Victims of 'Worst Wreck' Given Double Funeral Rites

Death Brushes 2 Drivers in Crash

Both drivers narrowly escaped death, Wednesday afternoon, as a truck overturned at Gilmor St. and Harlem Ave., after a collision with an automobile.

Patrolman Anthony Cadden of Northwestern police station said neither driver was injured in the accident.

Both Face Traffic Charges

Summoned to traffic court for a hearing tentatively scheduled for Oct. 1, the drivers were identified as William Edmonds, 31, of 1037 Balaw St., operator of the truck; and Robert Straub, 26, white, of 617 N. Bentalou St., operator of the automobile.

Driver of Ill-Fated Truck Silent on Triple Tragedy

Faced with three manslaughter charges, James T. Payne of Tappahannock, Va., alleged driver of the lumber truck which killed three persons on Pulaski Highway, Monday, maintains his silence at Essex jail where he is held in $3,000 bail.

While police in 14 States searched for him, the 28-year-old suspect strode into Central District police station Monday night, and surrendered to the lieutenant on duty.

Payne was taken to City Hospitals where he was treated for two fractured ribs and lacerations and then removed to the jail for questioning.

He told police that he had had a few drinks at a tavern before starting out of Baltimore, but refused to discuss the accident.

His story supported an earlier statement given by John Scarborough of 419 S. Paca St., who was found trapped in the cab of the truck after the collision.

Scarborough said he met the driver in a Pratt St. tavern, that they had some whisky together, and the driver asked him to ride to York, Pa., and help unload the truck.

Scarborough stated that he fell asleep as they passed the city limits and awoke to find the truck overturned and the driver getting out of the cab.

Payne is charged with causing the deaths of Milton Kafuheer, white of New York City; Miss Dorothy Carter of 1219 W. Lanvale St., and Mrs. Gladys Carter of the same address.

The truck, reportedly sideswiped five cars, then overturned on a sixth machine in which the two women were riding. A seventh car piled into the wreckage. Twelve other persons were injured in the accident which was described by State police as the worst in recent years.

Assistant State's Attorney Kenneth Proctor set Payne's bail and ordered Scarborough held in $1000 bail as a State's witness.

Payne told police that he crawled away from the accident to a field where he fell unconscious and spent the night. About noon, Monday, he said he hitch-hiked a ride to Baltimore where he had dinner with an aunt and then took a cab to the police station.

DRIVER ARRESTED

Total of 17 Injured Improve in Hospitals

Double funeral services were held at 8 p.m. Thursday at 1315 W. Lanvale St. for Mrs. Gladys Carter, 39, and her niece, Dorothy, 24, victims of the Sunday night freak accident on the Pulaski Highway.

Returning from a Sunday visit to Atlantic City, the women were among seven persons trapped in the car driven by Isaca Brown of 1219 W. Lanvale St., which was crushed beneath a trailer truck that had also sideswiped five other cars.

Also killed was Milton N. Kaufheer, white, 31, a New York jewelry salesman, who died as the truck sheared off one side of his car.

Other Injured Persons Improve

Other passengers injured in the Brown car are reported improving at City Hospitals. Mrs. Salome Brown, wife of the driver, who suffered head injuries, left the hospital on Wednesday.

The others were: Brown, Mrs. Myrtle Bromley, 25, of 1315 W. Lanvale St.; David L. Kindell, 23, of 640 W. Franklin St., and Carol Bowen, 12, of New York City.

Witnesses said that the truck, loaded with lumber and traveling nearly 80 mils an hour, first sideswiped an automobile operated by Moe Surowitz, white.

7th Car Piles Into Wreckage

Continuing to careen down the highway, it struck three other vehicles before hitting the Kaufheer car and plunging into Brown's machine, on which it overturned.

Shortly afterwards, a seventh car, operated by John T. Tarafas, white, of Northampton, Pa., crashed into the wreckage. A total of six white persons were also injured in the accident involving the truck and the seven automobiles.

Truck Driver Surrenders

Driver of the truck, who fled after the accident, was identified as John Payne, 28, employee of the L. & W. Transfer Co. of Tappahannock, Va.

Suffering two fractured ribs, he surrendered to police on Monday night, saying he had spent the night in a field nea rthe scene of the accident.

Charged with manslaughter, Payne is in the Baltimore County jail awaiting trial at a date to be determined after the conditions of the persons still hospitalized are definitely known.

Truck Occupant Also Hurt

At the scene of the accident, police found only John H. Scarborough, 32, of 419 S. Paca St., in the cab of the overturned truck.

Also confined at City Hospitals, he said he met the truck driver in a Pratt St. tavern, and after several drinks, agreed to ride to Yrok, Pa., to help unload the truck.

