White Baptists Praised for Trying to Admit Sins

But Baptist General Association of Virginia "Woefully Regrets Inability to Do It"

RICHMOND

White Baptist churches were "commended" for their "attempt of making a confession of their non-Christian practices in the area of race relations" in resolutions adopted by the Baptist General Association of Virginia during its recent meeting here.

Pointing out that the recent action of the Baptist General Association of Virginia (white) in its annual session at Norfolk on the question of race relations "has been brought to our attention," the resolutions said:

"We recommend that the Baptist General Association (colored) . . . commend them for an attempt at making a confession of their non-Christian practices in the area of race relations, but woefully regret their inability to do it.

"We have a strong feeling that the 'detailed confession would have strengthened our faith in the sincerity of their attempts to practice brotherhood' and we pray that their prayer of forgiveness might be granted by God and that in them and in us the spirit of Christ may prevail."

The association, which met on the campus of Virginia Union University also gave its "endorsement and full support" to the fight for equalization of school facilities in the State and the "program and policies" of the World Council of Churches, formed recently in Amsterdam.

It approved the $1-per-member method of financing the "Unified M. Ellison for "hospitality shown as a maximum, and suggested that "each church begin now to make plans for giving substantial contributions to Virginia Union's golden jubilee celebration in 1949-50."

The resolutions called also for commendation of the Baptist Ministers' Conference of Richmond for its policy of non-co-operation with any segrated affair in the City of Richmond and thanked the president of the host college, Dr. John Plan" as a minimum quota, but not us."

Stay in South, Dr. Spaulding Tells Group

WHITEVILLE, N.C. (ANP) — Stay in the South and work with the white people here for success, Dr. Charles C. Spaulding, president of the North Carolina Mutual Insurance Company, declared at the closing night of the Farmers Merchants Exposition, sponsored by the Whiteville Lions Club.

"The South offers the greatest opportunity I have ever known for my people," the 75-year-old insurance executive told his audience. Advising against radicalism in the field of race relations, he declared: "We are working together as two great races and we're going to work out our differences side by side without interference from the outside."

Offering wise sayings, Dr. Spaulding advised:

"Do your work so well that they won't know what color you are until they draw back the curtins. The only people who can start at the top and make a success are the gravediggers.

Warning against the evils of too much drinking, he said: "Whiskey is dragging our people down."

Court of Appeals Upholds R.R. Firemen's D.C. Case

Action Leaves in Effect Injunction That Makes Discriminatory Contract Invalid

RICHMOND, Va. — (NNPA)— The Fourth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals has reversed a decision of the U.S. District Court here restraining Charles H. Houston and Joseph C. Waddy, Washington attorneys, from prosecuting a suit brought by three colored locomotive firemen against the Seaboard Air Line Railroad Company in the District of Columbia.

The two lawyers were enjoined by Federal District Judge Albert V. Bryan on last June 8 from prosecuting the suit brought by George Palmer, a fireman on the Southern Railroad; Adam Wright of Tampa, Fla., a fireman on the Seaboard; and Eugene Carter of Manchester, Ga., a fireman on the Seaboard.

Judge Bryan ruled that the Palmer case was an enjoyed reiteration of a suit brought by David H. Hinton of Raleigh, N.C., a fireman on the Seaboard, in the Federal District Court of Norfolk, Va. and that the three plaintiffs in the District of Columbia case should have intervened in the Hinton suit.

Bryan Ruling Overturned

In reversing Judge Bryan, the Circuit Court of Appeals ruled that the Palmer case was not the type of suit where the court's control over property subject to its with by proceedings in another tribunal.

It is perfectly clear, said the appellate court, that the two suits are not between the same parties and do not involve the same relief. While both are class suits, the case at bar is brought only in behalf of colored firemen employed jurisdiction might be interfered by the Seaboard, and only against of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, their representative, the appellate court said.

It pointed out that the Palmer case was brought on behalf of all colored firemen employed by the three great railroad systems of the Southeast—the Southern, the Seaboard and the Atlantic Coast Line—and was brought against all three railroads and the Brotherhood as the bargaining representative of the firemen employed by all of them.

Plaintiffs Prerogative

"It is for the plaintiff, not the defendant railroad, to say what relief they would ask with respect to the violation of their rights by the agreements of 1941 and 1942," said the appellate court, "and there is nothing in law or common sense which precludes them from seeking in another jurisdiction relief from other violations of their rights."

