'Estranged Church' Rejoins AME Group at Dedication

Bishop Nichols Presides at Ceremony Welcoming Return of Greater Bethel

NEW YORK (ANP)—A prominent in the AME church was set here Sunday when Greater Bethel, under the pastorship of the Rev. Jacob Anthony Forlock, with 900 members, "taking a walk" from the main body more than 24 months ago, reaffiliated itself as a member of the AME parent body.

The church was dedicated Sunday by Bishop D. Ward Nichols of the First Episcopal district, assisted by the Rev. Charles W. Walton, presiding elder of the Manhattan district; the Rev. Jessy Jackson, pastor of St. John AME, and Rev. Hughes.

Other pastors taking part in the general dedication services were the Revs. A. Chester Clark, presiding elder of the Long Island-Brooklyn district, G. N. Davis, presiding elder, Buffalo district, M. E. Jackson, Newark, member of the first district's finance committee, and Rev. Portlock.

Bishop Gives $101

Before the closing exercises of the dedication program, Rev. Portlock turned over the mortgage, sales deed and certificate of incorporation of the church to Bishop Nichols, which made Greater Bethel a part of the Episcopal district and subject of the parent body.

During the morning services, Bishop Nichols preached the sermon and helped in the congregation's offering of $202.70, half of the amount being a check given by the bishop himself who promised the 400 in the congregation that for every dollar given, he would give a similar amount personally.

The various church societies and individual members contributed $902 in the morning's services, and later in the afternoon dedication exercises gave another $250.23, making a total for the day of $1355.95.

Chicago U. Drops Unfair Queries

22% of Colleges Pose Similar Questions

CHICAGO (ANP)—In an effort to make its non-discriminatory admittance policy more of a reality, the University of Chicago announced last week that it had dropped the picture and discriminatory questions from its application blanks.

Dean of Students, Robert M. Strozier, said that the results of a recent survey by the Chicago Council against Racial and Religious Discrimination, the Women's Council for Fair Educational Practices, and the student paper caused the change.

22% Has Such Queries

This report revealed that 22% of the higher educational institutions asked five or more discriminatory questions in their application blanks. The student newspaper, the Chicago Maroon, brought it to the attention of the dean about three weeks ago that U. of C. was listed in this group.

Pictures on application blanks have been eliminated immediately. Questions that could lead to discrimination will be eliminated by the summer of 1949, Dean Strozier said. These questions include those on race, language spoken in home, mother's maiden name, parents' birthplace and etc.

Mr. Young is secretary of the Baptist Ministers Conference of Washington and Vicinity.

Hawaii Wants Law Against Discrimination

HONOLULU (ANP) — The Honolulu Record in a recent editorial advocated passage of "a law against discrimination because of color." Following a recent investigation of discrimination in some Hawaiian bar rooms, the newspaper declared:

"Discrimination is not a new disease in Hawaii, regardless of what present-day pollyannas may say . . . it has affected Chinese, Japanese, Koreans, Filipinos and colored Americans. It is an ugly truth that haloes (whites) have been chief spreaders and carriers of the disease and never its victims.

Apes Dixiecrats

"In the South, where racism has been an evil growth for generations, jim crow is slowly but truly taking a beating in spite of all that the Dixiecrats can do. But here in Hawaii jim crow, almost unknown a few years ago, grows stronger.

"Research work done by the NAACP and the Hawaii Civil Liberties Committee proves that discrimination exists not only in privately owned establishments, but also in the city police force.

Stricken in January, the Rev. Mr. Johnson was unable to continue his pastoral duties. Because of illness he retired from the Washington Annual Conference during the last session.

At his bedside when he passed were members of his family and the following devoted friends: Rev. and Mrs. William Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. George Albert Johnson.

Funeral services were held at Sharp Street Methodist Church on Monday, November 8, with Rev. F. F. King, Supt. of the North Baltimore District presiding.

Among the speakers were Bishop A. P. Shaw, who before going to North Carolina delivered a very stirring tribute in which he said "Rev. Johnson was loved, because he was lovable." Another fine tribute was made by the choir of Mt. Zion Church, which came here from Washington, D.C., to sing at the funeral.

The funeral program was planned by the deceased during his illness.

The Rev. Mr. Johnson was received into the membership of the Washington Annual Conference in 1911, at Lynchburg, Va. and served the following appointments:

From Ames to Mt. Zion.. At this great church improvements were made on the church and the membership was increased. New furnishings were put in the parsonage. Plans were made for further progress.

The theme for all his work was: "Darkest hours doth shine before the dawning; Silver lining shines on God's side of the cloud. All-your journey He has promised to be with you. Naught can come to you, but what His love allows. Then, Have faith in God! The sun will shine, though dark the clouds may be today. His heart hath planned your path and mine, have faith in God, have faith always."

College Founder Lauded as Segregation Opponent

DURHAM, N.C. — Dr. Mordecai W. Johnson, guest speaker for North Carolina College's first annual Founder's Day observance here last Wednesday, paid tribute of the institution who died Oct. 6, 1947 as "a great, outspoken segregationist to the segregated pattern of life in the South."

Dr. Johnson predicted that regional schools will never become a reality because no one is seriously working to bring them into existence.

He prophesied further that if they should be established, citizens of China, India, Russia and Africa will no longer be led by a nation which after 250 years of Christianity and democracy still will not trust itself to sit in its highest institutions with men of color.

A Change or Else

"In the next 20 years we shall either open the doors of white institutions, of higher learning or the moral center of gravity will be moved out of the Western hemisphere," Dr. Johnson asserted.

Duke Auditorium was the scene of the special services and featured special music by the college choir.

Tribute was paid to the memory of North Carolina College's first president and founder by Capus Waynick, chairman of the institution's board of trustees. The Rev. Miles Mark Fisher, pastor of Wiley Rock Baptist Church, was in charge of brief graveside services at Beechwood Cemetery.

Baha'is Celebrate 131st Anniversary

Movies of the Baha'i gardens and shrines in Palestine, at the local Baha'i Community Center, marked the Thursday celebration of the 131st anniversary of the birth of the founder of the Baha'i religion.

The number of organized Baha'i communities in the United States is now 179, with groups developing in more than 300 other villages and towns.

The Baha'i message summons the individual from "traditional prejudice of race, class and creed and exalts his spiritual destiny as a world citizen, endowed with a mission to contribute to the unification of the human race."
