journal at West Virginia Institute, who's almost ready to graduate and show what he knows about newspaper love. There's young Dr. Wilbur Jackson of the well known Mavrite clan; Cadet Edward Howard of West Point.

Let's look the lot over—Dan Monroe, Norman Newman, the Revs. James R. Cannon, Joseph Cater, Herbert Green; Dr. Howard Jackson, Q. B. King, J. C. Dowling and Garnet C. Wilkinson.

There's John Hoskins and Thomas Parks.

There's whole-souled Ollie McDonald, William A. Ryles, George W. McGhee, who is currently in town, having been staying with his daughter in Louisville, since the death of his wife; Richard Brice, Clarence E. Robinson, Arnold Stephens, Leonard Johnson, and Dan Monroe.

Also Albert Dickson, Albert L. Hawkins, Philosopher Alain Locke, Howard G. Davis, Charles A. Cornish, who lives in New York but keeps in touch with Washington; Noble Brooks, Charles Terry, T. Douglass Davidson of U. St., Savannah B. Doute, head of a stenographic unit in the Veterans' Administration.

But why go on? You know many of these and there are hundreds more. So, let's go forth to battle, gals, and exercise the RIGHTS this Leap Year nobly accords us!

Look who's get bookstaf to tell of her trip to the West Indies—Eleanor Foster.

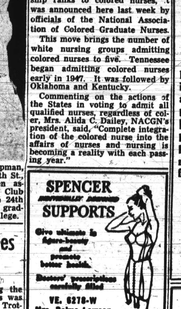
Two States Open Ranks to Nurses

NEW YORK (ANP)—The all-white State Nurses' Association of West Virginia and Mississippi have thrown open their membership ranks to colored nurses, it was announced here last week by officials of the National Association of Colored Graduate Nurses.

This move brings the number of white nursing groups admitting colored nurses to five. Tennessee began admitting colored nurses early in 1947. It was followed by Oklahoma and Kentucky.

Commenting on the actions of the States in voting to admit all qualified nurses, regardless of color, Mrs. Alida C. Dailey, NACGN's president, said, "Complete integration of the colored nurse into the affairs of nurses and nursing is becoming a reality with each passing year."



IN JAPAN—Miss Mary Chapman, Army hostess, of 1019 Seventh St., N.E., Washington, has been assigned to the Army Service Club at Gifu, Japan, home of the 24th Infantry Regiment. She is a graduate of Miner Teachers College.

Apex Head Becomes Mrs. E. L. Pilgrim

ATLANTIC CITY—Among the recent quiet, home weddings was the union of Mrs. Jennie A. Trotman, head of the Atlantic City branch of the Apex School of Beauty Culture, to Eustace L. Pilgrim, resort businessman.

The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's brother and sister-in-law, the Harvey Smallwoods, 233 N. 42nd St., Philadelphia, on Dec. 28. The nuptial knot was tied by the Rev. J. Winnmore Mason, pastor of Allen AME Church, Philadelphia, of which the bride is a member.

The bride wore a blue lame dress, new length, black accessories and a corsage of orchids. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Irene S. Green, who chose a pearl gray gown in new length with black accessories and a rose corsage.

The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Jacques Pilgrim, member of the Atlantic City police force. The Eustace Pilgrims will occupy the family home at 1407 Wabash Ave.

Business Girls of Y Planning for Reunion

The Business Girls' Luncheon Club of the Madison Avenue YWCA met Thursday to plan spring activities and also set aside Jan. 22 for a Members' Reunion and Feb. 12 for a Valentine celebration.

The club's sixth anniversary dance is slated for March 6. On the fourth Thursday in each month, Mrs. Vera Cole of the health and recreation department, will lead "playtime" activities.

The club's purpose is to provide daytime activities for business girls. Miss Irene Thompson is president and Miss Rebecca E. Busch, staff advisor.

Bankses on Tramp Ship Tell of Trip En Route to Africa

DAKAR, SENEGA, West Africa (ANP)—Edward and Henrine Banks of Chicago landed here Christmas Day en route to Monrovia, Liberia, from Paris, on the M. S. Jaarstroom.

By a tramp freighter they are travelling leisurely from the station where both had been serving in services. Mrs. Banks as head of a Red Cross Club and Mr. Banks as manager in a post exchange.

Mrs. Banks said:

"During the last six months we drove through various parts of Europe finally determining to go to Paris. Edward had to go to Switzerland on business and I went to Bad Neubaim, Germany.

"Switzerland was delightful. We remained there two months. We stayed there two three weeks. There were strikes and bad and little food, except for the black market. Everything was very high. There was very little water; but water only on the weekends and then only for a few hours. Lights are on only three or four hours a day. Shops and stores were closed at the will of the clerks and there were three cabinets, changes in government, while we were there.

Bread Lines Numerous

"There were cues for bread and that which the people got was so poor with prices going up every day. We were glad to leave, for anything can happen there.

"Finally we came to Holland to get a boat to continue our journey. We watched the men load the boat. It took them three days to do a day and a half's work.

Artists in Paris

"We did see some good American shows while in Paris. The Nicholas Brothers, the Peters Sisters and Lena Horne. I had never seen her on the stage and after five years away from America, she just took my breath. She really went over big in Paris but she was there during the strikes and the bad times. Night clubs were closed at midnight (! they opened at all. All three shows were good and were at the Champs Eylsees.

"We have been on this ship since Dec. 6. It took us 19 days to get to Dakar. We have had a time. On the ship are two dogs, two small children, 10 adult passengers and 37 crew members. We had two birthday celebrations and are now preparing for Christmas. It has been fun decorating with silver paper from the cigarette packages, cotton and crayon. We expect to be in Dakar several days and then will spend New Year's on the boat also. We expect to arrive in Monrovia Jan. 7, the day the new harbor is to be formally opened."
