CALLING FORTH THE MILITIA.

The following is a copy of the recent bill in relation to Militia and Volunteers as it passed both Houses of Congress:

A BILL to amend the act calling forth the militia to execute the laws of the Union, suppress insurrections, and repel invasions, approved February 28, 1795, and the acts amendatory thereof, and for other purposes.

BE IT ENACTED by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That whenever the President of the United States shall call forth the militia of the States, to be employed in the service of the United States, he may specify in his call the period for which such service will be required, not exceeding nine months, and the militia so called shall be mustered in and continue to serve for and during the term so specified, unless sooner discharged by command of the Pre ident. If by reason of defects in existing laws, or in the execution of them, in the several States, or any of them, it shall be found necessary to provide for enrolling the militia and otherwise putting this act into execution, the President is authorized in such cases to make all necessary rules and regulations; and the enrolment of the militia shall in all cases include all able bodied male citizens between the ages of eighteen and forty five, and shall be apportioned among the States according to representative population.

Sec 2 And be it further enacted, That the militia, when so called into service, shall be organized in the mode prescribed by law for volunteers.

Sec 3. And be it further enacted, That the President be and he is hereby authorized, in addition to the volunteer forces which he is now authorized by law to raise, to accept the services of any number of volunteers, not exceeding one hundred thousand, as infantry, for a period of nine months, unless sooner discharged. And every soldier who shall enlist under the provisions of this section shall receive his first month's pay, and also $25 as bounty, upon the mustering of his company or regiment into the service of the United States. And all provisions of law relating to volunteers enlisted in the service of the United States for three years, or during the war, except in relation to bounty, shall be, and the same are extended to, and are hereby declared to embrace the volunteers to be raised under the provisions of this section.

Sec 4. And be it further enacted, That, for the purpose of filling up the regiments of infantry now in the United States service, the President be, and he hereby is, authorized to accept the services of volunteers in such numbers as may be presented for that purpose, for twelve months, if not sooner discharged. And such volunteers, when mustered into the service, shall be in all respects upon a footing with similar troops in the United States service, except as to service bounty, which shall be $50, one half of which to be paid upon their joining their regiments, and the other half at the expiration of their enlistment.

Sec. 5. And be it further enacted, That the President shall appoint, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, a Judge Advocate General, with the rank, pay and emoluments of a Colonel of Cavalry, to whose office shall be returned, for revision, the records and proceedings of all courts-martial and military commissions and where a record shall be kept of all proceedings had thereupon. And no sentence of death, or imprisonment in the penitentiary, shall be carried into execution until the same shall have been approved by the President.

Sec. 6. And be it further enacted, That there may be appointed by the President by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, for each army in the field, a Judge Advocate, with the rank, pay, and emoluments, each, of a Major of Cavalry, who shall perform the duties of Judge Advocate for the army to which they respectively belong, under the direction of the Judge Advocate General.

Sec 7. And be it further enacted, That hereafter all offenders in the army charged with offences now punishable by a regimental or garrison court-martial shall be brought before a field officer of his regiment, who shall be detailed for that purpose, and who shall hear and determine the offence, and order the punishment that shall be inflicted; and shall also make a record of his proceedings, and submit the same to the brigade commander, who, upon the approval of the proceedings of such field officer, shall order the same to be executed: Provided, That the punishment in such cases be limited to that authorized to be inflicted by a regimental or garrison court-martial: And provided, further, That in the event of there being no brigade commander, the proceedings, as aforesaid, shall be submitted for approval to the commanding officer of the post.

Sec. 8. And be it further enacted, That all officers who have been mustered into the service of the United States as battalion Adjutants and Quartermasters of Cavalry under the orders from the War Department, exceeding the number authorized by law, shall be paid as such for the time they were actually employed in the service of the United States; and that all such officers now in service, exceeding the number as aforesaid, shall be immediately mustered out of the service of the United States.

Sec 9 And be it further enacted, That the President be and he is hereby authorized to establish and organize hospitals during the war.

Sec 10. And be it further enacted, That each army corps shall have the following officers, and no more, attached thereto, who shall constitute the staff of the commander thereof: one assistant adjutant general, one quartermaster, one commissary of subsistence, and one assistant inspector general, who shall bear, respectively the rank of lieutenant colonel and who shall be assigned from the army or volunteer force by the President. Also three aides-de-camp, one to bear the rank of major, and two to bear the rank of captain, to be appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, upon the recommendation of the commander of the army corps. The senior officer of artillery in each army corps shall, in addition to his other duties, act as chief of artillery and ordnance at the headquarters of the corps.

Sec. 11. And be it further enacted, That the cavalry forces in the service of the United States shall hereafter be organized as follows: Each regiment of cavalry shall have one colonel, one lieutenant colonel, three majors, one surgeon, one assistant surgeon, one regimental adjutant, one regimental quartermaster, one regimental commissary, one sergeant major, one quartermaster sergeant, one commissary sergeant, two hospital stewards, one saddler sergeant, one chief trumpeter and one chief farrier or blacksmith; and each regiment shall consist of twelve companies or troops; and each company or troop shall have one captain, one first lieutenant and one second lieutenant and one supernumerary second lieutenant, one first sergeant, one quartermaster sergeant, one commissary-sergeant, five sergeants, eight corporals, two teamsters, two farriers or blacksmiths, one saddler and wagoner, and seventy-eight privates; the regimental adjutants, the regimental quartermasters and regimental commissaries to be taken from the company officers: Provided, That vacancies in the company officers of this organization shall not be considered as original, but shall be filled by regular promotion.

