State Department Messenger Retires After 31 Years' Service

WASHINGTON (NNPA)—Paul A. Simmons, head messenger in the Division of Communications and Records of the State Department, is retiring from Government service after 31 years and two months in the department. He will receive a letter of commendation from Secretary George C. Marshall.

Born in Philadelphia, May 11, 1889, Mr. Simmons has lived in Washington during his career in the department. He completed high school at the Dunbar night school in 1928.

On Sept. 22, 1917, he was appointed in the Department as an assistant messenger and assigned to the office of Under Secretary Frank Polk. He served Under Secretaries of State Norman H. Davis, Henry P. Fletcher, William Phillips and Joseph C. Grew until 1925.

Then he was assigned to the Office of Far Eastern Affairs under Dr. Stanley Hornbeck. Since 1942 Mr. Simmons has been a supervisor of messengers.

He has been assigned to two international conferences— the United Nations Conference on Food and Agriculture which met at Hot Springs, Va., in June, 1943, and again in Atlantic City in Nov. 1943. Mr. Simmons also has been active as a musician.

Mr. Simmons, upon his retirement is to be employed by the Dupont interests in the Second National Bank in Philadelphia. His father was employed by this family for 45 years. Mr. and Mrs. Simmons will reside on E. Charleston Ave., Lawnside, N.J.

500 at Conference of Christians, Jews

DETROIT — More than 500 persons of both races representing Catholics, Jews and Protestants throughout the city attended the 20th anniversary dinner of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, Nov. 20, in the Arabian Room, at Hotel Tuller.

Principal speakers were Lester Granger, of the National Urban League of NYC, and Nelson A. Rockefeller of NYC, National Brotherhood chairman for 1948. After the dinner Granger was introduced to a mixed group by Frank X. Martel, president of Detroit and Wayne County Federation of labor, AFL.

Closer Fellowship

"This kind of fellowship," said Granger, "proves that we are coming to a closer relationship. America's society has boiled down to the interest of the people. We used to say time will take care of racial matters; perhaps it didn't occur to us in those days — that action is the best form of education."

Rockefeller told the audience, "Sometimes we use the word 'brotherhood' without giving thoughts to its real meaning. All the prejudices against some people is about nothing they have done — but because of human weakness. God is the father of all mankind and we are children of God — our democracy grew out of these principles."

Exams for Navy Lieutenants Set

WASHINGTON

The Navy Department will hold examinations for Lieutenant (Junior Grade) appointments during the period, Jan. 24-28, it was announced this week. Examinations will be held at Naval Hospitals in the continental United States.

'Sound Mind, Sound Body,' Is Goal of New Program

Students Plan Pay Affairs to Finance Venture; Ex-USO Worker Is Able Director

By REVELLA CLAY

WASHINGTON

The old classical adage, "a sound mind in a sound body," is being tested by the administration of the Nurses Home at Freedmen's Hospital where a new recreation activities program has been set up to complement the regular course of instruction for student nurses.

The first of its kind at the home, the program began with the hiring of Mrs. Mary Carrington as social recreation director last February. Up until that time recreational activities were limited to a few dances and open house evenings because of budgetary difficulties.

Features of Program

During the summer, Mrs. Carrington, a former USO worker and a graduate of Wayne University, planned activities for wholesome recreation for the students daily, and arranged pay affairs to help finance the program, which operates without a budget allotment.

The activities include physical fitness courses, a choir, a dramatic club, and classes in arts and crafts, all of which are held once a week, Mondays through Thursdays, excepting the physical fitness groups which meet Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Friday evenings are devoted to open house parties or dances. When an open house is held the students are left on their own to entertain with friends, or by playing cards, dancing, and the like.

Specialists Used

All other activities, however, are directed and closely supervised by persons with specialized training. Mrs. Carrington has tried to recruit directors for the clubs from the student body, but when this becomes impossible, trained people outside the home are utilized.

Participation in these activities is open to all members of the student body, but interested students can enroll in only one of them.

Recreation Room Utilized

The students hold their activities in the recreation room which is open Mondays through Thursdays from 5 to 7 p.m., and on Fridays until 10 p.m. when open house is observed, and until 12 midnight when the home has a dance.

