Mrs. Evelyn Winder Reveals Inside Story

The hardest thing to pry out of Mrs. Winder is a secret. But in this case, she's willing to talk quite freely.

Mrs. Winder was in on this story from the very beginning. She knows every intimate little fact about it. And she's going to take you behind the scenes.

The question is, "Should a girl buy a coat of suit in August?"

Mrs. Winder frankly admits that she used to have her doubts, too. "But since I joined Hendin's Fashion Staff," she says, "and saw how sincerely this August Event is planned, I don't hesitate to persuade my dearest friends to buy their coats and suits before the season sets in."

"To begin with," continues Mrs. Winder, "it's more fun to have first pick. The styles are so fresh and crisp and there are so many sample models included. Then again, Hendin's really go out of their way to give you extra value in August. They know a woman insists on extra inducements before Labor Day, and they certainly do give it to her."

"I may be prejudiced," adds Mrs. Winder, "but, really, I think that Hendin's exclusive Hollywood Fashions in suits and coats are tops in fashion and tops in value. Come in and I'll show you what I mean."
