New Members Join Songwriters Association

PRO AND CON:

N. Y. Critics at Odds Over "Set My People"

By ALVIN E. WHITE

opinions of shows reflect first the critic's attitude and training and second, in practically every instance, the editorial policy of the paper represented.

But they are necessary for newspapers and as a law unto themselves, they attempt to impose upon an unwitting public their opinions and beliefs as the last word concerning things theatrical. Saying all of which to say that John Chapman of the Daily News, has one opinion of "Set My People Free" while Brooks Atkinson of the Sunday Times is at the other end of the argument.

Opinions Differ

Chapman says the play misses fire, there never was an uprising as related in the play, and he slams at Canada Lee's interpretation of a most difficult role.

Atkinson, on the other hand, says it is a fine work and a credit to the producers and that Mr. Lee turns in a marvelous interpretation.

The truth is, Mr. Chapman, like so many of his ilk, should devote more time to reading some of the history of the colored people in this country for his own edification and correct writing. Since "Set My People Free" is a serious drama with no clowning nor hot-foot dance or hip wiggling, it is difficult to see—colored people can act.

The theme of the play, slavery, will not set too well with many folk all too many of whom wish to forget that unpleasant phase of our stay in this land of the free. It did exist—there is no gainsaying that fact—and the fact remains that slaves had ideas on freedom and wanted escape from their bondage and felt so strongly they were not barbtion.

loathe to sacrifice their lives to obtain what they desired.

Colored people should see the play. The Guild did a remarkable thing in staging it.

Benefit Midnight Show to Be Staged at Carver

WASHINGTON

School News

A moving picture show by a representative of the American Automobile Association and a tour of local landmark were used by the Opportunity Class of School No. 131 in social studies.

The class, accompanied by Mesdames Anne Hughes, Martha Thompson and John Mott, visited the Francis Scott Key and Washington Monuments; the Shot Tower, Flag House and Fort McHenry. Clifton S. Murray is vice principal.

The P-TA of Wilson Park, at a recent meeting, made plans for a pupils' Christmas party on Dec. 22.

On Nov. 18, a radio was presented to the school through the efforts of the P-TA. Mrs. Beryl Williams is president, and Lawrence Queen, principal.

2 Get 60-Day Term for Robbing Grocery

Foundy guilty of stealing five chickens and two baskets of vegetables, two men were sentenced to 60 days in jail, Sunday, after a hearing in Northwestern police court.

The defendants, James Peters, 31, of 1446 W. Mosher St., and Tracy Malone, 20, 1128 N. Gilmor St., were accused of taking the loot from a grocery store Saturday night.

Pair Ask $7,500 in Accident Suit

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Williams of 1800 Pressman St. filed suits, Tuesday, totaling $7,500 to collect for damages to the wife in a traffic accident.

Filed in the City Court, the litigations set forth that Mrs. Williams was crossing at Linden and North Aves. on Aug. 23, when she was knocked down by a truck which backed up in violation of a traffic signal.

Owner, Driver Named

The suit is filed against Leon Friedman of 224 Herring Ct., as owner of the truck, and Irvin L. Ellis of 5501 Omaha Ave., as the driver.

Mrs. Williams claims $5,000 for injuries to her legs, arms and back; and Mr. Williams asks $2,500 as a co-complainant.

Store Theft Nets Man 30-Day Jail Sentence

For stealing 10 wash cloths and a pair of mittens from a five-and-ten cent store, Harry Smith, 25, of 928 N. Bond St., was sentenced to 30 days in jail, Sunday, by Magistrate Kozlovsky of Northwestern police court.

Gateway to Gayway

By GEORGE D. TYLER

"The Stroll's only musical bar opened on Thanksgiving Night under the direction of Ike Dixon, COMMUNITY CLUB owner, with a continuous entertainment policy featuring the Jolly Jack vocal and instrumentalist, plus Flink Johnson, "the one-man show," on Solovox.

Completely remodeled and given that new look, most of the work was done by setup contractors.

The new dining room at JONES'S is cozy and attractive. Best in foods can be obtained. Visitors to the lounge continue to enjoy the jam sessions of Melvin Spears and his Mellow Men, the sweet bribing of "Cissy" Cox and intros by Clifton Morris.

The popular Kitty Warren, song stylist, is the special attraction for Wednesday and Thursday, while Bill Swindell's combo takes over each Thursday nite.

New Show Opens

A gala holiday show opened at the AVENUE, Monday night, starring Jean Austin and Peaches Webb, emcee, assisted by Gordon and Gordon, comic duo; Myrtle Wilson, one of the top exotic dancers; Jean Austin and Peaches Webb, canaries, and music by the Avenue Playboys, featuring Saxer William Ross.

The gorgeous glamor gal of sonic copation who recently treked to Elkton to become Mrs. Buddy Bowser, Sara Lou Harris, is back on the Stroll for the second time this year, starring in the current GAMBOL revue.

Others in the show are that funny little man, Rastus Murray, blues-jumping Maude Thomas, femme em cee; Helen Penn and her Peneretes, plus music in the Benben Woods manner by the Ambassadors of Rhythm.

Jackson at 13

Wendell Jackson and his trio, formerly of the Comedy, and Earl O'Mara, singing emcee and comic, also a C.C. favorite, are pleasing the revelers at the CLUB 13. When we do mean crowds. Lil, the barmaid, boasts of 10 years' service with the management.

