All-American Cage League Entry Deadline Set for Nov. 6

Entries for the Maryland All-American Athletic Association's basketball league are pouring in as the Nov. 6 deadline approaches, according to Philip Boyer, chairman of the association.

Already more than a dozen teams have joined the unlimited division of the league and it is expected that other divisions will be increased before midnight Nov. 6.

The Maryland 4-A is an organization that threatens to break down the jim crow sports policy of the city recreation department. It is open to all teams regardless of color.

The 4-A was originally formed under the name of the Committee for Interracial Sports but changed its present cognomen a few weeks ago.

Officers Listed

Mr. Boyer is chairman of the organization, James Crockett, secretary, and Mrs. Adah Jenkins, assistant secretary.

The divisions in the cage league now being formed are as follows: junior division, youths 14 to 16; intermediate, 16 to 18, and unlimited, over 18 years.

Application blanks may be obtained from the AFRO sports department, 628 N. Eutaw St., or from Mr. Boyer at Madison 9155-W.

Among teams in the unlimited division at present are the Baltimore Union Local 8180; United Public Workers of America, Western Electrics, Brown Dots and the Harlem Bears.

Seahawks In Easy Victory; Lead League

Exhibiting a sharp passing and running attack, the Sparrows Point Seahawks made it four in a row by downing the Challengers, 45-0, this week.

The Hawks scored on the first play after the kickoff on a pass from Pitcher Pugh to La Glue Jordon, who ran 44 yards to a touchdown.

Later in the first quarter, Jordon pulled in another.

Two of the best catches of the game were made by Little King and Fullback Bull Winston. King's catch was a shoe-string interception after which he raced 33 yards to score. Winston made a half-twist, one-hand catch of a pass in the end zone. Ends Patterson and Neal also featured in the scoring.

All this did not overshadow the fine job turned in by the Hawks' forward wall, which has yet this season to allow more than six points to be scored by the opposition.

Sunday, the Sea Hawks take on the Jr. Pirates, who are said to be the strongest club in the Junior League.

Hornets Capture 'Touch' First Half

Hornets A.C. captured the first half playoff title of Playground 139's touch football league this week, defeating Somerset A.C., 12-0, in the deciding game.

The two teams ended the season with identical records of six wins and one loss.

In the final contest, the Somersets could not stop Wilbur Trusty, who passed to D. Parker for one touchdown and ran 20 yards to negotiate the other himself.

The second-half will begin on Monday, bringing the Hornets and the rejuvenated Mohawks together.

Trainers Favored to Top Douglass in Annual Tilt

Carver Coach Confident, Duck Mentor Promises Fight in Hughes Field Clash

Winner of their crucial game with Dunbar High School's defending champions last Friday, the Carver Vocational High School gridders eye the hapless Douglass High School eleven for a clincher on the city scholastic title this afternoon (Friday) at Hughes Stadium (Morgan College).

Coach Sedie White, though confident of victory, was unwilling to predict it. Discussing the upcoming contest early this week, White told the AFRO:

"This group of mine is just about the most playful crowd I've ever coached. Yet, when the time comes to settle down, they're always prepared to do so. I can't explain it, but these kids seem to get up for their important games without any great help from me.

"My chief concern is how they will react to being a heavy favorite. In many of our past games, the other fellow has been considered the likely winner or, at least an even choice with us. On Friday, with everybody expecting them to win, my boys may come up with too much confidence."

Coach L. U. (Duck) Gibson, when questioned by the AFRO, while conservative in his estimate of his team's chances, was not the least bit pessimistic.

"We probably don't figure as good as we have been in the past," declared the Duck mentor, "but I promise you that Carver won't find us a pushover. My boys are scrappers and have begun to wake up with last week's victory over Baker. That did a lot for their morale and Carver had better be on her guard when we see them at Morgan.

Carver will be seeking the crown held for the past two years by Dunbar High School. The Poets were defeated last week, 30-0, by the Trainer aggregation.

New 'H' Club Wants Old Grads Back

WASHINGTON

Old grads of Howard University, and especially the golden-age veterans of the gridiron, are being urged to attend this year's traditional Howard-Lincoln Thanksgiving Day game for the purpose of strengthening the rejuvenated "H" Club.

A recent letter from Dr. Ferdinand D. Williams, secretary of the General Alumni Association, of Howard, tells of widespread plans to "revitalize" the association.

According to Dr. Williams, it is the plan of his office to use former athletes at Howard as a nucleus for the organization of a strong "H" Club.

