value of the accomplishment which might have been.

Weakened Nation's Position

"I oppose it because its practice has weakened our nation's position of world leadership. We are witnessing today a world-wide conflict of opposing ideologies.

"Our every effort to promote democratic ideas is met with questions concerning our domestic racial practices. Foreign commentators, almost without exception, point to our practices of racial segregation and discrimination as our greatest national weakness.

"I oppose it because it is contrary to Christian ethics and inconsistent with the democratic principles on which our society is based," he points out.

Asks Support of Public

Dr. Jenkins maintains that no institution of higher education can prosper without the interest of the public and the active support of the people of its State.

Soliciting the "active concern of the people," he says, "Particularly do we solicit the interest of the colored people—the people of the Eastern Shore, the people of Southern Maryland, the people of Western Maryland, and the people of the Baltimore area."

He continues to point out that it is the responsibility of State officials to assure that the institution receives sufficient funds to conduct its program—"to assure the high values, tangible and intangible, which investment in higher education yields."

Can Develop Institution

After describing the kind of institution he thinks Morgan should be and how the people and officials of the State can participate in the program, Dr. Jenkins says:

"We can develop at Morgan an institution not poorer in quality than the best public institution of higher education in this State.

"We have the vision, we have the faith, we have the ability, we have the determination to accomplish this task."

Approaches Work Humbly

In accepting the symbols of office from Carrington L. Davis, representing the college board of trustees, Dr. Jenkins says:

"I do so with a feeling of humility and a haunting sense of inadequacy.

"The State can give to no man a greater honor or a greater responsibility than that it has given me. For it has entrusted to me the safekeeping, the development of its most precious possession—its talented youth.

"I pledge you that I shall discharge the responsibilities of this office to the best of my ability.

"I pledge you that I shall attempt to exert a type of professional leadership which will bring the educational program of the college to the highest possible level," he concludes.

Civic Group Plans Interracial Yule

The public will have the opportunity to view democracy in practice when the Harlem Neighborhood Council stages an interracial Christmas party at Public School No. 138, Harlem Ave. and Monroe St., Friday evening.

The affair will begin with a street parade led by Santa Claus.

There a program will be held and gifts presented to each child present.

Earl Koger is president of the Harlem Neighborhood Council which is striving to build a model community along bi-racial lines. Mrs. M. Watson, chairman of the membership committee is also making arrangements for the party.

The committee on arrangements included:

Mrs. Anna R. Watson, chairman, Mrs. Julia Hammond, Mrs. Mathilda Brown, Mrs. Carolyn Clinksdale, Mrs. Bertha Other, Mrs. Elizabeth White, Mrs. Elizabeth Diggs, and Mrs. Mattie Farrell.

FEMINE FRONT

Ceremony in Baltimore

Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius H. Evans were married in Baltimore, recently. Mrs. Evans is the former Miss Lillian E. Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Smith. Mr. Evans, now stationed at Fort Monroe, Va., was with the 14th T.C. Car Co., in E.T.O. for 15 months, and then rejoined for three years.

Dr. Jenkins' Inauguration Ceremony Two-Part Affair

Inauguration ceremonies today (Friday) for Dr. Martin D. Jenkins, new president of Morgan State College, consist of two programs—an afternoon luncheon on the college campus and the inaugural program, to be held at 8 p.m. at Douglass High School.

The luncheon program for visiting delegates representing various colleges, educational institutions and learned societies, was held at 3 p.m., in the Morgan Christian Center, with Dr. Carl Murphy, member of the board of trustees, presiding.

Luncheon Speakers Listed

The welcome address was made by Dean George C. Grant. Brief solicitations were brought by the following persons:

Dr. Miles W. Connor, president of Coppin Teachers College and Dr. Elizabeth Morrissy, professor at the College of Notre Dame, both speaking on behalf of Maryland colleges; Dr. Robert P. Daniels, president of Shaw University, representing out-of-State colleges;

Dr. George H. Spaulding, the Morgan faculty; Melvin H. Cade, president of the Student Council, the student body; William V. Lockwood, president of the Alumni Association; Bishop A. Preston Shaw, on behalf of the college corporation which operates the Christian Center;

Mrs. Lillian Lottier, representing the citizens of Maryland; Mrs. Bertha W. Proctor, president of the Morgan Ladies Auxiliary, who made a presentation to Mrs. Jenkins; Dr. Thomas G. Pullen, on behalf of the State department of education, and Dr. William H. Lemmie, the city department of education.

Informal Reception Slated

The musical program featured Mrs. Dorothy Banks as soloist with Mrs. Frances B. Hill as accompanist.

Following lunch, the delegates relaxed in the parlors of Tubman House and Truth House.

