Jacquet Platter Fools Listeners

NEWARK, N.J.—Hit tune, pop-ular disc-jockey who spins the platters on the "Musical Caravan" nightly via Radio Station WAAT, was about given up the idea of try-ing to convince his radio listeners that a copy of Illinois Jacquet's RCA Victor record, "The Popular Moon" doesn't have a broken groove.

Whenever Cook plays the Jacquet platter, he is deluged with phone calls from his listeners who insist that he is playing a broken record. To attack that way, too, because toward the end Jacquet keeps blowing on one riff, giving the impression that the needle has stuck.

Disc-jockey Cook estimates that about "a hundred calls come in about the "broken record" each time he airs it.

Royal Screen Offering

Richard (Big Man) Widmark, the latest "heavy" sensation of the screen, is seen above with Ida Lupino in "Roadhouse," the action-thriller now on the screen of the Royal Theatre.

Committee to Hold Initial Meeting

An Urban League committee workers in responsible positions in industry, will hold its first meet formed for the purpose of placing more technical and professional jobs tonight (Friday).

The meeting will be held at the Urban League office, 2404 Pennsylvania Ave. at 7 p.m. Miss Lucile Worford, industrial field worker, is organizing the project.

WALLACE BEERY STARS IN TECHNICOLOR FILM

It's a hilarity high when Wallace Beery does a hip-breaking rumba with the Latin bombshell, Carmen Miranda, in "A Date With Judy."

Deep River Boys Clicking Anew

NEW YORK—The Deep River Boys, who have long been one of America's favorite singing groups, have finally come into their own with their newly-released RCA Victor recording of "Recess In Heaven," which is breaking for a smash hit in every section of the country.

That the Boys have hit the jackpot with their platter of "Recess In Heaven" is indicated by the fact that the nation's disc-jockeys have tabbed it as a surefire hit, as a result of which RCA Victor has made the record the "National Special" for November.

The Deep River Boys are currently appearing at the Chez Club Bagatelle in Manhattan's exclusive East Side environs, and have had their engagement extended at that spot for another four weeks. They're scheduled to embark upon a nationwide theatre and concert tour shortly after the first of the year.

Morgan Teacher to Give Recital

Isador B. Oglesby, lyric tenor, and music school staff member at Morgan State College, will appear in recital on Dec. 14 at Union Baptist Church, 1210 Druid Hill Ave.

The singer will be supported by the Selective Star Chorus, composed of leading soloists of 12 church choirs directed by Henry Pitts, and the senior choir of Union Baptist Church, directed by Houston R. Jackson.

Stage Personalities Entertain at Natal Party for 'Fatha' Hines

The top personalities in theatre and nightlife circles turned out at the Royal Theatre at midnight Wednesday to help Earl (Fatha) Hines and his wife celebrate their first wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Hines is the former Janie Moses of Philadelphia where the couple was married on Nov. 17, a year ago.

Appearing with "Fatha" Hines in the Royal Theatre show were Louis (Satchmo) Armstrong, Jack Teagarden, Sid Catlett, Barney Bigard, Arvell Shaw, Velma Middleton, Janet Sayre, Lewis and White and the Two Zephyrs, all of whom were counted among the party guests.

Presiding at the refreshment table which held a huge anniversary cake, Mr. and Mrs. Hines received many gifts, including a cock'ail set from members of his orchestra.

With Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong was their toy bull terrier, "General Armstrong."

Also seen about were Vernon Hutchins, Redd Foxx, Goodcake Gamby, Doris Rheubotten, Bea Booze, Betty Logan, Delores Brown, Alma Galmore, Busier Johnson, Barbie Fields, the Orioles, Eula Ross, Mildred Beads, Buckey Curtis, Sam Wood, manager of the theatre, and the theatre employees.

Music Concert to Take Holiday Air

The concert to be presented by the Bureau of Music at the Douglass High School auditorium on Dec. 2, will be in keeping with the holiday spirit, it was announced by Earl F. Forman, acting superintendent, this week.

The Baltimore City Orchestra and Chorus under the direction of W. Llewellyn Wilson is rehearsing every Sunday for this concert, which will feature Mareda Gaither, 17-year-old soprano as soloist.

