School Board Votes, 4-3, to Publicize Park Loan

After a three to four vote against co-sponsoring the drive to aid in publicizing the proposed Park Loan, the Board of School Commissioners reversed their action in closed session, Thursday.

The body issued the following statement, Thursday night:

"Recognizing the close relationship between the School Board and the Department of Recreation and Parks, which is recognized by the City Charter, and further recognizing the fact that we are dependent upon the Department of Recreation and Parks for the provision of many facilities for physical education and recreational activities of the children.

"We waive our rule and grant the request of the Department of Recreation and Parks that we cooperate with them in the distribution of literature supporting the proposed Park Loan."

To Back Increased Pensions

The board also agreed to aid in a move to increase pensions for retired teachers, and to consider an exchange of sites with the Department of Health, allowing the ground at Bethel-Jefferson, Orleans and Bond Sts., to be used for the proposed East Baltimore Health Center.

The lot bounded by the streets had been ear-marked for an elementary school. John W. Lewis of the business department said that his department would be willing to consider a swap providing a plot of equal value was offered in exchange.

Okey Mrs. Burgess' Retirement

Other items acted upon included accepting the offer of the International Business Machines Company to open its instructional facilities to public school pupils. The courses will be given under supervision of the vocational high schools.

The retirement of Mrs. Ruth W. Burgess, formerly of Douglass High School was formally approved and regrets of the death of Mrs. Edythe B. Clarke, late kindergarten teacher, were inserted in the minutes.

Good Reason for Approving the School Loan

At Top—some of the money from the two-million-dollar Equipment Loan received last year has been used to install new pianos such as the spinet pictured above, in elementary, junior and senior high schools. Mrs. Caroline Carter, teacher of orthopedic children at Wood School No. 176 is shown at the new-style piano that has better tone and pitch.

Below—the million-dollar School Equipment Loan which will appear on the November ballot will provide replacements for such sorely needed school furnishings as the 75-year-old piano shown above. This square piano has a cracked sounding board, the felt is worn, strings need replacement and technicians cannot be found to repair such an old instrument. Mrs. Orangie Epps is at the piano directing the singing of the shop center class of Wood School, No. 176.

Turners Station Group Forms P-TA

More than 300 parents attended Open House at Sollers Point High School, Thursday night, and organized a parent-teachers' association, with the main aim of getting colored representation on the Baltimore County School Board.

They heard Alexander J. Allen, Baltimore Urban League executive secretary, explain the parent's responsibility to the school and the purpose of a P-TA.

It was the first community event to be held at the new million-dollar high school, which is located in Turners Station. The school boasts of the most up-to-date physical plant in Baltimore County.

Temporary Officers Chosen

Mr. Allen, who is also chairman of the Turners Station Progress Association's education committee, presided at the meeting during which temporary officers were chosen for the P-TA.

Charles P. Fletcher, principal of the school, introduced faculty members to the group.

Tenative officers elected were Robert Ford, chairman; and Mrs. Florence Kearney, secretary. The Rev. Harold G. Nixon was chosen chairman of a constitution committee; and Mrs. Joseph Thomas, chairman of a curriculum committee.

In addition to the appointment of a colored person to the lily-white county school board, the P-TA listed as objectives full accreditation for the new high school and the installation of additional equipment.