Special invitations have gone to the following to be on hand for the Turkey Day game with Lincoln:

Dr. Frank Avant (95), Wilmington, N.C.; Dr. A. McGhee ('85), Atlanta City, N.J.; Dr. (Capt.) W. H. Washington ('03), Newark, N.J.; Dr. Dwight W. Holmes ('04), Washington, D.C.; Leigh Whipper ('09), Jersey City, N.Y.; Charley Oliver ('08), Annapolis, Md.;

Dr. Fred Durham ('11), Plainfield, N.J.; Dr. Tony Wertick ('11), NYC; Dr. Gene Allen ('11), Phila.; Dr. Jim Lawrence ('11), Phila.; Dr. French Tyson ('11), Charlotte, N.C.; Dr. Cooper ('13), Norfolk, Va.; Dr. J. Dowdell ('13), Georgia; Dr. Ernest Lyons ('13), NYC;

Dr. Perry Bell ('13), Kansas City, Mo.; Dr. Buford Stanley ('13), Detroit, Mich.; Dr. O. Wiggins ('13), Washington, D.C.; Dolly Rodgers ('13), West Chester, N.Y.; George Rice ('14), Richmond, Va.; Dr. Maurice Curtis ('14), Paterson, N.J.

Bethune Homecoming to Feature Allen

DAYTONA BEACH (Special)—The traditional trek of alumni, friends and well wishers of Bethune-Cookman are expected to train, buses, airplanes, and private cars for the annual homecoming, October 30.

The feature of this traditional occasion and a five star attraction, is the big football classic between the undefeated Bethune-Cookman Wildcats, 1947 champions of the Southeastern Conference, and Allen University of Columbia, South Carolina, one of the big four of the strong Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference.

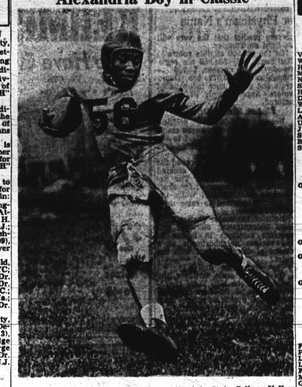
Alexandria Boy in Classic



Oliver Ellis, star fullback of the West Virginia State College Yellow Jackets, who will play before a hometown crowd at Griffith Stadium on Nov. 6 when the Jackets meet Virginia State College in the seventh annual Capital Classic. Ellis, former Parker-Gray High School star of Alexandria, Va., played at Howard University two years ago.

PREDICT 25,000 FOR GRID TILT:

Capital Classic Is Next on D.C. Calendar

WASHINGTON

With fair weather promised by conjecture experts, the seventh annual Capital Classic is ready to complete plans for its greatest effort, Saturday night, Nov. 6, when the top football team of 1948—the unbeaten, untied, unscored-on Virginia State Trojans—comes to grips with a band of gigantic West Virginia State Yellowjackets.

A costly between-the-halves show, offering a torch-carrying pony ballet, a gigantic Trojan horse, a convoy of ten fabulous floats, fireworks, the 80-piece Virginia State Band and the champion Norfolk Booker T. Washington High School Band, both illuminated in a thousand varying colors, and the distribution of $10,000 in prizes, completed the calendar.

Expect Record Crowd

Having attracted over 116,000 fans since its founding, back in 1942, the Classic is preparing to entertain at least 25,000 fans. A special train leaves the Institute (W.Va.), on Friday night, at 10:45 o'clock, and stops at Dover, Stations before arriving in D.C. on Saturday morning. The same train leaves D.C. at 5 a.m. Sunday morning, and the round trip fare is a bargain.

Twelve buses will leave the Virginia State campus early Saturday morning, while five special trains from Roanoke, Lynchburg, Norfolk, Richmond and Petersburg are being organized.

A gala parade, featuring most of the principals of the smart half-time show, plus floats from many outstanding D.C. business firms of both races, will be seen in action.

The famous Norfolk Band, fresh from triumphs that extend from Cincinnati to New York, will be a spectacular feature in the parade.

Trojans Have Great Record

The famed Trojans, sleek in their white silken togs with orange-blue clockings, will attempt to settle their claims for both National and CIAA honors. They are bringing the best record to D.C. that Capital Classic fans have ever known — a perfect record, during their past eight games.

In their last four games in 1947 they beat A. and T., 6-0; N.C. State, 19-0; Morgan, 23-0; Morris Brown, 40-0, and in the first four games of 1948 they topped Bluefield, 14-0; J. C. Smith, 34-0; N.C. State, 13-0; Hampton, 13-0. The recapitulation shows State 171, opponents 0, in their last 8 games.

The famed Trojan defense, steel-strong and owl-wise, was too much for even the Hampton offense to penetrate. In West Virginia State, however, it will be up against a force which, since 1945, has wrecked the best CIAA teams. Only this season, the Mountaineers kicked Howard University out of the 1948 CIAA race, 21-6.

