Man Gets 3 Years for Assault, Taking $100 Bill 'for Fun'

Out of the mumble-jumble of "be cut me first" and "I was cutting him last," Judge Emory Niles emerged, Wednesday, with a three-year sentence for a man whose activities included snatching a friend's $100 bill "for fun."

The story started with the accusation of Joseph Jackson that 33-year-old Thomas Brisbane stabbed him in the head last Jan. 24 after entering his home in the 500 block W. Biddle St.

Jealous Husband

Ernest Perkins, court-appointed attorney for Brisbane, declared that Jackson was simply a "jealous husband who imagines everybody wants his estranged wife," and produced here to support his client's story that Jackson started the fight.

It was after Brisbane was convicted, on charges of assault to murder Jackson, that a second case unfolded in which Alonzo Faulkner of 806 Hampden St., said that Brisbane had snatched a $100 bill out of his hand and fled from a barroom one day.

"Small Change"

Mr. Perkins wanted to know what Faulkner was doing in a bar and waving around a $100 bill, and Faulkner answered, "That's all the change I had." He later explained that he receives a Government pension for a stomach ailment.

In any rate, Judge Niles also convicted Brisbane of larceny when he contended he snatched the bill "for fun," but admitted that he spent it soon afterward.

Committee, will open the convention.

Address to Be Broadcast

James S. Martin, the other co-chairman, will deliver the keynote address, which will be broadcast at 9:30 p.m. Sunday on Station WITH.

Following Mr. Wallace's nomination, the convention will elect eight electors. The platform and nations will be submitted by Dr. J. E. T. Camper and Mrs. Reba Lewis.

The group will chose a slate of 25 officers to the State executive committee. Caucuses from each Congressional district will elect members to the State Central Committee.

Robeson Message to be Read

Messages from Emmet Benson and Paul Robeson, co-chairmen of the National Wallace Committee will be read. Plans for the petition campaign will be outlined by Harold Buckman, secretary of the Wallace Committee.

The convention will adjourn at 6 p.m., with the benediction pronounced by the Rev. E. W. White of Providence Baptist Church.

dence this statement signed in some hieroglyphic scratchings by a man who said he cannot read."

Toilet Slaying Scene

In part, it read:

"I was in the toilet when this man (Boone) came in, and without any reason at all, began beating me.

"I jumped up, took my ice pick and hit him several times. If I could have held him, I would have struck him again.

"I would have killed him. He had no business bothering me and I don't even know him at all."

Bartender Stops Affray

Louis Snyder, white bartender, said Speller had been in the tavern for several hours drinking.

"The first thing I knew I saw him chasing and hitting Frank (with an ice pick," the bartender declared, adding, "I stopped it by chasing Speller out of the place with a chair."

Several other witnesses, relatives unimportant, were introduced and the hearing closed. Magistrate Thomas L. Fitzpatrick ordered Speller held without bail for grand jury action.

severe burns of the face, arms, hands and legs.

The mother, Mrs. Celestine Kates, said she had gone to a neighborhood store when the accident happened.

Man Leaps to Safety

Celon Wise, 36, was burned about the face and suffered a sprained ankle when he leaped to safety from a second-floor window as flames threatened his home at 1362 N. Fremont Ave.

The fire, caused by an exploding stove in Wise's apartment on the second floor, trapped Cornelius Keyes, who was rescued from the third floor by firemen.

Five Others Injured

A minor fire was started at 1311 Woodyear St. Wednesday when the occupant, Mrs. Grace Brown, attempted to thaw out a frozen water pipe in the kitchen of her home.

The day before, Riley Hooks, well-known in night life circles, burned both hands when attempting to extinguish flames in his restaurant at 413 McMechen St. The blaze was caused by hot grease.

Late Tuesday, three women were injured when they leaped from a burning house at 1039 N. Central Ave. During the fire, also caused by a defective oil stove, a young baby was tossed to safety from an upper window.

Banquet Ends Annual Scout Week Celebration

Along with two million other members, Baltimore's Boy Scouts observed Boy Scout Week, climaxing their activities with an annual banquet Thursday night.

The week's celebration opened Feb. 6 and was conducted under the theme, "The Scout citizen at work, in his home, in his community, in his nation, in his world."

Locally, the Monumental District began activities with an "old-timers' reunion" at 1520 Druid Hill Ave., last Friday night.

Mrs. Gray to Speak

On Scout Sunday, the city's 2,051 Scouts and Cubs appeared in uniform, at their individual churches, many of which arranged special services.

Highlight of the celebration was the winner at 6:30 p.m. at the Madison Ave. YWCA.

The guest speaker was Mrs. Edna Over Gray, head of the history department at Douglass High School and supreme basileus of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority.

The dinner was planned by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Monumental, Chesapeake and Southshore Districts, Mrs. Odell Payne, chairman.

ON AFRO BOARD—William I. Gibson, editor of the AFRO-American Newspapers was elected today (Friday) to the AFRO board of directors. He's the first board member not of the Murphy family owners of the paper.

Retail Food Prices Begin to Decline

in price last week were coffee, oleomargarine, porterhouse and round steaks.

Housewives breathe a sigh of relief and will find, at least for the present, that their food dollars will cover some items which have been depleted from their pantry shelves because of their costs.

"If food costs continue to go down I'll have a better chance of making ends meet," said an East Baltimore housewife.

"It won't be long until I'll be able to substitute butter for margarine and get more meat if prices are dropping," said a homemaker in the Northwest section.

A Southside housewife rejoiced at the lower prices, but has already decided to put the extra pennies saved from other commodities toward increasing the weekly milk quota for her family of four children.

Bear Market Starts Slump

The general decline which caused nation-wide attention last week started on the Chicago grain market when a man is said to have sold a million bushels of wheat short just as the grain slump of the year got under way.

It was also reflected in a tumble in commodity futures and wholesale markets, where traders have sold their goods short, at considerably less than the purchase price.

The housewife finds the difference in lower prices in the corner grocery store and meat market.

season, Robinson replied with admirable diplomacy:

"The way the club is now constituted, I don't see how anybody can pick Eddie Stanky around."

Weighs Bonus Bill

While admitting he could "probably do a better job elsewhere," Jackie said he felt satisfied that he would know "a whole lot more" about first base next season.

Jackie repeated his intention to enter boys' work when his baseball days are over. However, he refrained from placing the three-year limit on his active days as he did on a previous occasion. "It may be three years, maybe four, maybe five," he grinned.

In the city to accept an Urban League award the same night, Jackie appeared to weigh about 210, approximately 15 pounds over his normal playing weight.

He was accompanied by his wife, Rachel.