The recreation is large and spacious and is equipped with lounge chairs, combination, card tables and a ping pong table. Next to the room is a modern kitchen where the girls can cook their suppers or prepare servings for their guests.

When the activities program began the kitchen had no utensils. To supply this necessity without cost to the girls, Mrs. Carrington together with the students gave a shower for the kitchen last Spring, and now have enough dishes and silver to serve a complete dinner.

Physical Fitness Stressed

One of the most interesting activities is the physical fitness class which is directed by one of the freshman nurses, Miss Queen E. Barber, a graduate of Bennett College, Greensboro, N. C., where she was a physical education minor.

Usually about 24 girls participate in this course, which generally begin with 30 minutes of organized calisthenics and ends with modern dance sprints or a merry circle of Ring-Around-the-Rosen.

A great deal of significance is attached to this activity because it builds up the girls' bodies and helps keep them fit.

Practical Values

All the courses have a practical justification, aside from their recreational value.

The choir, which is directed by Miss Romaine Scott, a senior in the Howard University School of Music, serves at the Sunday morning services which are held from 9:00 to 10:15 a.m.

Other activities while providing an outlet for the students' energies, allow them to produce programs and articles that will raise money for the program.

The craft class, for example, is now preparing for a bazaar to be given on Dec. 10, and the Dramatic Club is working on three one-act plays to be given in January.

Clinics Are Features

There is a cultural phase of the activities program, too. Three clinics of three months' duration each are held throughout the year to allow students to acquire information on practical and personal problems from trained experts.

This year's clinics are: courtship and marriage, directed by Dr. Anna Rand and the Rev. Merrell Brooks; charm and personality, directed by Miss Gretchen Felker of the K St. YWCA; and a beauty clinic directed by experts from the Poro College and Lucille's Fashion Shop.

The entire student body is organized into classes each of which holds a clinic meeting once a month. Thirty minutes of each meeting is devoted to lectures, while the remaining half hour is given to discussion and questions.

Directors Enthused

Everybody at the Nurses Home is enthusiastic about their new recreational program. The students find the evening hours of activity "refreshing after the day's long grind", and Mrs. Carrington believes the girls are made to feel more at home.

Miss Nettie Wiggs, director of the home, points out that since its inauguration the "students morale has increased greatly and disciplinary problems have been eliminated."

Freedmen's students are being taught how to be competent nurses, but the program of planned recreational activities enable them to have fun while learning.

Dean Grant Warns of Vicious Plan

Frontiers Hear Many Speakers Air Crisis

ACTION URGED NOW

'Not All Whites With Byrd,' Dr. Holmes Says

"If Dr. Harry (Curly) Byrd, president of the University of Maryland, takes over Morgan State College the pattern of segregation will be fixed for the next 100 years."

This opinion was voiced by Dean George C. Grant of Morgan, one of several speakers who aired the intricate problems allied with the future status of Morgan and Princess Anne colleges, Tuesday, before the Frontiers Club.

Opinions Not Morgan's

The discussion was sponsored by the Frontiers' Morgan State College Committee headed by Howard H. Murphy.

The opinions expressed by the speakers were their own and must not in any way be construed as those of the administration at Morgan College.

Dean Grant added that: "If State scholarships for out-of-State study were ruled illegal for the second semester, this may encourage more applicants to seek admission to the University of Maryland's graduate schools."

Murphy Cites Problems

Mr. Murphy outlined three specific problems:

(1) How graduate and professional schools in Maryland could be opened to colored students; (2) Whether or not Morgan should be taken under the supervision of the University of Maryland; and (3) whether or not the Maryland State College (Princess Anne) should be consolidated with Morgan.

State Must Do More

Milton Brown, NAACP executive secretary pointed out that the Maryland State scholarships do not fulfill the State's obligation in providing higher education.

He cited the need for students applying to the University of Maryland's graduate school and promised the legal and financial aid of the NAACP for such persons.

Against Merger

"Morgan State College should remain separate to improve its status," Dr. Jones contended. "It should be developed into a good college, not merely a good colored college. This can be done with the present staff.

