Superintendent to Speak Over WFBR on Sunday

Dr. Leslie Pinckney Hill to Deliver Address During Assembly at Polytechnic

A broadcast by Elmer A. Henderson at 12:15 Sunday on Station WFBR will inaugurate a series of local observances of the 23rd annual Negro History Week in which schools, churches and other institutions are participating.

In addition to special programs with guests speakers, dramatizations, exhibits and music appreciation periods, the schools will integrate the study of outstanding persons in their regular lessons. On Tuesday, at 8 p.m., the adult education division sponsor its second annual Negro History week lecture and assembly at Poly-Tech.

Mr. Henderson technic Institute, North and Guilford Aves.

Dr. Hill to Speak

Speaking will be Dr. Leslie Pinckney Hill, president of State Teachers College in Cheyney, Pa., whose subject will be, "Look Ahead Together." Soloist will be Mrs. Georgia L. Chambliss, while the Morgan State College Choir will sing.

Mrs. Vivian Cook is head of the local school's history week committee which has attempted to sponsor a program of community wide interest as well as to supplement those planned by individual schools.

Recorded concerts of music by Marian Anderson, Paul Robeson, Todd Duncan, the Hall Johnson and Wings Over Jordan Choirs and the DePaur Infantry Chorus will be held at the Enoch Pratt Free Library Branches from 7:30 to 8 p.m. on the following schedule:

Feb. 10—7 to 8:30 p.m., Branch 11, S. Central Ave. and Watson St.; Branch 10, Gorsuch and Kirk Aves.;

Feb. 11—Branch 5, 816 Broadway; Branch 22, Belnoma Ave. and York Rd.;

Feb. 12—Branch 7, Fremont Ave. and Pitcher St.; Branch 14, Barre and Carroll Sts.;

Feb. 13—Branch 1, Fremont Ave.

Committee Urges Area Be Selected

ganizations had been unanimously agreed.

Committee Members Named

The committee included:

Alexander Allen, executive secretary of the Urban League; Mrs. Lillie Jackson and Milton Brown, president and new executive secretary of the NAACP, respectively; George B. Murphy, the Rev. Cedric Mills, the Rev. Willard Clayton and Carl Murphy.

Sitting in the meeting with Dr. Lemmel were Assistant Superintendent Elmer Henderson, and Charles W. Sylvester, head of vocational education.

Druid Hill Site Preferred

In putting the Druid Hill site in the neighborhood of Druid Hill Ave. and McCulloh St., where colored people now reside, as its first choice, the committee said:

"We understand there has been opposition from the Park Board which says no more sites are to be given for school purposes.

"However if Harlem Square were to be used for the site, that is a park area and the Park Board has agreed to relinquish it.

"Since the Park Board has already given up areas in the park for the Clifton Park High School, Eastern High School and Gwynn Falls High School—all white high schools—it comes with poor grace for it to say, now, when the use of park space comes up for the location of a colored school."

Site Injustices Protested

At the present time no colored school has a site larger than four acres. No white high school has a site less than 12 8/10 acres and some of them have as much as 20 acres.

The committee pointed out that since the Park Board has declared it would use no more park space for schools, we have had a new Park Board.

It suggested that the State Board explore this situation with the new Park Board.

The subject raised by the Rev. Cedric E. Mills, rector of St. James Church, revealed that Mr. Anderson was born in Baltimore, June 10, 1890. He graduated from Douglass High School in 1911, and in 1919 earned his bachelor's degree from the University of Syracuse and in 1933 his master's from Protective Association to have the board send a representative to the hearing at which a protest against making McCulloh Street and Druid Hill Avenue or any streets was heard.

The request pointed out that more than 4000 children must cross these streets in order to reach school, and said that the fast traffic on such streets would endanger their lives.

The board refused to protest making the streets becoming one-way thoroughfares, but voted to seek adequate lights, and other protections to insure safety.

most brilliant and useful churchmen; popular, and widely known. He was a man of intelligence, courage, executive ability, strong personality, personal pride, progressive spirit and strong will power."

The pastor recalled that in addition to serving as trustee and superintendent of the church, Mr. Anderson was chairman of the renovation committee which made extensive improvements to the structure two years ago.

Conveys Message

Conveying a message from Dr. George B. Murphy, who was unable to attend, the speaker said, "Mr. Anderson was broadminded, big-hearted and possessed excellent qualities of leadership."

Elmer A. Henderson, assistant superintendent of schools, said, "He was loved by children all through his teaching career. That is the greatest tribute that can be paid to a teacher."

John N. Cotton, principal of Washington Junior High School, with whom Mr. Anderson worked since 1941, recalled that Mr. Anderson was among the first teachers to qualify for junior high school work, and that his entire teaching career had been characterized by efforts to develop the best in his pupils.

Arranged Exchange Meetings

Dr. Howard Long, chief examiner of the Washington schools, spoke of the efforts of the deceased in arranging exchange meetings between teachers of Washington and Baltimore schools, adding,

"He possessed a dynamic personality, a fine sense of optimism, a feeling of genuine selflessness coming from a desire to serve his fellow men."

Representing the Washington School Parent-Teacher Association, Mrs. Hirman E. Smith, avowed, "Mr. Anderson was stalwart, progressive, a true champion of equal rights for all of our children."

Pastor Read Resolutions

The Rev. Arthur J. Payne of Enon Baptist Church, read resolutions from First Baptist Church Sunday School and Deaconess Board; Dr. William H. Lemmel, superintendent of public schools; the Dunbar High School Faculty; and acknowledged 48 telegrams of condolence.

Mrs. Mary Adams, clerk, read a resolution from members and officers of First Baptist Church.

The obituary read by the Rev. Cedric E. Mills, rector of St. James Church, revealed that Mr. Anderson was born in Baltimore, June 10, 1890. He graduated from Douglass High School in 1911, and in 1919 earned his bachelor's degree from the University of Syracuse and in 1933 his master's from the University of Pennsylvania.

Taught 26 Years

Mr. Anderson taught in the local schools 26 years, serving consecutively as teacher at Alexander School No. 112, Douglass High School, and vice-principal of Dunbar High and Washington Junior High Schools.

He pioneered in bringing to Baltimore teachers from the University of Pennsylvania. His action led ultimately to the establishment here of extension courses, by that school and New York University.

The deceased was former president of the School Master's Club; president of the Douglass High School Alumni; a member of several divisions of the National Education Association, Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, the YMCA, NAACP, and a charter member of his church's Booster's Club.

Urged Dunbar Expansion

He was among those educators urging the expansion of Dunbar into a high school. He kept abreast of modern educational trends, and at the time of his death was enrolled in a Saturday class at Loyola College.

Prayer was offered by the Rev. J. Timothy Boddie, a solo by Miss Marcella Gaither, with the Rev. E. Baptist Church Choir sang, and the Rev. F. F. King read the 23rd Psalm. The Rev. H. T. Smith pronounced the benediction.

50 Floral Designs

After the services pupils and teachers from Washington school formed an aisle outside the church holding more than 50 floral designs as the brown metal casket was borne out of the church to the hearse.

Pall bearers were Otho Pinkett, T. Wallis Lansey, Calvin Roach, Sherman Reavis, Gentry McDonald, Allen Collick, Thomas R. Nelson and Frank J. Sorrell. Burial was in Arlington Memorial Park.

Mr. Anderson is survived by his wife, Mrs. Bertha Brewster Anderson; his father, Robert; three brothers, Calvin, Robert Jr., and Sherman; two sisters, Mrs. Edith Jones; several nieces and nephews.
