Good Cause Ditties Enliven Otherwise Quiet Lenten Days

with Lula Jones Garrett

AWAKE SETIMES to watch morning spread slowly, evenly over the sky, like melted butter upon bread. Reading awhile that mad-making tome "What Men Don't Like About Women," but on to the antidote "Tales for Frails," and so in a workable mood to the news of the day.

CALENDAR STUFF: Promising a fine time with the Mariatses, who will pour cocktails on a Saturday afternoon hence, and looking forward with a lot of hey, hey, to the same evening when the Baltimore Chapter of Girl Friends will hold forth with a cabaret dance—for a good cause, aid to FEPC, their national project this year. This week end the town gang will be off to Washington and the doings of the Guardsmen. John Wood and Vincent Tubbs were in Philadelphia last week for the Quaker City club's (Guardsmen) prom. The Companions will be at tea on Sunday afternoon at Provident Hospital Nurses' Home, and on this Saturday the Civic Women's Cooperative League will hold a conference at Union Baptist Church in the morning and follow it with luncheon in the afternoon. And come Thursday a score or more of the town's women will be in New York where Mrs. Mary Bethune is being feted.

Of course, Tuesday evening is reserved for the Charter Day dinner of Baltimore chapter of Howard University Alumni Association.

POT-POURRI: Ivy Boone, who is tucked in Johns Hopkins yet, though recovering splendidly from her illness. Incidentally, her nephew, D. C. Coleman, has been added to the faculty of the Veterans School here, where he will instruct in auto mechanics. Mrs. Coleman is a trained nurse. In the same hospital is Frances Veseils, who is having a bit of trouble with her eye, and Geneva Woods who jockeyed over to welcome a third daughter to the family. Mrs. Charlie (Thelma) Baltimore of Washington is in St. Joseph's Hospital. And Dr. and Mrs. Wayland Jones have a new bundle. Mrs. Emma Minifie is a patient at Provident Hospital, and Mrs. Sarah Dotson is among those tucked in.

PEREGRINATORS: The Ted Vidals of New York are on the native hearth, for as much rest as friends will allow. Later they will go on to Washington, where they will be guests at the Liberian Embassy. Dr. James A. White whipped off to Miami, last week, to soak up a bit of Florida sunshine. The Stanley Reids were in New York jaunting about the clubs and theatres.

Mrs. Lillie Jackson was called to Philadelphia by the illness of her sister, Mrs. Mary Armstrong.

A post card comes from John Clark, of Washington, who recently hove into New Orleans for the Mardi Gras after a cruise down and past the Caribbean. Tuesday night, I surveyed forth to Washington for the dinner being given the Hon. George H. Sender, Congressman-at-Large from Ohio, and author of the Bill to Abolish the Poll Tax in Federal Elections, at the Statler Hotel. Bumped into the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Smith and the Rev. Mr. Tapscott, who had selected the same train.

Joined Verda Welcome, Muriel Johnson, Mae Downs, Carol Blanton and her beau, Dr. A. U. Forte, at the Statler . . . along with a couple of hundred other guests, including Mrs. Mary Bethune, who was one of the organizers of the sponsoring committee, the National Committee to Abolish the Poll Tax; Mrs. Mary C. Terrell, George Murphy Jr., Congressman Adam Powell, NAACP's Perry Percy Green from Mississippi, Ida Taylor of Washington, Judge and Mrs. Armond W. Scott, Catalina Johnson, wife of Howard's dean of the Medical School, Dr. W. H. Jervis gin, George A. Parker, and the Cleveland, Ohio attorney, James Bowman, who came all the way down for the affair.

Dr. Bethune slaying 'em with her charm, and pulling out another of those hats about which the papers of the country quipped, last week, to top a dinner suit of black crepe, pearls and orchids. Presiding officer Virginia Durr and her cute southern accent being serious about the southern white man being "scared to death" of women of the South and their colored brothers, and teasing them on the score that she was on to their strategy of "sweet talking" folks to death; and Mrs. Marguerite Robinson informing that the Southern Methodist Women's Conference has passed a resolution not to support any candidate who makes racism a part of his campaign tactics.

PARTY DOINGS: Sunday afternoon scores of Baltimoreans sipped tea and enjoyed the music offered by the Stork Club, when they presented the Treble Clef Club of Philadelphia, directed by Madeline Trusty; Evelyn Bass, soloist; William Brown, soloist; Iris Boswell, soloist, and incidental music through the evening by Bernetta Husketh Murray.

Hostesses were Jean Turpin, Evelyn Bass, Mary Oliver, Elsie Robinson, Elsie Dobson, Ruth Broome, Esther Laforest, Irene Tompkins, Olga Parker, Mae Williams, Mary Patterson, Gladys Prestwidge, Charlotte Haskett, Ethel Covington, Catherine Green and Llewellyn Walker.

When Theresa Waters entertained for the Bon Tons, and a gang of guests on Saturday, at one of the swankiest parties of the little season, the prizes were swooped up by Cornelia Hutchins of Philly, Catherine Adams, Pearlie Pennington, and Beatrice Butler, guests; and Ruth Shipley and Virginia Gunn, members.

Other members playing were Blanche McRae, Lillian Berry,

Into New Role

Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Hoyle

Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Hoyle, were married in the rectory of St. Pius Catholic Church, Baltimore, recently. The bride is the former Mary Conley, daughter of Mrs. Madeline Conley of Baltimore. Mr. Hoyle is the son of Pinkey Hoyle of Lawndale, N.C.

Honest, I Didn't Know
USED FATS WERE STILL BADLY NEEDED!

Lady, where have you been? Used fats are needed now more than ever, because the shortage of fats and oils today is the greatest in the world's history. Our government warns us that the supply cannot meet today's industrial needs. You can help prevent this supply from getting too low by continuing to turn in used fats.

You say you re-use them for cooking? Fine! But even the drops left after that are worth salvaging. How about melting down fat trimmings, skimming gravies? Those tricks yield plenty!

And come to think of it, what other kitchen waste can you convert into good hard cash? It's a point to remember, these days of high food costs! You know, prices butchers pay for used fats are up, on the average. So please . . . don't throw fats away. Save 'em, and turn 'em in!
