AWAIT REFEREE'S WHISTLE:

Fans Pouring in Town for National Classic

WASHINGTON

Thousands of grid fans are pouring into the nation's capital for the football clash between Tennessee State and Wilberforce State tomorrow night (Saturday) at 8:30 p.m., in Griffith Stadium.

The ambitious Wilberforce eleven will undertake the mammoth task of snapping Tennessee State's undefeated record though once tied and simultaneously seek to avenge the 14-7 setback suffered last season.

The contest awaited with feverish anticipation by sports followers is expected to attract 20,000 fans.

Contingents of special trains packed with partisan rooters and fans of both elevens are slated to roll into Union Station beginning early today (Friday). Special motocades starting from Orangeburg, S.C., to pick up football fans en route from the South, are expected to move into the capital steadily all day Friday and early Saturday.

Squads In Workouts

Coach Gaston F. (Country) Lewis's Green Wave, 55 strong is scheduled to arrive at 10 a.m. The squad will be whisked away to Carver Hall where it will remain in seclusion until 1:30 p.m., when the entire team will move into Brooks Stadium for a public workout. Following the workout the Green Wave will go into hiding until the kickoff.

The Tennessee Tigers, 50 strong, led by Coach Henry Kean, are expected at 9:30 a.m. The team will go to Howard University where it will be quartered in the Bisons' newly-erected field house.

Although it is not definite, the squad will trot out for a public appearance at 1:30 p.m., on upper Bannecker field or on the ground adjacent to Bundy School.

Activities Outlined

Saturday night's program will be divided into 3 periods, pre-game, halftime and post-game. The first period, beginning promptly at 6 p.m., will include the "Triumphal March" which will include seven bands, drum and bugle corps and drill teams.

Among the participating musical units will be the American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps, the American Legion drill team, Columbia and Morning Star Lodges of Elks, Armstrong High School and the St. Cyprian Drum and Bugle Corps and drill team.

Several members of the U.S. Olympic team will give an exhibition of running. The entertainers will include Harrison Dillard of Baldwin-Wallace College, 100-meter champion; Alice Coachman, Tuskegee Institute and Albany, Ga., high jump champion and only gold medal winner among U.S. women participants; Mable Walker and Nell Jackson, members of the 400-meter relay team; Audrey Patterson of Tennessee State, who placer third in the Olympic 200-meter event, Emma Reed of Tennessee State who, competed in the broad jump.

Fireworks Slated

The kickoff will take place at 8:30, and during the halftime period, there will be the presentation of princesses, tricks by Sharpe, the "Mad Magician," and marching bands.

Immediately following the game, the entire atmosphere will be climaxed with multicolored fireworks and salute to the colleges in the various conferences.

Classic officials have given 400 certificates of good manners to high school pupils residing in the District and nearby areas. These pupils chosen for their good behavior and consideration for others by schoolmates, will be guests of the officials. They will occupy a section at the stadium, designated as "Good Manners Section."

Awards Listed

The souvenir program committee will present the following prizes to spectators at the classic during the program: Philco radio by the Paramount Company, Suite at the Hotel Theresa in New York for one week with three meals daily, round trip plane ride to New York by American Air Lines.

Birthstone ring by Kent's Jewelary Store, Lord or Lady Calvert wristwatch by Musher's Jewelry Store, six months subscription to a daily paper, three months supply of milk delivered by Chestnut Farms Dairy, three hand tinted portraits by Kay Dee Studios.

Six pair of nylon hose by the New York Dress Mart, Ronson master cigarette case and lighter by Musher's Jewelry Store, and kitchencraft aluminum cooking system by the Capitol Kitchen Craft Company.

Wilberforce Leads

The renewal of Saturday's rivalry will mark the 12th meeting between the two teams. Wilberforce has won six of the previous 11 clashes, and has held Tennessee scorless four times.

The Green Wave amassed a total of 415 points last season an average better than 34 points per game. Tennessee rolled up 298 in 10 games for an average of better than 29 points per contest.

'Force Has Rugged Line

Coach Lewis of Wilberforce lost All-American quarterback, Freddie Hall, but has a scintillating array of fleet-footed ball carriers in Andrew Bibbs, Paul Ford Walters Sellers, William Shields all veteran players, and several newcomers headed by Sidney Parker, AFRO All-High performer at Cardozo for three years.

The Green Wave is banking on a heavyweight line of Verdese Carter, a 225-pound tackle; Adam McCullough, James Clark and Dave Green, all veteran linesmen. The flanks will be manned by C. Payton, former Cardozo performer, and Albert Gilyard, All American end. The center of the line will be bulwarked by Kenneth Blackburn, former captain and veteran of three years service; Leo Gant, Ray Newman, Sheldon Tolliver, seasoned performers.

Coach Kean's Tigers, winners of three of four tilts, having been held to a 6-6 tie by West Virginia State, last week are expected to unleash a wide open running and passing attack with Nathaniel Taylor and Dan Davis the nucleus of the drive.

Davis, a 165-pound halfback from Dayton, Ohio, is expected to provided the punch along the ground with his spectacular broken-field running, while Taylor will provide the sting in the aerial assault.

Of special interest to local fans is the fact that eight Wilberforce gridders are former All-High performers in District high schools. Cardozo will be represented by Alvin Scott, Parker, Payton and Paul Clark. For Armstrong there will be Dan Davis and Adam Scott, while Dunbar will be represented by Sam Lucas and Bull Colbert.

New Form for Grid Box Scores in Use