'Jackets Tough

They invaded Tennessee State and tied the Keammen, 6-6, in 1945, they wrecked Morgan, 20-0; in 1946, Virginia State bowed, 19-12, and, in 1947, they scalped North Carolina State, 25-0.

Nothing would please the big Allegheny Mountain team more than to besmirch the "perfect" Trojans. More than 2,000 tickets have been sold in Virginia, and the sales have been almost as great in West Virginia, according to the promoters.

Gavilan Gains TKO Win Over Vinnie Rossano

WASHINGTON

Cheered vociferously by his Latin followers, Kid Gavilan combined speed with a dazzling change of pace and a searing two-fisted attack to halt Vinnie Rossano, Brooklyn welterweight, in 2:6 seconds of the sixth in a scheduled 10 rounder, Thursday night, in Uline Arena.

The verdict, a TKO, was awarded to the Cuban aspirant for Champion Ray (Sugar) Robinson's welter crown by Referee Harry Volkman who took one look at Rossano's battered face and his painful right hand, which was later discovered as broken, and decided he had enough.

Gavilan batted 1.000 as far as the Rossano family was concerned, notching up his third victory over the brother boxers, one over Rocco and two over Vinnie. Although Vinnie went 10 rounds with him earlier this year, he had little chance to stage a repeat performance after jamming his right hand in the first round.

The Cuban dropped Rossano for a nine count with a looping lolo punch to the head in the first round near the former's corner. As Rossano sought to regain his feet, he was observed nursing his right hand in agony, but elected to continue fighting although he favored the injured fist.

Flashing a murderous left hook, weaving and bobbing as he closed in, Gavilan appeared well on his way to a unanimous victory. Working methodically in the third round with Rossano opening up for the first time, the Kid promptly beat a tattoo on his face and body with rapid-fire hooks, right crosses and lolos, opening up numerous cuts on his face and causing his nose to bleed profusely.

From the second round on, it was merely a matter of how much punishment Vinnie could absorb as Gavilan set a terrific pace lashing out with all the pent-up fury in his fist as he outclassed and out hit his opponent. Rossano made a game try in the fifth, but he was wanting in both punch and class as most of his punches, looping and round house rights whistled harmlessly over the Cuban's head and shoulders.

The fight, which would have been a successful drawing card for either the Tournament of Champions or the 20th Century Club, attracted a disappointing 1244 fans who contributed a gross of $3,061.39 with a net of $2,159.22. Colored patrons, still expressing their anti-Uline feelings, contributed less than 10 per cent of the gatherings.

The preliminary card was fair. Rufus Berry, 175, decisioned Joe Flood, 174. Julian Keene, 164, having been knocked out by Johnny Holt in 2:54 of the second round at Turner's Arena on the previous Monday night, returned to the ring with only three days of rest, to decision Noval Gaddis, 160. Both were four rounders. Local fans are wondering why the Boxing Commission okayed a bout for Keene after he was kayoed only three days previously.

Dunbar in Washington for Battle With Cardozo

WASHINGTON

The heated South Atlantic Conference scholastic grid race simmers down to a cooling point with only four teams going into action including a single tilt slated today (Friday).

Coach Sal Hall's Cardozo Clerks will face Dunbar of Baltimore in Brooks Stadium at 3 p.m. in the only conference tilt slated today (Friday). Then on Wednesday, Dunbar of Washington will cross Douglass of Baltimore at Brooks Stadium at 3 p.m.

The Purple and White Clerks, after being extended to gain a narrow 7-6 verdict over Dunbar of Washington last Wednesday, will have the dual purpose of maintaining their undefeated record stretching over six years as well as their unscored upon record in four games thus far this season.

Improving after a slow start this season, Dunbar of Baltimore is to none, here Thursday night.

geared to contest the locals down to the wire, as was attested in their 13-6 win over Phelps after bowing to Armstrong, 18-12, in a bitter struggle here in Brooks Stadium.

Anticipating an all-out aerial attack, Coach Hall has been drilling his squad rigidly this week with special emphasis on pass defense. Quarterback Leo Miles, Steve Stribice, Herman Baylor and Big Ed Ward Allen are expected to be the nucleus against the visitors' aerial assault.

Lincoln Soccerists Bow to Howard

Battling to a scoreless tie in the first half, Howard University's undefeated soccer team crashed through Lincoln's defense in the third period to tally twice and eke out a 2-1 victory, Wednesday, on the Bison's athletic field.

The Lions, fielding a rugged starting eleven, succumbed to a strong pressing attack in the second half, but mustered enough drive with the aid of a penalty to tally their lone score in the final period. Forward W. Blake and Halfback J. Clarke tallied the Bisons' two points. Halfback B. Crawford accounted for the Lions' lone score.

The Howard booters will meet Bloomburg (Pa.) teachers, in an interracial contest, Nov. 5, on the Hilltoppers' athletic field.