The Hinton case, which Mr. Houston and Mr. Waddy were enjoined from prosecuting, is a class suit instituted by colored firemen employed by the Seaboard to enjoin that railroad and the brotherhood from enforcing against colored firemen employed on that railroad discriminatory provisions of collective bargaining agreements of Feb. 18, 1941, and May 18, 1942.

Farmer Injured by Gun Blast

GREENVILLE, N. C. —Joseph D. Ward, 20, tenant farmer, had a narrow escape from death Thanksgiving morning when a gun his brother was about to hand him exploded, inflicting a serious wound in the fleshy part of his hip.

He was treated at Dr. Joseph Smith's clinic. Ward said that he and his brother were going hunting when his brother brought an old single-barrel 12-guage shotgun with a detective stock and that the breech was hard to close.

His brother asked him to fix it, Ward said, and the gun was discharged before he got his hands on it. Most of the shot struck the stock of the gun, knocking it from his and wounding his hip, Ward said.

It was the first hunting accident reported since the season opened in Pitt County.

10 Nabbed in Week of Lightning Raids

Heroin, Marijuana Transactions Lead Police to Narcotics Caches

PHILADELPHIA

Police intensified their warfare on traffickers in narcotics with the arrest of 10 suspects here last week. Nine of the prisoners were nabbed in South Philadelphia. The tenth man was taken into custody at his home in West Philadelphia after one of the other men admitted he was his source of narcotics.

Heroin, Marijuana Found

Officers said the arrests led to the confiscation of more than 200 capsules of heroin and a large quantity of marijuana cigarettes.

The largest cache of narcotics was reportedly seized Wednesday. In the home of Henry Pollard, 24, of 406 N. 41st St., by Special Squadsmen Alonzo Dodson and Richard Edwards. They said they found 141 filled and partially filled capsules of heroin there.

The officers said they went to Pollard's home after they saw Gilbert Miles, 27, of 606 N. 32nd St., pay Joseph Tucker, 28, of the Glasboro Hotel, 13th and Kater St., $2 for a capsule of heroin. Tucker allegedly said he was peddling dope for Pollard.

Held in High Bail

Dodson said that although Pollard has not been working, he recently paid $785 on a 1949 Buick.

Magistrate James J. Clothier, sitting in Central Police Court, held Pollard and Tucker in $2,500 bail each, on charges of possession and sale of narcotics. Miles was held in the same bail as an addict.

Addicts Also Held

Four men, all of whom were revealed to be addicts by a police surgeon's examination, were arrested and 22 marijuana cigarettes seized when police raided an apartment at 1412 South St., Wednesday.

The men, all of whom were held in $1000 bail on charges of use, possession and sale of narcotics, were indentified as Arthur Hawes, 25, of the South St. address; William Burton, 28, of 1139 Bainbridge St.; Leon Tilghman, 23, of Wilmington, Del.; and Garnett Spady, 31, also of Wilmington.

Special Squadsmen Preston Washington and George Morse said they found 56 capsules of heroin and several hundred empty capsules in the home of Charles Layton, 36, of 1229 Christian St., after he was arrested, Sunday, at 17th and South St.

Layton and Harry Johnson, 29, of 616 S. Clarion St., who was arrested with him, were each held in $2,000 bail for a further hearing on Wednesday. Johnson was charged with possession.

Arrested at Broad and South Sts., Tuesday, by Special Squadsmen Elbert Bannister, Samuel Wyche and Otis Terry, George Walker, 23, of 1010 S. Bouvier St., was held in $1000 bail for court after the officers allegedly found 15 capsules of heroin on him.

Bag of "Weeds" Turned Up

Det. John Thornberry, investigating a series of automobile burglaries, said he found a shopping bag filled with marijuana weeds when he arrested Willie Smith, 31, at his home at 1132 Lombard St.

Detective Thornberry said he also found about 35 stolen radios in Smith's room. Smith was allegedly implicated in the car theft by Leroy Jackson, 21, of 8401 Eastwick Ave., and both, now being held without bail, will receive a further hearing on the burglary charges next Tuesday.