Sec. 12. And be it further enacted, That the President be, and he is hereby, authorized to receive into the service of the United States for the purpose of constructing intrenchments, or performing camp service or any other labor, or any military or naval service for which they may be found competent, persons of African descent; and such persons shall be enrolled and organized under such regulations, not inconsistent with the Constitution and laws, as the President may prescribe.

Sec 13 And be it further enacted, That when any man or boy of African descent, who by the laws of any State shall owe service or labor to any person who during the present rebellion has levied war or borne arms against the United States, or adhered to their enemies by giving them aid or comfort, shall render any such service as is provided for in the first section of this act, he, his mother and his wife and children, shall forever thereafter be free, any law, usage, or custom whatsoever to the contrary notwithstanding. Provided, That the mother, wife and children of such man or boy of African descent shall not be made free by the operation of this act except where such mother, wife and children owe service or labor to some person who during the present rebellion has borne arms against the United States, or adhered to their enemies by giving them aid or comfort.

Sec 14 And be it further enacted, That the expenses incurred to carry this act into effect shall be paid out of the general appropriation for the army and volunteers.

Sec. 15. And be it further enacted, That all persons who have been or shall be hereafter enrolled in the service of the United States under this act shall receive the pay and rations now allowed by law to soldiers, according to their respective grades. Provided, That persons of African descent, who under this law shall be employed, shall receive $10 per month and one ration, $3 of which monthly pay may be in clothing.

Sec. 16. And be it further enacted, That the Medical Purveyors and Storekeepers shall give bonds in such sums as the Secretary of War may require, with security to be approved by him.

COMMENTS OF THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE.

In publishing the above, the New York Tribune says editorially:

We print this morning an accurate copy of the act just passed by Congress for calling out the militia. It provides that the President may, at need, cause to be enrolled and put in service for a period not exceeding nine months at one time, all able-bodied citizens between 18 and 45 years—the number to be apportioned among the States according to their representative population; that in addition to the men he is already authorized to raise, the President may accept 100,000 volunteers for nine months, and every such volunteer shall have his first month's pay and a bounty of $25 in advance; that to fill up the existing regiments, he may accept volunteers for twelve months, who shall have $50 bounty, one-half in advance, the other half when their time of service is up; that the President may establish and organize army corps at his own discretion; that a permanent military tribunal shall be established, and no sentence of death or penitentiary imprisonment shall be executed until approved by the President.

The organization of army corps and cavalry regiments, so far as relates to number and grades of officers, is specified in the bill. But the great feature of the law is the authority given to the President to employ slaves for constructing intrenchments, performing camp service, or any other labor, or any military or naval service for which they may be competent; and that when any male slave, who owes service to a Rebel or to any one giving aid and comfort to the rebellion, shall have been employed or done service for the Union, his mother, wife, and children shall forever thereafter be free, in case they owe service or labor to any person who has borne arms against the Union or adhered to or aided the Confederates. It won't take the news long to penetrate to every cotton plantation and rice swamp in the South, that service to the Union cause emancipates the wife, the child, and the decrepid old mother; and when the fact is fully understood, there will be a movement more dangerous to the rebellion than all the bristling bayonets and iron-clad gunboats at the President's command.

THE STEAMSHIP BERMUDA.—Though two or three months have elapsed since the prize steamer Bermuda was brought to this port, the questions growing out of her capture are still before the United States Prize Court. The testimony of her officers and crew was taken by Prize Commissioner Flanders, and the counsel for the parties claiming ownership of the vessel had it printed. The Court then allowed the counsel time to send to Europe for certified papers which they desired to obtain, and this has caused the delay. In the meantime considerable expense is incurred for wharfage, marshal's fees, hire of watchmen, and other expenditures.—Philadelphia Ledger.

CONTRABAND EXILE.—The colored people of New Albany, Indiana, have been ordered to quit the place.

THE FREEDOM OF THE PRESS PARTIALLY RESTORED.—After an involuntary absence of about three months, during which time we were made familiar with the classic and once not over grounds of Fort McHenry—we again resume, partially, our old vocation of "enlightening the world with lamp-black." Our Prices, being deemed dangerous by the Government, has been kindly limited, and, for the future, instead of publishing "THE SOUTH, or any other paper, without consent of the Commanding General," we shall modestly labor in the humble department of the "art pictorial" of all arts," by executing every description of BOOK AND JOB PRINTING, hoping through that medium to sue aim our services and those dependent upon us and would earnestly appeal to our friends to favor us with their patronage. We have prepared our PRINTING DEPARTMENT to execute all kinds of printing neatly, expeditiously and cheaply, and solicit a call at our old buildings.

Dear Sir—I feel a duty to express to you my sincere acknowledgments of the benefit derived from the use of a package of your MEDICATED TAR DROPS

I was suffering with a SEVERE COUGH and SORE THROAT, when a friend presented me with a package of your celebrated TAR DROPS, and when I used them, I was free to confess it was more to gratify my appetite for sweetmeats than the idea of deriving any good from them; but really, the rapid allaying of the irritation and subsequent entire cure of the cough, induces me to thank you, and I take great pleasure in recommending to the public so effective a compound. Respectfully yours, J. E. SMITH, M. D., Assistant Surgeon Artillery Brigade U. S. A.
