Two Years Ago This Month

APRIL, 1946

Tap dancer Bill Bailey joined the Pentecostal Church in Harlem . . . Saint Mahley returned from Europe where she had been busy . . . Lonesome signed a recording pact with Majestic after 11 years with Decca.

The Pete Johnson-Albert Ammons piano team split after seven years . . . Sy Oliver signed as first director of a new Broadway casting bureau of the Mutual Broadcasting System music show . . . Lionel Hampton added Hammond organ to his band.

"St. Louis Woman," starring Pearl Bailey, opened on Broadway . . . Lionel Hampton was playing at New York's Aquarium. Henry Wells replaced Sandy Williams, trombonist, in the Key Stewart sextet.

New Albert Trucolor Film Is Tale of Western Circus Life

The picturesque setting of a western-style circus provides a novel background for Roy Rogers's newest Republic action drama, "On the Old Spanish Trail," in Trucolor, currently at the New Albert Theatre.

Roy plays the part of a young rancher who comes to the aid of the Sons of the Pioneers, who are the owners of a money broke circus known as the "Great Southwestern Tent Shows."

Main reason why the circus has not been doing well financially is that every time it moves to a new town, some crime is committed locally.

Andy Devine has an important comedy assignment as "Cookie Bullfincher," the constable. Also importantly featured in the picture are Estelita Rodriguez, Steve Darrell, Marshall Reed, and Wheaton Chambers.

The supporting film is the sprightly musical, "Copacabana," starring Carmen Miranda, Groucho Marx, Andy Russell and Steve Cochran.

Orchestra-Chorus in First Rehearsals

The Baltimore City Orchestra and Chorus had their first rehearsals on Sunday at Douglass High School for the spring musical festival to be held May 14 at Dunbar High School.

W. Llewellyn Wilson, conductor, expressed pleasure over the results of this first rehearsal and predicted that this concert will be the finest ever presented by the Bureau of Music of the Department of Recreation and Parks.

Sinclair Swan Jr., who will be the tenor soloist, will be making his first appearance with the combined group.

Many are familiar with his fine voice, from his many appearences on both the concert stage, radio and church work. During the war he appeared on about 400 of the service men sponsored by the Red Cross.

The concert will begin at 8:30 o'clock in the auditorium of the Dunbar High School. There will be no reserved seats as this is open to the public and everyone is invited to attend. The program will feature music familiar to everyone.

With Army in Japan

Miss Millicent Wylly of 80 Forest Ave., Englewood, N.J., recently arrived in Japan to assume duties with Army Special Services as a club hostess. A former Red Cross worker on Okinawa.

Concords and Discords

By W. LLEWELYN WILSON

Rehearsals for the concert to be given at Dunbar High School, by the Baltimore City Chorus and the Baltimore City Orchestra are being held each Sunday afternoon at the Douglass High School auditorium. The chorus rehearses until 6, and the orchestra from 4 until 6.

This season, intense interest is being taken by the instrumentalists. Elmer Simpson, recently re-elected president of Local No. 543 of the American Federation of Musicians has urged members of the local to support the organization. At the first rehearsal a 45-piece orchestra was in attendance.

The work which was started a few years ago in the instrumental classes, under the Carnegie Scholarship Fund Grant, is now having its effect in our musical colony.

Adults Showing Interest

Fortunately, many of our adult musicians are doing much to encourage these young players to join the instrumental groups now being developed.

A few years ago some of the best musicians felt that to play in the same orchestra with children of school age, somewhat lowered their status as players. At present the light of intelligence seems to be burning brighter, hence all are moving forward musically.

We now have young musicians who are making much-progress as violinists, violists, violoncellists, flautists, clarineettists, and now the Department of Education is procuring oboes, bassoons, French horns, tympani and other much needed instruments.

All Striving Diligently

The local schools are now headed by Dr. Kenneth Hjelmervik, director of music education here, and William Berg, who is supervisor of instrumental music, are both working to help put Baltimore in its proper place as a music center.

Stanley Williams is doing a great job at both Booker T. Washington Junior High and Douglass Senior High, while William Harrison is assigned at Dunbar High.

These two young musicians have entered wholeheartedly into the work at hand and the results have been particularly gratifying to the pupils, the parents and the patrons of the schools they serve.