Mrs. Carter, a Western Electric Co. employee, is survived by her husband, William, a B. & O. Railroad worker. The bodies were shipped to Lancastre County, Va., for burial.

The Prince Hall Grand Lodge F & AM, under Melvin J. Key, grand master, bought back the home at a price of $400,000, recently. Mr. Allen said.

Cut $100,000,000 Budget Request, Mayor Demands

Sharply criticizing departments which submitted "imprudent" requests, Mayor D'Alesandro at the Board of Estimates meeting, Wednesday, referred the city's 1949 budget recommendations of nearly $100,000,000 to the budget director for reduction "by millions."

The Board authorized Herbert Fallin, budget director, to confer with department heads and recommend to it a budget for 1949 "with reasonable bounds."

Would Boost Tax Rate

Fallin had told the Board that a granting of current budgetary requests of $97,675,251.29 would mean an increase in the tax rate next year by approximately one dollar. The tax rate is now $2.52.

The Mayor declared, "Baltimore City at this time cannot afford a general fund budget in the neighborhood of $100,000,000, and the tax rate this would require.

"Obviously, some department heads in the preparations of their budgets for 1949 had in mind ideal conditions."

Cut It Drastically

Stating that the situation calls for "drastic cutting," D'Alesandro urged Fallin, if there is any evidence of waste, to "eliminate unnecessary jobs or unessentials, reject all requests for new activities and expansion not vital at this time, and disallow new positions wherever the request is not fully justified."

School Board Highest

Departments with the highest increases were the School Board which asked for an increase of $5,078,136.55; department of public works, $2,736,512; department of recreation and parks $1,151,333; fire department, $1,065,219.67;

Welfare department, $768,000; Enoch Pratt Free Library, $513,406; police department, $466,788; health department, $459,614; and employees retirement system $448,203. Increases for all other departments together totaled $911,741.25.

The figure call for creation of 471 new positions, not including those for the School Board.

The library requests 114 new positions; recreation and parks, 107; public works, 82; health department, 50; City Hospitals, 36; probation department, 18; City Jail, 14; and all other departments inclusive, 44. These would mean salaries totaling $1,165,704.

He was in the NROTC at Purdue and served as an enlisted man in the Marine Corps during World War II.

Passenger Asks $15,000 Damages

Charging that she was seriously injured on April 22 when hurled to the floor of a streetcar as the trolley crashed with an automobile, Miss Reba M. Green of 650 Pitcher St. filed a $15,000 damage suit, Tuesday.

She named as defendants the Baltimore Transit Company and Burton Sirkis of 4347 Park Heights Ave.

Through her attorney, Amos I. Meyers, Miss Green said the accident occurred when the streetcar of Mr. Sirkis's car collided at Park Heights Ave. near Boarman Ave.

Free Vaccination Available at Health Center for Children

Parents may have their children vaccinated free any weekday morning from 9 to 10 a.m. at the Druid Health Center, 1315 Druid Hill Ave., according to Dr. H. Maceo Williams, director.

Certificates verifying previous vaccinations may also be obtained at the same hours. Evidence of a vaccination must be presented before any child is admitted for the first time to the Baltimore public schools which begin on Sept. 14.

These services may also be obtained from the family physician. Dr. Williams advised.

Pastor Accused of Giving 219 Fined $26 as Fortune Teller

"I'm no numbers writer, I'm a preacher. God didn't call me to write numbers."

Thus, "Prof." Henry Brew, 38, of 1228 Madison Ave., ridiculed the lottery charge against him, this morning (Friday) after a policeman said the man advised him to play 219 and demanded an $80 fee.

The lottery charge was dismissed at Northwestern police station, but "Prof." Brew was fined $26.45 for fortune telling, having accepted $10 in marked money from the officer.

Neighbors Complain

Officers said the man's arrest came after a delegation of indignant neighbors went out to the home of Captain Alexander Emerson of the vice squad to complain about Brew's operations.

Officer Griffin Dobyne, a member of the lottery squad testified that he went to see Prof. Brew, Thursday afternoon, reporting that he was in trouble with a girl.

They sat in the study, the officer said, while the professor read the scripture and prayed over him, advised him to play 219 and told him that the fee for this service was $80, with a $40 down payment.

The officer said he didn't have that much money, but Professor Brew accepted $10, which was marked.

Entering the building which serves as a church, a few minutes later, Sgt. Thomas Joyce said he found the professor sitting on a back "pew" counting his money amounting to about $100.

The lottery charge was dismissed when Brew's attorney pointed out that policemen found no evidence to support the charge. But then the retund little professor made a speech.

Calls Self "Spiritual Advisor"

He said he was the pastor of one of the largest churches in Philadelphia, that he had been here only two weeks and that he was a "spiritual advisor" who charged only $3 for his "advice."

"I'm no criminal," he declared. "I've always lived a clean life and I will not be used as a target.

