

A For a while. I think six or seven weeks.

Q Was she ever at Dr. Rigg's Sanitorium?

A No, sir.

Q What, in your opinion, is the estate of your sister?

A The value?

Q (The Court) In other words, what does she have?

A I would say half of $8,000 estate.

Q Does she own any real property?

A Half interest.

Q Does she have any cash?

A Yes, sir, a few hundred dollars; not as much as a thousand I don't think. Her sister, Mrs. Thomas, knows more about the details of that than I do. While I have been in on it, I couldn't give you the exact figures.

Q In your opinion, is your sister Sarah of unsound mind or incapable of managing her property?

A Well, I would say she is incapable of managing her property.

Q How long has that condition existed?

A That would go back to the time my father died; she hasn't been capable of making right decisions for 15 years.

Q (The Court) In your opinion, her total estate altogether wouldn't be more than $5,000, is that right?

A Not more than that.