Between television and music by the Four Ra Ras, the ZANZIBAR offers much that appeals to the strollers, who are cordially greeted by Sol Thurlow and Lucky.

Not all of the gay spots are found on the "main stem" for, one has only to head South to the cozy BERNY'S TAVERN where Jimmy Draper and his combo are a special feature each Wednesday nite. Here the charming Juanita King is mistress of mixology.

Chambers, master of the 88 and Solovox, presents a musical treat each nite at PHIL'S Lounge. Pleasure may be had, too, on a trip East to the SAVOY, where the Four Links opened on Thursday. Wilbur Phillips and his combo are bid forging ahead to be the top local band — you'll hear it in the singing and guitar playing of Rufus Nance.

Bevans as Beau

The ORLEANS'S policy calls for all-star entertainment, Thursday through Sunday, featuring record-setting artist Wee Bee Booze, who recently signed a contract with a new waxing concern; Bettye Logan, beloved local sweetheart of song; and the newest musical sensations, the Three Strikes.

Harold Bevans and his combo race madly between the 13 and LITTLE WILLIE'S where their brand of music is on the beam. Harold as emcee is humorous, clean and clever; and the popular Bogoes for the Lara gal's singing.

On the quieter side one finds such spots as the PRESTON, with its charming Bernice Bass dishing out good service. Carroll Lawson gives the OLDE MILL an air of refinement and enjoyment.

"And—you can't go wrong when you visit the FROLIC, where service by Bert and Vashill is unexcelled. Bernice is back from her vacation to serve bar patrons while Barry and Roy do the mixing.

Incomparable Hospitality

"The smart guys and gals can be found enjoying the incomparable hospitality of such famous niteries as the VILMA and ALHAMBRA. Still there that the SPHINX more to their liking. Here Nat Allor appears in a red shirt that is terrific — but loud.

"The only cocktails offered at the HIDEAWAY by Roy is good service, super quality and fair prices. His staff has been carefully selected and well trained.

Ed (Topa) Guider continues to keep ED'S Lounge running smoothly and in an orderly fashion, with the entire establishment.

"Sailor Joe" Chester is doing fine job on the floor at BERNE'S where Keets does bar chores. Mrs. Berne has just left the hospital following a minor operation. Eddie Lemon, comic em cee and producer, looking ahead to an early stroll booking.

Jack of All Trades

Doc Woingust writes: "Being a bit conceited about my versatilities, I was a bit startled because of the few things you knew about me.

"I am a cornetist, licensed real estate broker, commercial law graduate, magician, em cee, tap dancer, ex-waiter, bellhop and barkeep, exterminator and politician.

"I am registered with the bar commission as a law student, also.

"Old Crest returned to his duties as official greeter at the SPHINX, last week, following a brief illness. He forgot to mention that he is also a "ham-fat" columnist.

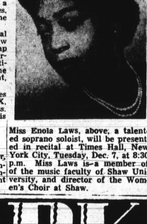
Concords and Discords

By W. LLEWELLYN WILSON

To Appear in Recital



Miss Enola Laws, above, a talented soprano soloist, will be presented in a recital at Times Hall, New York City, Tuesday, Dec. 7, at 8:30 p.m. Miss Laws is a member of the music faculty of Shaw University, and director of the Women's Choir at Shaw.

Douglas Memorial Community Church, through its trustees and advisory boards made possible one of the best recitals of the current season, Friday night, in presenting one of America's younger lyric sopranos, June McMeechen.

Possessed of a voice of unusual beauty, the young singer succeeded in bringing to the enthusiastic group of listeners who made up the relatively small audience an evening of real pleasure.

Our modern singers are learning to add to their skill in vocal production the recognition of the fact that discerning and well-informed patrons of musical recitals are intelligent in matters of good program building.

Builds Interesting Program

Lately, Baltimoreans have been fortunate in hearing in our local recitals artists who have evinced ability to build interesting programs.

The youthful Miss McMechen at once revealed herself as a singer of superior gifts.

The program, which included gems from the classical period, brought out the singer's ability to sing beautifully in the bel canto style of Handel. The lovely quality of her well-placed voice was heard to a distinct advantage in the group which opened the evening's program, which included:

"As When the Dove her Love," from the quaint opera, "Acis and Galatia," "Come Again Sweet Love Doth Now Invite," and "Oh Had I Jubal's Lyre" from oratorio, "Joshua."

French Group Pleases

The artist's group of French songs included "Clair de Lune," by Stule, an exquisite number to which the singer brought new and pleasing values.

The poignant "Chanson Triste," by Duparc; "Beau Soir" and "Fantoches," by Debussy, all examples more or less of the modern school, were done in style and with a finesse that thrilled the audience.

Miss McMechen's highly musical projection of Faccio's "Dublin Streets Brilliino," from the old Italian opera, "Amletto," brought forth such insistent and prolonged applause, that the singer was forced to respond with "My Man's Gone Now," from Gershwin's "Porgy and Bess."

Sympathetic in Folk Songs

Boatner's "I Want Jesus to Walk With Me," Johnson's "His Name Is So Sweet" and "My Soul's Been Anchored in the Lord," by Price, made up the singer's group of American Spirituals.

The evening's program was concluded by a group of English songs: "Stars," by Watts; "Sometimes," by Walther; "Ship of Arcady," by Head; and "Feast of Lanterns," Gwendolyn Joseph as accompanist proved adequate and entirely satisfying.
