Baltimore Singers Get Television Spot

The Golden Light Quartet, one of Baltimore's best known singing groups, will be featured on their own program regularly via WAAM Television, 7:45 to 8:00, beginning Monday night. Left to right are: James Timmons, Jesse Davis, Paul White and Willie Harrington. George Herndon and David McDonald, not shown, are also featured with the quarter.

Pennsylvania Avenue

By E. B. REA

POLICE COMMISSIONER Hamilton R. Atkinson, last week in giving orders to the police department on how to treat persons found unconscious, following the death of a white prisoner taken from the Pennsylvania Avenue bailiwick to a local hospital, had this to say in part.

"The fact that a man is poorly dressed should have nothing to do with the way he is treated.

"A man's physical condition is a medical matter and a poorly-dressed man can need to be taken to the hospital as much as a well-dressed one. Many fine people are not well dressed if they happen to be wearing their working clothes. We want no such distinctions made in police treatment." Commissioner Atkinson missed one serious point by not injecting the phrase, "regardless of race or color." The writer has seen some mighty big distinctions made along the Avenue and elsewhere — because of a man's color — which bordered on the 'brutal.'

STILL ENERGETIC and much alive is Thomas Obal Smith, 72, of 1821 Etting St, who once worked as press boy on the Race Standard, a local newspaper that existed before the AFRO was born. He later served as waiter at the Maryland Country Club for 23 years.

THE AVENUE CAFE, shuttered for 10 days on a minor charge, will reopen Friday, Jan. 28, again under the Elmer Youse banner. Sale of the place to a Sewell St nightery op, was called off following last Friday hearing before the Liquor Board, too late for a change in the story which appeared in this column. Up to that time the deal was on.

HERE'S A THANK YOU—James Whitlow, 800 N. Fulton Ave., father of Delores, Wagon Wheel bar-maid, and Gladys, sends a "thank you" to the more than 30 persons who contributed blood for transfusions while readying himself for an operation at a local hospital. He's reported much improved.

SCRATCH PAD ITEMS — Charles Pickett, merchant seaman feted Sunday this birthday by Bernice Morris at her home, 2111 Walbrook Ave. Marian Anderson, 16-year-old daughter of Augustus Anderson, 1120 McCulloh St, feels that she won on the Swing Class, but hasn't received her prize. The Alfred E. Burroughs of Madison, N.J., spent the week end with their daughter, Bonita Butler, 1910 McKean Ave, and sons, Alex and Robert, the latter a Morgan College student.

"HEY CALLED IT A DANCE—'Twas at Morgan Hall on Saturday night. Sonny Thompson's band was playing. Nothing bad about that. The "Long Gone" guy is a real "gone" guy when it comes to beating out rhythm. It was the atmosphere that caused the wonder.

ALL THE MALES, who wore hats and overcoats, had them on. Cigarette and cigar smoke was dense enough to fan out of your face. The air was intoxicating. But, it was the B.O. that knocked one out.

THE DANCERS WERE NOT dancing. It was just a good wiggling, twisting, grinding, bumping, torso-tossing, sensuous exhibitions that would make the old side-show hoochy-koochy queen look like a slow dragger with hob-nail shoes on.

THE GALS BUMPED and whirled each other when they couldn't get a male partner. The guys mugged each other, or did a jungle solo when they couldn't get a female partner. A good waltz or two-step here would have looked like Old Mother Hubbard trudging through Ali Baba's cavern.

IT WAS A TYPICAL, MODERN dance, savage style. The longer the music played, the more frenzied became the jit and the bug. The faster they danced, the hotter they became. It ended as a sweating good time, with the usual nightcap — a brawl. That's in the 1000 block, near Lincoln Theatre. Rice is a former night-ery operator, and one of the 'swell guys' around town. George Williams has been "law reader" for Michael F. Freedman for the past 23 years. The new Daddy Grace church, Preston St, at Argyle Ave., soon to be dedicated.

LONNIE COLE, 518 W. Hoffman St, planning an amateur talent show with rehearsals to be held at Smith's Hotel (The Gay Nineties), he has informed this column. . . Buddy Johnson's band next stage attraction at the Royal, which has the best double feature of the week, "Angels With Dirty Faces" and "Rope". . . Curvaceous and petite Cecelia Cox goes into Club 13 tonight (Friday). . . When the Liquor Board closes a night spot the help goes payless until the place re-opens.

WITH THE HEAT ON, since a recent raid, dens for teen-agers are changing locations — moving at night. Hundreds of Baltimoreans attended the inauguration in D.C. on Thursday, but didn't see the ceremonies. Watch for more price drops on drink in some of the night spots — but also watch the thick-bottomed glasses. Count Basie, seen and heard at the Royal this week, may drop his band and do a Hammond-solo, unless booking agents get on the ball.