Buses will be provided to take the guest to Douglass High School where the academic procession will form in the boys' gymnasium at 7:30 p.m.

Until the program begins at 8 p.m. music will be furnished by the college band, under the direction of R. Hayes Strider.

Judge Soper to Preside

For this program, U.S. Circuit Judge Morris A. Soper, president of the Morgan board of trustees, will preside.

After the assemblage of the academic procession of about 200 persons, including the visiting delegates, college trustees and faculty members, the invocation will be delivered by the Rev. J. O. Williams, pastor of Sharp Street Methodist Church.

Addresses will be made by Dr. John W. Davis, president of West Virginia State College; Dr. John Dale Russell, director of the division of higher education, U.S. Office of Education, and Dr. D. O. W. Holmes, president-emeritus.

Symbols to Be Bestowed

The symbols of authority, including a key, copy of the charter and the seal of the college, will be presented to Dr. Jenkins by Carrington L. Davis, member of the board of trustees.

This will be followed by the inaugural address by Dr. Jenkins, and the benedictions by the Rev. Matthew Sullivan, dean of Loyola College.

Music will be furnished by the college choir, directed by J. O. B. Moseley.

Douglass Service Public

The trustees, program participants and visiting delegates will be seated on the stage. Reserve seats will be provided for the faculty, students and alumni association.

All other seats will be filled on a first-come-first-served basis. The service is public, and no admission tickets are necessary.

South Baltimore Notes

A men's club was organized at the Star of Bethlehem AME Church, Sunday, with James Martin as president. The Rev. G. Oliver Wing is pastor of the church.

The Friendship Savings Club of Mt. Winans will have a banner year in 1949, if incoming applications for membership are an indication. Daily, the club which recently passed out checks to its 1948 members, receives more applications for membership in the coming year, William Polk is president of the organization; and George W. Hill, treasurer.

Ultus Service Held

Several Mt. Winans churches joined the Shiloh AME Church recently, in the observance of Men's Day. A total of $150 was raised during the day. The Rev. Frank Gray is pastor of Shiloh.

The last of a series of three concerts by Gerald Burke Wilson's Singers will be held Dec. 21, at Sharp St. Methodist Church, Dolphin and Etting Sts.

This concert will feature the Baltimore Chorale, a 75-voice group that consists of the Baltimore Singers, the Elite Choir and the Martha Murphy Singers. G. Bernard Young is manager of the singing groups, and Randolph Tate chairman of the program.

Southside Personality

This week's personality choice is Mrs. Gertrude B. Hamm, a housewife and mother, of 521 Cherry Hill Rd.

A native of Fentress, Va., Mrs. Hamm came to Baltimore several years ago and completed her secondary school work at Douglass Evening High School. She attended Morgan College for one year.

Mrs. Gertrude B. Hamm

Her hobbies include reading, sewing, attending movies and listening to the radio.

Mrs. Hamm says she spends very little time with social activities outside of the home. She is married to David Hamm. They have three children, Mary, 6, Johnnie Lee, 7, and David Jr., 9.

Dolphin St. Club to Aid Neighbors

Christmas activities for the Neighborhood Club of the 700 block of Dolphin St. will include aid to 14 sick persons, a neighborhood carol sing and the filling of stockings to be distributed in military hospitals by the Red Cross.

Reports on these activities were made at the club's monthly meeting and election of officers last Wednesday at 739 Dolphin St. with Mrs. Victoria Coleman presiding.

The club was organized several years ago to give cheer to the sick, aged, shut-ins, and bereaved families in the block.

The sick committee, Mrs. Ella Bannister, chairman, presented the list of persons to be remembered for holiday cheer, and the Christmas Stocking Committee, headed by Mrs. Alice Wilson, handled the gift stockings for the hospitals.

The midnight carol sing on Christmas Eve will be led by the president, Mrs. Coleman, with the group winding up at her home for a chocolate sip.

Officers Named

Newly installed officers are: Mrs. Victoria Coleman, president; Mrs. Pearl Burley, vice-president, Miss Sarah Sampson, recording secretary; Mrs. Alice Wilson, financial secretary; Mrs. Julia Carroll, treasurer; Mrs. Ella Bannister, chaplain; Mrs. Bertha Flemmings, sergeant-at-arms; Mrs. Ella Rawlings, publicity; Mrs. Melvina Banks, organizer; Mrs. Mamie Rice, club mother.

Sick committee — Mesdames Ella Bannister, chairman, Mamie Rice, Mattie Banks, Florence Collick.

Social committee — Mesdames Nettie Chisley, chairman; Emma Dorsey, Lila Conley, Bessie Hicks, Evelyn Curtis, Edna Rawlings, Alice Pulliett and Miss Bertha Flemmings.
