Gift for the Honoree

Woman Free; Man Blamed for His Death

Factors in a murder case boiled down to the simple deduction, Wednesday, by Judge Herman Moser—

"A man was drunk; he started a fight; so he got killed."

The deduction was also enough to win an acquittal for 48-year-old Mrs. Eleanor Jackson in the fatal stabbing of Peter Lewis at her Vine St. home on Jan. 23.

Frying Pork Chops

Mrs. Jackson told justice that she was frying pork chops when Lewis came into the house with a pint of gin, and started an argument, despite her pleas with him that she was "serving God."

The fact that nobody witnessed the paring knife stabbing, including seven groups led by various religious leaders and ministers. Fellowship and a fun program will follow.

The Rev. Howard L. Cornish, director of the Morgan Christian Center, will deliver the Palm Sunday Message, "Facing Life's Crises." Special music will be offered by the choir.
