"Burning Cross" Exposes Evils of KKK

Johnny Larrimer (Hank Daniels) tries to halt Lud (Dick Rich), Klan leader, from torturing and burning to death Charlie West (Joel Fulellen) and his family in a tense scene from "The Burning Cross," Screen Guild Productions' latest release. The picture opens at the Harlem Theatre on March 11 for one week.

'Burning Cross' Is Must for Both Young and Old

The evil workings of the Ku Klux Klan as it seeks to destroy our national unity through its preachmen of intolerance and hate are graphically exposed in Screen Guild's "The Burning Cross," which begins an engagement of one week at the Harlem Theatre, Mar. 11.

This is the first motion picture to treat this vital subject and the results are entirely gripping and thrilling. It represents a page out of today's history . . . a chronicle of exciting reality stunning in its impact.

Only a courageous producer so daring a subject as that of "The Burning Cross" That courage stems from Somerset Pictures, which filmed the story for Screen Guild Productions without compromise or pulling any punches.

A Must for All

What results on the screen is one of the most important pictures of many years . . . from both the angles of entertainment and treatment of a vital national problem.

"The Burning Cross" is the sort of a motion picture that every person who both adult and child who believes in tolerance and a free American way of life . . . is obligated to see.

The film is being sponsored by the Youth Council of the NAACP in co-operation with the theatre.

Advanced tickets are now on sale at the NAACP office, 402 Dolphin St.; YWCA, 1912 Madison Ave., and Fellowship House, 21 W. 21 W. Preston St.

'T-Men' Reveals Startling Facts

A startling feature of the operations of Treasury Department agents in tracking down criminals is shown in "T-Men," power-packed drama based on actual cases from Treasury records, which opens Friday, Mar. 5, at the New Albert Theatre.

The feature, revealed in "T-Men," an Edward Small production released by Eagle Lion Films, is the delicate job of "going undercover" in order to gather evidence, Star Dennis O'Keefe pointed out that few persons realize that it was the Treasury Department which finally brought Bruno Hauptmann and Al Capone to book.

"I didn't know it myself until we started this picture and I had some talks with our technical adviser, Elmer L. Irey, who recently resigned as co-ordinator of the Department," O'Keefe said. "Irey told me that 'under cover' work is always voluntary — agents are never ordered to undertake it.

"T-Men" will make any criminals who see it so jumpy they won't trust their own brothers."

Polio Tenor, 35, Aids Victims of All Races

CHICAGO—Pruth McFarlin, a 35-year-old concert singer who has been paralyzed for 30 years, uses his voice to aid handicapped youth of all races, according to a March Ebony photo-feature declaring he recently raised $10,000 for the Sister Kenny Fund.

Touring the country in an automobile which he drives himself in spite of the fact that he is paralyzed from the hips down, Pruth has donated thousands of dollars of the money concert-goers pay to hear his fine tenor voice to help polio-stricken kids.

Singing from a wheel chair designed by Lionel Barrymore and given to him by James Melton, the singer who is built like Joe Louis from the waist up, also fights racial prejudice and discrimination.

In citing incidents of Pruth's triumph over prejudice, the article says:

"In Twin Falls, Idaho, a local he had never liked colored people 'I don't know why, except I had an idea they were somehow different. But after hearing you sing, my idea about them has completely changed. Any man whose singing can touch me like yours can't be different from me.'"
