Church Federation Board Okeys Civil Rights Report

WASHINGTON

After serious and extensive study of the report of the President's Committee on Civil Rights, the board of directors of the Washington Federation of Churches met last week and adopted the following statement:

(1) "The Civil Rights Report is a document of such importance to a working democracy that it deserves the most careful study of every American.

We, therefore, commend it to all church groups as material for study and analysis, and as a guide for action in behalf of a truly democratic, Christian society.

Basic Rights Denied

(2) The central concern of this report is the worth of the individual. The report clearly documents the fact that many individuals are denied certain basic rights as citizens and are discriminated against in employment, education, etc., therefore, we call upon our fellow-citizens to work for the full democratic rights of all our citizens.

(3) In the interest of world peace democratic way of life to make deeds more than words, that our actions may fortify our words.

Consistent With Teachings

(4) The recommendations of the report are we believe, consistent with the objectives set forth in the constitution of the United States. They are Consistent with the teachings of the Christian Church.

The manner in which we shall work for the implementation of these recommendations and the manner of timing are of genuine concern to all of us.

In some cases more education is necessary; in others, legislation procedures shall start at once.

Obligation of Nation

It is a moral obligation on the part of our nation to assure such civil rights to all citizens as rapidly as is consistent with orderly procedure.

(5) In 1943 the Washington Federation of Churches adopted a forthright race relations policy directed particularly to conditions existing in the District of Columbia. The board of directors is grateful for the adoption of the report dealing with the District.

Federation Fully Integrated

(6) The board of directors wishes to support the recommendations in behalf of self-government, suffrage and representation in congress.

(7) The Washington Federation of Churches has achieved complete integration of all races represented in the Protestant faith.

Payne Pastor Publishes New Book of Devotionals

The Rev. C. Baker Pearle, pastor of Payne Memorial AME Church, has issued a 63-page devotional booklet titled "Factors in the Lenten Life."

Under this heading are the subjects, "Christ and His Cross," "God and His Mercy," "Man and His Sins," "Faith and Power," "The World and Its Problems," "The Church and Its Fellowship," "Man and His Dedication," and "The Week of Dedication."

The services begin with Feb. 11 Ash Wednesday, and closes with March 28, Easter Sunday.

The devotionals for each of the 47 days include a scripture reference, a brief commentary of 150 to 300 words, a verse from a well-known hymn, and a sentence prayer.

An excellent example of the Lenten devotions is the one listed for Friday, Mar. 19. The subject is "Dedication of Home," and the scripture reference is St. John 1:40-45.

The comment reads: "It is often said that 'Religion begins at home.' The way the first disciples sought their brothers to make them acquainted with Jesus helps to bear out this point.

"Religion is of greatest value when it is workable within the family circle. There is an individual responsibility upon each person which must not be ignored by family worship and dedication is the basic corporate worship that we know.

Begin With Prayer

"Start the day with prayer at the family altar! Begin with God at home: Bring Him intimately into the lives of the members of the family and let Him have the right of way in the home."

The poem is: "Blest be the tie that binds

Our homes in Christian love The fellowship of kindred minds Is like to that above."

The prayer reads, "We give to Thee, O Lord, our homes and our tars upon which we dedicate our families, through Christ, Amen."