STRANGE DEATH HELD SUICIDE

PROVIDENCE, R.I. — The strange death of William H. Taber, 54, of 104 Veazie St., in his home last Tuesday night, was ruled suicide by hanging by Dr. John A. Piccoli, medical examiner, this week.

DEMOCRACY AT WORK:

Mixed Unions May End Intolerance in Hawaii

HONOLULU (NNPA)—One out of every three marriages in the Hawaiian Islands, world famous as a racial "melting pot," is mixed.

Of the 5,752 persons who married in the Territory during the year ending June 31, last, 29% (1668) married a mate of a different racial background, according to statistics released last week by Hawaii's Board of Health.

Mixed Unions Increasing

These "mixed" marriages are on the increase and the trend is a "most interesting" one, say racial authorities, who are not alone in their admiration of the fine, handsome children who are growing inches taller and broader than their forebears.

Dr. Andrew Lind, sociologist at the University of Hawaii, declares:

"It is real democracy at work. Hawaii is building a single people. The time is not far off when it will not only be impossible to maintain racial discrimination, but when it will be desirable to use a different basis for classification."

Racial Classifications

Hawaii's brides and grooms are grouped into these racial classifications; Hawaiian, part-Hawaiian, Puerto Rican, Caucasian, Chinese, Japanese, Korean and Filipino.

Of the 132 Hawaiian brides during the year under review, 25 married Hawaiians, 20 married Caucasians and 28 married Filipinos.

Brides of Korean ancestry numbered only 105, 36 of whom married Caucasians; 39 close Koreans while 36 of the Korean men married women of Japanese ancestry, and six married Caucasian women.

Caucasians' Preferences

Caucasian women married six men of Hawaiin extraction; 70 chose part-Hawaiians; 25 favored Puerto Ricans; 13 selected Chinese; 24 united with Japanese; 6 preferred Koreans; and 35 teamed up with Filipinos.

Caucasian men appear less race conscious than their women; 2,050 married 26 women of Hawaiian ancestry; 254 chose part-Hawaiians; 27 favored Puerto Ricans; 42 mated with Chinese; 217 selected Japanese; 30 united with Koreans; and 61 preferred Filipinos.

Principal's Aide Given Last Rites

WASHINGTON (NNPA)—Funeral services for Miss Julia E. Brooks, 66, assistant principal and dean of girls at Dunbar High School since 1911, were held Saturday afternoon from the 19th St. Baptist Church, where she was active most of her life. The Rev. Jerry A. Moore officiated.

Miss Brooks a native of New Orleans, came here with her family at the age of three, and had been in the District of Columbia's public school system since 1903, having taught in elementary school before joining the administration of Dunbar.

Career Told

He father was the late Rev. Walter H. Brooks, pastor of 19th St. Baptist Church. Miss Brooks received her A.B. degree at Howard University, her master's degree from Columbia University, and studied two years at Miner Teachers College.

While a Howard undergraduate, she helped found Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority and she held active membership in many national, regional and local educational groups and cultural and civic organizations: A brother, Albert N. D. Brooks; and two sisters, Mrs. Alberta Brooks Terrell and Mrs. Antoinette Mitchell, all of, Washington, survive.

School Equality Fight Continues

Kentucky U. Case Set Jan. 4 at Lexington

NEW YORK—Another case in the fight against denial of equal educational opportunities in Southern states will be brought to trial by the NAACP, this time on behalf of Lyman T. Johnson, who seeks admission to the graduate school of the University of Kentucky.

The trial will come before the U.S. District Court in Lexington, Ky., on Jan. 4.

NAACP attorneys also indicated this week that they are considering the possibility of appealing to the United States Supreme Court the recent Oklahoma Federal Court decision upholding segregation of G. W. McLaurin at the University of Oklahoma.

McLaurin has been attending the graduate school on a completely segregated basis since an Oct. 19 court ruling forced the University to admit him.

2 Other Cases

If the McLaurin case is carried to the Supreme Court, it will be heard at approximately the same time as the case of Herman Sweatt, who has been denied admission to the University of Texas law school solely because he is colored.

Sweatt refused to enroll in a makeshift segregated law school on grounds that equal educational facilities were not offered him there.

The similar case of Mrs. Ada Lois Sipuel Fisher, who has been denied a legal education at the University of Oklahoma, is still pending in the court of Oklahoma.