He contrasted the conditions at the University of Maryland with Morgan, pointing out that the consolidation of the two, he said Morgan may suffer the fate already experienced by Princess Anne under the administration of Dr. Byrd.

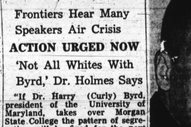
Urging community action, Dr. D. O. W. Holmes, president-emeritus of Morgan said, "Not all whites are following Dr. Byrd. They are waiting for us to do something, to make the first move."

Dr. Holmes opined that the support of decent thinking white people is assured, but the colored citizenry must take the initiative in plotting and enacting the strategy to fight Dr. Byrd.

"This is the time for a great crusade. The surge of the tide is on, and we must ride it on to victory," Dr. Holmes concluded.

Dr. Martin D. Jenkins, Morgan's president, and a new member of the club, will address the group at its next meeting and present facts and figures on the situation.

Lawyer for Elks



ERNEST L. PERKINS

member of the Murray, Douglass and Perkins law firm was recently appointed legal advisor for all of the Elks' Lodges and Temples in the State of Maryland. Mr. Perkins, a graduate of the University of Maryland Law School, is also the Elks' director of civil liberties in the State.

Carver, Taylor Pupils Give Holiday Programs

Carver Vocational High School and Coleridge Taylor Occupational School pupils joined in the annual Thanksgiving observance last Wednesday at the Carver auditorium.

The service featured a message by Fr. Cedric Mills, rector of St. James PE Church and seasonal music by the Taylor School's mixed choir, directed by William Meredith H. Birche Jr.

Greetings were given by Charles M. Jones, principal of Taylor School; response was by Saul M. Perdue, Carver principal.

Dorothy Owens and Luther H. Johnson were featured on the program. Soloists were Walter Williams, Arlene McClain and Clarence Clark. Highlighted on the program were "Prayer of Thanksgiving" and the "Gospel Hymn of Thanks," both arranged by Mr. Birche.

Fraternity Against Byrd's Proposal

Petitions Gov. Lane in Morgan's Behalf

Community opposition to the proposal to place Morgan State College under control of the University of Maryland became stronger this week Delta Lambda Chapter of Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity made public a letter of protest to Gov. Lane.

The proposal that Morgan join Princess Anne College as a branch institution of the University of Maryland was made three weeks ago by Dr. H. C. (Curly) Byrd, president of the university, as he addressed members of the State Legislature at luncheon on the university campus.

Citing the progress of Morgan as an independent institution and the neglect of Princess Anne (Maryland State College) under university administration, the fraternity's letter of protest, signed by 43 members, asked the governor to prevent any such "disaster."

It said in part:

"As members of a national collegiate fraternity, we have some knowledge and understanding of educational problems and are, therefore, greatly interested in educational opportunities for all people.

"As members of a disadvantaged minority group, and hence, victims of the policy of segregation, we are particularly sensitive to any program which will further limit the educational opportunities of colored persons in the State of Maryland.

"To place Morgan under the direct administration of the University of Maryland would be unfortunate and unfair since it will reduce Morgan to the status of a 'stepchild' similar to that of Princess Anne, the dire results of which are not only generally known, but have been officially reported in the Marbury survey.

To Fight to Stop Plan

"We, the undersigned, some of us graduates of Morgan, who hold responsible positions in Baltimore, are unalterably opposed to such a move and will resort to all the means available to citizens in a democratic society to prevent such action which would sabotage education in Maryland.

Remember the time when you could eat like a horse, business went with energy, you felt ready to do—didn't know what fatigue was, felt strong as an ox? Age advances the "old stomach and the ever-changing blood" need help. Now you may again enjoy the vibrant energy to every muscle, nerve, gland—millions of red blood cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, constipation, lack of energy, a run-down condition and disease.
You can be relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities by analysis of the blood, have by a positive proof shown that S.S.S. is a powerful stimulant to the blood stream to build up blood strength to help—repair—nourish—strengthen. This is due to the S.S.S. Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.
Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on S.S.S. Tonic now. At vigorous blood means—more energy, your whole body and your vitality improves, you feel and look and make you eat better, sleep better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—from head to foot in many places. Millions of bottles used. Get a bottle from your drug store. S.S.S. Tonic helps Build Strong Health.