"I'm no number writer, I'm a preacher. God didn't call me to write numbers." Then he told the arresting officer, "Young man, there's a man up above who is going to write your number."

Dollars Going Begging in Local Savings Banks

Believe it or not, there is money amounting to $150,303.24 going begging in the local savings banks. Listed in the 28th annual report of the Bank Commissioner of the State of Maryland are 2,700 unclaimed accounts of more than $5 in eight Maryland banks, which have been dormant for the past 20 years, but are still drawing interest.

During all this time, no deposits have been made nor has any money been withdrawn from these accounts. Many organizations are included among the list of untraceable depositors.

Reported Every 4 Years

Every four years, a report on such accounts is published, giving the names of the depositors; their account numbers and the balance as of the preceding Sept. 1.

There are, for instance, accounts accredited to the Women's Cooperative Civic League of $9.92 in the Hopkins Pl; branch of the Central Savings Bank; the Guards of Liberty, $23.60, and the Colored MP Conference, $30.14, both in the Eutaw Savings Bank.

Also included are the Cloverleaf Pleasure Social, $10.80, Eutaw Savings Bank; the Mulberry Pleasure Club, $8.29, Shiloh AME Church, $13.80; Sweet Violets of Night Circle, $15.31; Tree Huckings Bank of Baltimore, whose depositors are listed by race, follow:

In the Savings Bank of Baltimore are accounts for the Mite Missionary Society of the Colored MP Church, $28.17, and the Colored Improvement Association of Mt. Winans, Md., $22.30.

State Seeks to Get Funds

Through the years, several unsuccessful attempts have been made to legislate the money in these unclaimed accounts to the State.

While the banks make continual efforts to locate the depositors, there is in effect a statute which allows the clerk of any courts in the State to have inactive accounts of unknown owners turned ager to the State treasury after a seven-year period.

I Didn't Rate, Wife Charges

White Bride Wed Only Four Months

WASHINGTON

Swearing that she was forced to take the leavings from the table upon which her husband and his colored domestic worker had eaten, Mrs. Mozelle W. Kelley, white, of 1237 Massachusetts Ave., N.W., last week filed suit in District Court for maintenance.

Apparently in a resentful mood, Mrs. Kelley, emphasized that she and her husband, Allen Kelley, were married just four months ago in Baltimore, are of the "Caucasian race," while the unidentified housekeeper who reputedly upset her marital bliss is of "Negro blood."

In her petition, Mrs. Kelley charged that in the presence of other people the domestic told her that the house was not large enough for two women. The wife packed her things and left on June 23, she stated.

Domestic Main Issue

The major complaint centers around the husband's employment of the domestic who was given complete charge. Mrs. Kelley says that from her meager earnings she was forced to buy most of the food eaten by the husband and the domestic, with whom he reportedly preferred eating at a separate table.

On one occasion, the domestic is said to have told the wife that she would have to eat with the other boarders and eat the food provided by them.

Mate's Income Over $300

The husband is said to earn from $300 to $500 per month in the real estate business, and has an income of $200 per month from the boarding house at 700 Randolph St., N.W., where the domestic reportedly dominates the kitchen and facilities of the home to the exclusion of the wife.

In addition to his income, the husband is said to have cash assets, and aside from permanent maintenance, Mrs. Kelley wants all the costs of this action paid for by him.

Camper Assails Mayor's Inaction

Mayor D'Alesandro was assailed Thursday by Dr. J. E. T. Camper, candidate for Congress in the Fourth District on the Progressive Party ticket and chairman of the Baltimore Committee for Civil Rights, for his refusal to meet a citizens group to discuss the elimination of segregation in public parks.

In the meanwhile, following the refusal of major Baltimore hotels in refusing dinner facilities to an interracial group honoring Henry A. Wallace and Paul Robeson, officials of the Progressive Party have urged action of Republican and Democratic officials.

Platform Pledges Cited

Telegrams sent to Robert B. Annis, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee and Stanford Hoff who holds the same position with the GOP's, stated in part:

"In view of your party platform which supposedly calls for equal rights for all citizens, regardless of race, color or creed, we request that you use full weight of your facilities to all Presidential candidates, regardless of color of guests."

The telegram was signed by James S. Martin and Dr. J. E. T. Camper, co-chairmen of the Progressive Party of Maryland, and Harold Buchman, State director.

Held 'Crazy,' Fined

Said to have "gone crazy" in firing a pistol about the house, with one bullet missing his brother-in-law by inches, James Pulck, 36, of 1132 Druid Hill Ave., was fined $26.45, Tuesday, in Northwestern police court.

His mother-in-law, Mrs. Edna Henry, McIntosh, said Pulck threw the household in a panic by brandishing the pistol and firing at her son.
