Workers' Rally to Launch YMCA Membership Drive

Campaign Formed Along Lines of Baseball Setup, With Commissioner, 4 Leagues

Formed along the lines of a baseball organization, the 1948 YMCA membership campaign will be launched, Sunday afternoon, with a workers' rally at the Druid Hill Y. Some 200 workers are expected to attend.

The immediate goal of the drive is to revive 450 lapsed memberships and to enroll an equal number of new members.

The organization is patterned after the American baseball industry, with a commissioner and four major leagues, the International, American, National and Eastern.

Berry "Commissioner"

John L. Berry is commissioner and head of the drive; J. A. B. Callis is chairman of the board of commissioners, Furman L. Templeton, chairman of the board of investigators, with Dr. James A. White, co-chairman; Houston R. Jackson, chairman of the board of arbitration, with Dr. Evan A. Gilkes, co-chairman.

The drive was planned by Lester M. Suitt, membership secretary of the branch.

JOHN BERRY

At Sunday's meeting the workers will have a chance to get acquainted, sales demonstrations will be made and workers' material distributed. Remarks will be made by Mr. Berry, Mr. Callis and Dr. Gilkes.

Soprano to Sing

The meeting will begin promptly at 5 p.m. Miss Ann Hall, soprano of Metropolitan Methodist Church, will sing on the program.

On Sept. 27, the first of four report meetings will be held. The campaign will close with a victory meeting on Oct. 8, when Gerald Wise of the Central Y will be principal speaker.

The 200-odd workers will compete with each other through the four leagues. William N. Turks is president of the American League; Truly Hatchett, International League president; Addison E. Johnson, Eastern League president; and Raymond A. C. Young, president of the National League.

John McKee, 67, Died Poor Man

Lawyer Who 'Passed' Sought Kin's Fortune

NEW YORK—T. John McKee, 67, Wall St. lawyer, who concealed for 45 years the fact that he was a grandson of the late Col. John McKee, wealthy colored Civil War veteran and Philadelphia real estate operator, then revealed it to claim $800,000 left by his grandfather, died practically broke, it was revealed this week.

His will filed for probate in Surrogate's Court, Manhattan, showed that the lawyer, who died last Aug. 4, left "less than $500" in cash, jewelry and clothes, and no real estate.

Married White Woman

His widow, Mrs. Aimee McKee, of 230 E. 48th St.—one of two white women he married while passing as a white man — was named administratrix. He and his first wife, Anna, of Gilbertsville, N.Y., were divorced in Florida in 1940.

McKee's one-page will was drawn last March 13, three weeks after he filed claim for the fortune of his grandfather.

Prior to his death in a Fort Lee, N.J., convalescent home, he had established to the satisfaction of the Philadelphia Orphans' Court that he was positively Col. McKee's grandson.

However, the court did not rule that he was entitled to the fortune. Claims by other colored relatives in Philadelphia, Washington, D.C., and New Jersey are awaiting a legal ruling.

McKee was the son of Mrs. Abby Ann Syphax, a daughter of Col. McKee. He changed his name to McKee in 1909 after graduating from Trinity College, Hartford, Conn. He later graduated from Columbia University Law School.

Elder and Mrs. Smallwood Williams of Washington were snapped on their lawn just before boarding a plane for New York, where they sailed for Europe aboard the Queen Mary. The Rev. Mr. Williams was winner of the AFRO's "Trip-Around-the-World Contest." Mrs. Williams is a movie camera fan and expects to bring back lots of film on their trip.

Unorthodox Music for Church Services Denounced by Pastor

WASHINGTON

The use of unorthodox music in place of regular hymns provided by the church, was denounced by the Rev. J. A. Arter, pastor of East Calvary Methodist Church, this week at the recent District Conference of the Methodist Church at Jones Memorial Church, 44th and Benning Rd., N.E.

The District Superintendent's report, a pageant, "By His Light Shall the Nation Walk," by the Women's Society of Christian Service and a ministerial popularity contest by the Washington Ministers' Wives Association were conference activities.

Visitors at the conference included the Rev. S. Briggs, former District Superintendent; the Rev. F. F. King, superintendent of the North Baltimore District; W. H. Fletcher, Conference Lay Leader; and G. D. Rawlings of the North Baltimore District.

Painting Auction Set at Princeton

PRINCETON—The annual outdoor auction and exhibition of paintings donated for the benefit of the Princeton Group Arts will be held on Saturday in Palmer Square.

Proceeds from the auction and exhibit will go to the Princeton Group Arts operating and scholarship fund, and a donation will be made to New York's Sydenham Hospital.

Lester Slatoff, auctioneer, has donated his services for the occasion.

REAPING CONTEST REWARD:

Elder Williams, Wife Off on European Tour

WASHINGTON

Elder Smallwood E. Williams, pastor of the Bible Way Church and winner of the Washington AFRO-AMERICAN's "Trip Around the World" Contest, and his wife, Mrs. Verna Williams, Tuesday morning, took off at National Airport on the first leg of a 34-day journey to Europe.

Rather than take by himself the trip around the world awarded him by the AFRO as first prize in the contest, the Rev. Mr. Williams decided to make a trip to Europe, accompanied by his wife, with the proceeds.

About 150 friends and followers of Elder Williams were at the airport to bid the clergyman and his wife bon voyage on the trip that will take them to Great Britain, France, Belgium, Germany, Switzerland and Italy.

Sail on Queen Mary

The popular radio minister and his wife left Washington via airplane for New York, where at 10 a.m. Wednesday, he sailed for Southhampton aboard the luxury liner, Queen Mary.

