Working Democracy Can Check 'Isms' – Recorder

"Making democracy work will be the finest antidote to any 'ism' which seeks to make an inroad on the American way of life," the Rev. Marshall Shepard, recorder of deeds, declared on Tuesday at the Frontiers Club.

"The white man is silly in depending on his face for domination. In this time of seething unrest, the colored peoples of the world are becoming aroused" he said.

In the event of a Russian-American military conflict, Africa must be the basis of action, and it is, therefore, necessary that America keep the friendship of Africans.

America Must Act

"A great opportunity is afforded America, with its large colored population, to practice getting along with peoples of a different color.

"The souls of white folks, the future of Western civilization concern us. We as a race, must fight not solely for our own rights, but for the higher destiny of America.

"This country cannot endure meting out first and second class citizenship. Colored Americans must cling to values of justice, brotherhood and peace that will enable us as a country to survive."

The Rev. Mr. Shepard, who is also pastor of Mount Olivet Baptist in Philadelphia, expressed the hope that the 81st Congress would fulfill its destiny and create an atmosphere in which American democracy can develop and become full grown.

American Patriots

Loyalty probes and tests are not the answer to America's problems, the speaker declared. He added that President Truman's Civil Rights program contains fundamentally the same things that are set forth in the Constitution.

He named as our greatest patriots, those people who point out America's shortcomings. They say to America:

"You are going forth on the stage of world leadership; your slip is showing and it's not clean."

Apostles of Peace

The Rev. Mr. Shepard lauded colored newspapers for citing inequalities and injustices and stated that they, like the race which they represent, may be as "apostles of peace, in a time of war."

Dr. Martin D. Jenkins, president of Morgan State College, was admitted to membership in the club.

Guests were Dr. Clifford Jones of Morgan State College, the Rev. Rufus Bond, AME minister from Jones, Md., and John Henderson, statis. Still later he said, "The circulation manager of the Philadelphia, AFRO.
