By BLANCH E. HILLEN

Due to the fact that the weather was frightful and the exams too, the crowd kept rather close last week end.

Of course, Gloria Ford and Brenda Lewis kept up a good deal of fun. That was Saturday night. The night before Omega Psi Phi Fraternity gave a scholarship dance at the Center.

The Morgan State College Choir is singing out of this world. If you want to hear heavenly music, tune them in on Wednesday evenings. Dr. Nick Ford, instructor of English, at Morgan, adds the poetic atmosphere. Ruby Patterson and Winfred Creekmore sang solo parts last week.

The group is under the direction of Mr. Mosley.

At "Camers Resort"

Examination week blew in on the campus like the winter blizzard. And it left some as "light as snow" and others as "heavy as the world." At Carter library cease to be a punching spot and became a crammers resort. Saw:

Scatter Watkins, John Croomes, Harry Evans, Archie Lewis, Serlenda Hardy, Angelia Calli, Ray Gray, Howard Payne, Girad Meyers, June Beamus, Geneva Keene.

Bus Young, Buddy Chisom, Mal Hurst, Paul Bond, Calvin West, Lin West, Chris Dalney, Gloria Minnis, Leonard Wilkie, Faye Mayn, Milton Spain.

Precious Skinner, Bob Tyler, Doris West, Bernice Whiting, Mildred Bain, William Walker, Al Sykes, Barbara Carter, Rosa Johnson, Julian Cooley, Rose Marie Fowler and Dan Ami Bruiser.

Orchids to the young women of Cummings Hall, who sent their best wishes for success, by telegram to our Morgan Basketball men before they won over Virginia State. Who knows, that may have decided the final score!

Glad to see that Davis Carter is up and smiling again.

The "PTP" (Part-time-punchers) were in full operation as soon as that Maroon and cream bus pulled away. Everything is back to normal now, but will it stay that way? Till it changes.