Starting time is 8:30 p.m. and admission will be free.

Betti Mays Back at Rendezvous

NEW YORK—Appearing at the Elk's Rendezvous Cafe here last week as guest artist on a benefit program recalled to singer and bandleader Betti Mays the time when she was fired from this spot.

Working there as a "drum girl" in a fast-moving revue she broke her toe one night and had to retire to the sidelines. Not wanting to remain idle she came in the next night with her foot bandaged and sang two numbers with the band there, ironically led by Louis Jordan, who later was also learned by owner Johnny Barone to stick to blowing his horn as he couldn't see any future in him as a singer, also.

Proprietor Barone sitting in the rear of his Lenox Ave. bistro called her over and told her that she was a "mighty fine dancer", but as a vocalist she was lousy and would she refrain from singing. But with determination overcoming her, Betti persisted in chirping, with the result that Barone gave her a notice.

Ravens Pass King Cole in Juke Box Poll

NEW YORK—One of the mild surprises of the current season is the rush of the Ravens in the current popularity poll of "Cash Box" Magazine, the "Bible" of the record industry.

In the standings released Nov. 13 the Ravens led the "Best Vocal combination grouping" with a spanking 22,458 votes. Next in line was the King Cole Trio with 20,868.

CPC Studies Housing Plans for Cherry Hill

The City Planning Commission is studying proposals for construction of new housing in that section of Cherry Hill where residents recently defeated plans to establish a commercial amusement park.

Dr. Robert L. Jackson, member of the planning commission, declared that he would certainly favor any housing improvement for that area, but he and other commission members are strongly opposed to any further commercialization of Cherry Hill.

The residents were so well-organized into a co-ordinating committee including some 18 groups representatives that sponsors of the amusement park ordinance withdrew it from the City Council without contest. The area for the new housing is about five acres.

James Parsons and Ernest Kent, students at the Carver Vocational High School, are shown participating in the "Junior Town Meeting of the Air" broadcast sponsored by WBAL at local secondary schools. Their subject was, "Are the Schools Meeting the Needs of the Pupils?"

Theatre Party Held After Dinner at YW

Following dinner on Monday at the YWCA, members of its B. and T. Club formed a theatre party.

Those who attended were:

Misses V. Prentress White, Mary J. Taylor, Mary M. Allen, Margaret Johnson, Elizabeth E. White, Juanita Hall, Beulah Tolson, Mary V. Marrow, Anna N. White, Mildred Waters, Alice L. Larks, Mesdames Bonnie Peasant, Ruth E. Saulsbury, Gladys B. Lee, Mary L. Burke, Ruth H. Mills and Bernita Clayton.

Duke Gets Scroll for Latest Score

NEW YORK (ANP)—Acting Mayor Vincent Impelliterri in the absence of Mayor O'Dwyer presented Duke Ellington with a citation from the city in recognition of his new composition titled "Manhattan Mural."

Mr. Impelliterri recepted from Duke for the city the original manuscript of his suite, "Manhattan Mural," which was premiered at his Carnegie Hall recital. The theme of the composition, according to Ellington, is that of New York City itself —its pulse, its people, and its

Hampton Show Drawing Talent

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (NNPA)—The "Lionel Hampton Show," which is scorching a new entertainment trail across the sunny South, is "breaking in any door" to discover talent to be finally used in a new Lionel Hampton package show that will tour the theatre route.

Already a triple funfest, combining a concert, a show, and a dance, Hamp's big talent search offers the thousands who squeeze in to see and hear an additional spine-tingling feature, as young hopefuls vie for top prizes and a place in spotlight.

The prizes are top jitterbugging couple, $25 cash, and the winning female and male vocalists, $25 each and a guest appearance on Hamp's Mutual network show (Friday nights, 9:30 to 9:55, EST).

In addition, the best talent Hamp uncovers in his nationwide search will receive a scholarship in a leading school, and others who qualify may receive opportunities with the Hampton band.

In N.Y.'s Town Hall

NEW YORK—Edna Ricks, mezzo-soprano, gave her first New York recital Sunday afternoon at Times Hall.
