Provident Plans 20th Anniversary

Celebration to Honor 3 Surgeons, 5 Employees

In observance of its 20th year of operation at 1514 Division St., Provident Hospital will hold a public meeting at Union Baptist Church on Dec. 3, honoring three surgeons and five employees with a total service record of 100 years.

Recently admitted as fellows of the American College of Surgeons are Drs. R. L. Jackson, chief of staff; I. Bradshaw Higgins, and Henry C. Welcome.

Having served 20 years each at Provident are Mrs. Narcissus Pinkney, switchboard operator; Mrs. Edith J. Fields, medical records librarian; Henry Hall, engineer; Mrs. Evangeline Farrell, X-ray technician, and William Campbell, carpenter.

Dr. George B. Murphy, hospital trustee and head of the public relations committee, will preside at the meeting.

The progress made at the institution during the past 20 years will be related by T. Wallis Lansey, trustee president, and Dr. J. M. T. Finney, chairman of the advisory board.

The present and future of the institution, which serves also as a training school for nurses, will be discussed by the superintendent, John L. Procope.

Edward N. Wilson, vice-president of the board of trustees, will make a presentation. Music will be offered by the choir of St. James PE Church, directed by William N. Parrott, and the invocation will be by its rector, the Rev. Cedric E. Mills.

Charles D. Harris, chairman of the administrative committee will offer a solo. Following the meeting refreshments will be served by the Ladies Guild, Mrs. Isabelle Clark, president.

A Slanderous Wisecrack

Two weeks ago the AFRO-AMERICAN carried a critical editorial regarding the educational program Dr. H. C. (Curly) Byrd is pushing at the University of Maryland, is attempting to force upon the State by "boosting" Prince George's County.

Later, we decided against devoting further editorial space either to Mr. Byrd or his remarks about higher education for Negroes in Prince George's County, Maryland. Rather than waste good newsprint on him, we felt, the State of Maryland, Rather than waste good hopeful areas—the university's board of regents, the legislature and the administration at Annapolis.

But one thing which occurred over the week end caused us to change our mind.

At the $1200 outing which the good Dr. Byrd staged for the question of Ph.D.'s, legislature and their families, he discussed "Among other things, he is quoted as saying, "There are more doctors of philosophy at the University of Maryland than the colleges and universities of the entire state of Maryland."

This wisecrack is as misleading as it is boorish.

First, it requires 19 years of education to produce a doctor of philosophy in any State. Course. Colored Americans have had equality in education in a cruel hoax. In Maryland, there has been only partial citizenship for us, and equality in education is a cruel hoax.

Look at the University of Maryland, with its tremendous public closing its doors to graduate and professional education equality has come about.

Obviously, then, this only about Ph.D.'s comes with poor grammar, but it has and is, participating in this great educational hypocrisy.

Under such circumstances, when he boasts of having more colored philosophy at the University of Maryland than the words show up the smallness, yes, and meanness of America, the

Consider, secondly, how Dr. Byrd came to the doctor's degree. Contrary to Who's Who, he is not the holder of a doctorate of philosophy from the University of Maryland in 1906. But if Who's Who is wrong with the unearned doctor's degree which Dr. Byrd

Consider, thirdly, that the purpose of a doctor of philosophy degree is to produce a point where the doctor is able to perform original research.

What original research has the University of Maryland produced in Can the larger number of Ph.D.'s at the University of Maryland Hopkins?

Isn't it a fact that with all its State money and all its Ph.D.'s versities in the United States?

Finally, doesn't it come with poor grace that a football coach who has secured a college presidency by way of a political philosophy" . . . all?

The Sun's Sound Proposal

On Monday of this week, the Baltimore Sun carried an editorial on "Safety in the Parks" which, in part, said: "Accidents in the parks, of course, are not the responsibility of the Board of Recreation and Parks but it does have the effect of constant annoyance to golfers, the colored-and-white-days

The editorial points out that in addition to being a source of constant annoyance, golfers, the colored-and-white-days

In the past, golfers have courses it losing money for the city. Golfers have complained about the dollars and cents

But from the Sun's editorial, this is an the Park Board policy is costing taxpayers

Finally, the Sun expressed an opinion that ought to be adopted by the better-thinking people of the city:

For the Sun concludes that it is time for the Park Board to make a change in its policy as in the past the public golf courses have been segregated. Negroes have been relegated to all-Negro golf courses, "giving attendance figures of the Negro golfers to the Board of Recreation and Parks put its new schedule into effect. The editorial points out that in addition to being a source

Now, that it's all over, we should like to see the Sun, the Board of Recreation and Parks, its golf

The suggestion is sound and we should like to see it implemented.