They Gave the Applause Meter a Workout

Eddie (Rochester) Anderson, center, joins the Ink Spots during their recent "surprise" appearance on the Jack Benny show in a bit of harmonizing (?). The audience loved every minute of it. Bing Crosby, also a guest, was cut off in the middle of a gag because of the time consumed by the lengthy applause for the Ink Spots.

U.S. Objects to Russ Showing Problem Play, 'Deep Are Roots'

BERLIN (ANP) — The United States Informational Control Department has protested to the Soviet authorities against the unauthorized performance of the American problem play, "Deep Are the Roots."

The protest pointed out that no German performance had been authorized because the copyright holders feared the play would be distorted.

One Berlin paper reported that the play had been banned in the United States, which was denied, as the play ran for about six months in New York. It never played in the South.

"Deep Are the Roots" was presented without permission in Munich last year, it is reported.

This is believed retaliation for the recent presentation in Italy of "Ninotchka," the Greta Garbo movie, which spoofs the Communists. The communists protested against the showing of the film, saying it depicted them untruthfully. However, the film was permitted to be shown.

Artists Listed for Sorors Party

NEW YORK—A "Spring Soiree" party will be given by the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority Sunday from 5 to 8 p.m. at the United Mutual Auditorium, 310 Lenox Ave., for the benefit of the recently established interracial 110th St. Community Center.

Entertainment will be provided by the following artists: Dick Campbell, master of ceremonies; Muriel Rahn, star of "Carmen Jones"; Louise Burge, contralto; Marion Cumbo, string ensemble; Ethel Wise, Helen Phillips, Charlotte Holloman, and Viola Banks, sopranos.

Ushers will be professional models.

FROM THE CAMERA ANGLE

MGM's 'The Pirate' Shows Step Forward in Casting

NEW YORK (CNS)—The press preview last week of "The Pirate," a former Alfred Lunt-Lynne Fontaine successful Broadway comedy, surpassed all expectations in proving that Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer still leads in the film industry for liberal-making pictures.

Their dramatic idea of coupling the world-famous Nicholas Brothers with actor Gene Kelly not only produced good entertainment, but good taste.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Muriel Rahn, concert artist and star of "Carmen Jones," won in an audition of 100 artists held by Alfred Lunt and Lynne Fontaine, the role of Lola in the Alfred Lunt production in the Broadway version in 1942.

The story, filmed in color, takes the setting of a mythical Caribbean Island where Manuela (Judy Garland) is being married off to wealthy Don Pedro Vargas, the mayor of their village, for financial reasons.

The gaily ship brings the egotistical, adventurous Scarfin (Gene Kelly) to the Island with his troupe of clowns, actors and jugglers, among them the dancing Nicholas boys.

After much protesting, Manuela succumbs to Scrafin's exaggerated charms and there in the story plunges into wild action and suspense.

The musical direction, under Lennie Hayton, often reported as Lena Horne's new husband, and the production by Arthur Freed, both who have done much for the success of Miss Horne, rates the true MGM four-star banner. Best numbers were "Nina" song and dance novelty by Kelly, and "Macclavara" by Miss Garland, all Cole Porter music.

The most whimsical scene, however, was saved till the last 20 miles of the film when Kelly, Harold and Fayard Nichols, dressed identically in satin clown costumes and pom pom hats, began falling over the stage, leaping high in the air, sliding sideways—all in perfect precision.

You would've thought there were either three Nicholas Brothers—or three Gene Kellys.

Advice to Singers

NEW YORK — Sarah Vaughan, singing star, came forth with a bit of wise advice this week for young singers

"One of the most important factors in the success of any singer is her accompanist," declared Miss Vaughan. "I believe I am very fortunate in having a superb accompanist in Jimmy Jones, whom I consider one of the finest pianists in the business."

Grandma gave us the secret!

Remember the bottle of blackberry wine Grandma used to bring out now and then? She made it herself . . . and what a wonderful flavor it had! Maybe those days are gone forever, but that good ol' flavor is still with us! You'll find it in Madera's American Blackberry Wine! We follow an old recipe . . . step by step. Only the plumpest, juiciest blackberries are good enough for this wine. Your very first sip will tell you that here is an old-time treat with real old-time flavor. Get yourself a bottle soon. Tastes so good . . . costs so little!