The couple will arrive in Southhampton on Monday and will go immediately after arrival to London. After spending several days sightseeing in this historic city, they will take the boat-train to Brussels, Belgium.

The travelers, after spending a day in Brussels, will depart on Sept. 25 for Frankfort, Germany, where they will be the guest of Lt. Col. Marcus Ray, administrative assistant to Gen. Lucius Clay, commander of the U.S. troops in Europe.

To Address GI's in Germany

Elder Williams is slated to inspect the installations in that area and address the troops. From Frankfort, the couple will trek to Paris, where they will spend nine days.

After gazing upon the sights of "gay Paree" they will leave on October 4 for Lausanne, Switzerland. They will spend three days exploring the beautiful and picturesque Swiss Alps.

On October 8, the AFRO contest winner and his wife will arrive in Florence, Italy. Three days later they will journey to Rome and also visit the Vatican City.

Nine days later on Oct. 17, the couple will board the Queen Elizabeth at Cherbourg, France, and depart for their trip back to the States.

Pastor Hopes to Rest

Elder Williams was very excited over his trip's possibilities, when an AFRO reporter talked with him Tuesday. "It's my first vacation in 20 years," the pastor stated, "and I am going to take all the rest that I can get. I really need it."

The couple's 17-year-old daughter, Pearl, accompanied them to New York City. Among the crowd witnessing their departure from the local airport was their 19-year-old son, Billy, currently a member of Lionel Hampton's band, who flew in from the band's West Coast engagement to bid his parents goodbye.

Presbyterians Active in Turners Station

The Turners Station Presbyterian Church and its members have planned an extensive program for the coming season.

The director of missions for the Presbyterian Church conducts Sunday services in Turner Homes from 2:30-11 a.m. and also at Ernest Lyons Homes The morning service at Lyons begins each Sunday at 11:30 a.m. and Sunday School there is held at 12:30 p.m.

Last Sunday, more than 18 children under 6 years of age, in addition to the other children, attended Sunday School at Turner Homes office building. The teen-age choir meeting, Monday nights, is in need of a pianist.

A small group is forming a choir which rehearses weekly. Participating are Mrs. Grace Burke, Mrs. Lettie Wilson, William Smith, Mr. Dorothy Haines, Wayland Wilson, Dr. James Burke, R. Riley and others.

Directing the group is Miss Annie Edwards, with Mrs. Milton Brown serving as accompanist. Their initial appearance will take place near the first of October.

The Presbyterian Guild resumes activities on Thursday, at 73 Avondale Rd.

Spiritual Harmony Wonders, better known as the McNeil Singers, will appear Sunday, Oct. 3, in a song fable at the Ernest Lyons Recreation Center. They will be assisted by the Young Sisters.

Walter White's Life Published Sept. 24

"I am colored. My skin is white, my eyes are blue, my hair is blond. The traits of my race are nowhere visible upon me."

These are the opening sentences of Walter White's auto-biography, "A Man Called White," which will be published by Viking Press on Sept. 24.

The Male Animal

—in the great outdoors

They say it all began with a man called Adam, but where it will end, no one will even guess.

We do know, however, that ever since Adam aped his wife by taking a bite of that apple, the men have been imitating the women just as innocently as he.

Sure, we know that statement will make the hairs bristle on many a manly chest, but consider the facts—

Nylon trunks under sexy-looking beach robes, well-trimmed tootsies peeping from "new look" sandals, sun tan oil gleaming on coats of tan and fancy goggles of bathing beauties, anyway!

If the men haste upon contests of pulchritude among the women, it is only fair to make a fair exchange. If a woman will have to take off to attract attention to the distaff side.

And to add insult to injury—the gals have to admit that the guys do look good!

Vernal H. Smith Jr. of Cowan, Md., catches a cat nap on the sands at Sparrows Beach. He's taking the complete relaxation, isn't he?

After a swim, Richard Campbell of Towson relaxes.

A nonbathe, Interrick Walter Turner of Washington.

Only The AFRO Has All Three

A Boost for the Barbering Business

Efficiency, Courtesy Air of New Tonsorial Parlors

By RUFUS WELLS

THE QUIET, business-like atmosphere of Nottingham's—Baltimore's model barber shop at 632 Pitcher St.—and other shops here, indicates a change now taking place in tonsorial parlors.

Now streamlined throughout, the two-man colored board of State Barber Examiners, Clarence Jones and Jesse Jones, visited the establishment where service, courtesy and comfortable surroundings are first considerations.

This metamorphosis can be attributed to a recent ruling made by Con. W. Preston Lane, has resulted in a new attitude toward the delivery of barber-making service and the determination of the State Board of Barber Examiners to "clean up the barber shops."

Reason for the "clean up" shops, usually "model" shops, like Nottingham's, is that the operation of a modern barber is the last word in modern-ity, courtesy and efficient service.

Mr. Nottingham has "incorporated in this shop lessons learned during his 26 years of barbering, 17 of which he has operated a shop at 1519 Pennsylvania Ave.

The would-be patron here is greeted by a gleaming, massive overhanging sign. A sign with a gleaming silver overtone, distinct and well-chosen colors and a white-and-blue scheme is carried out in the floor covering, ceiling and walls of the spacious, well-lighted interior.

Nottingham's shop is using silver-tone ceiling and walls for two reasons.

"Modern in Design

"The operation of a shop," reveals the proprietor, Mr. Nottingham, 40-year-old master barber, is the last word in modern-ity, courtesy and efficient service.