FRANCES BROCK, vocalist, recently at Gamby's due for a test on Arthur Godfrey's talent show. . . Johnny Hudgins due in for a brief visit. An Avenue officer, patrolling the "bootleg cab" district, resigned recently when questioned concerning income.

INFORMATION, PLEASE — On the WITH Tello-Test, Peter Minuit bought Manhattan Island from the Indians in 1626 for $25, or its equivalent. . . "All's Fair in Love and War" is what the Tuesday night's "Hit the Jackpot" over WCAO, sounds like to this column. I'm still arguing with Cecil B. DeMille as the Saturday night's "Phantom Voice" on "Sing It Again." . . "Stop the Music" stopped me, after two straight hits.

THAT'S ALL FOR NOW, except — the coming Spring Music Festival to be sponsored by the Baltimore Institute of Musical Arts will bring in some of the country's top artists.

Davis to Sing With Choral Group Sunday

Ralph Davis, tenor, will be among the young featured singers with the Young People's Choral Society which will appear in recital Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in Carver High School Auditorium, promoted by the Carver Alumni. Sinclair Swan, originator of the group, will direct. A duet by Shirley Brooks of Douglass High School and Wallace Baden of Carver will be one of the highlights of the performance.

Among the classical selections by the group will be excerpts from "The Merry Widow," "The New Moon" and "Naughty Marietta," plus a group of spirituals.

Fred Waring Show Features Spirituals

The Fred Waring show over NBC-WBAL on Thursday night at 10:30 was composed entirely of spiritual music as a tribute to the contributions of colored Americans to music.

Among the better-known spirituals sung by the group were "Swing Low Sweet Chariot," "Going Home," "Go Down Moses," "Little Dwid Play on Your Harp," "Dry Bones," "Were You There When They Crucified My Lord" and others.

Roosevelt Day Group Plans Annual Dinner

WASHINGTON

The Walthington Committee for Roosevelt Day will give its first annual dinner at the Shoreham Hotel, Jan. 28, under sponsorship of the Americans for Democratic Action.

The event, according to chairman Francis Biddle, will stress the resurgence of the liberal principles and program of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

A National Committee has been set up under the co-chairmanship of former Gov. Herbert H. Lehman and Robert E. Sherwood. Walter Reuther, president of UAW-CIO, Sen. Estes Kefauver, (Dem., Tenn.) and Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., will be the speakers.

Queen of Galbraith Church

Mrs. Beatrice Bland crowns Miss Helen Anderson "queen" of Galbraith Church in Washington, closing the annual contest of the Conference Workers of the church. Miss Anderson won her title by heading the winning group, which raised $1476.61 in the contest, while Mrs. Bland headed the second group, which raised $801. The club was organized by the Rev. J. L. White, pastor of Galbraith.

Morticians Call Special Meeting

WASHINGTON

The Independent Funeral Directors Association of Washington, Inc., will hold a special meeting Saturday with Robert H. Miller of Chicago, publisher, Negro Funeral Director and Embalmer, and president; George Gaines of Detroit, national third vice-president; secretary, as guests.

The association met Jan. 8 at the L. E. Murray and Son funeral home and installed Leon E. Murray as president; Mrs. Georgia Washington, first vice-president; Alexander S. Pope, second vice-president.

MUSIC GUILD NOTES

By MILDRED W. McNAIR

The Baltimore Music Guild of the N.A.N.M. Inc., met at the home of Mrs. Carrie Cargill, 430 W. Biddle St.

Business was discussed and new membership cards were distributed. Final plans for the annual banquet at the YWCA on Feb. 5 were made.

This year's honoree will be Pauline Wharton and C. Reckling who are responsible for much of the city's music. Mrs. Cargill will make the presentation at the time.

To Present Harmony Trio

Mrs. Mildred Bryant will direct the Harmony Trio to be presented in recital at Union Baptist Church, Friday, Jan. 28.

Georgia Chambliss reported on the dongs of Kurtiz Hurtte, who is doing fine work while on tour of the West Coast.

The evening's program was both educational and entertaining. Margaret Lassiter gave interesting highlights on the lives and works of Franz Shubert and Mozart. William Hassell played one of Shubert's compositions.

Guests, Mrs. Geraldine Bell Powell sang the "Ave Maria" and a piano rendition, "Fantasia" by Mrs. Hazel M. Phillips completed the program, which was presented by Beatrice A. Mayo.

Hostesses for the evening were of the guild.

Chirping at Club 13

Cecilia Cox, petite vocalist, who opens a limited engagement tonight, (Friday), at Club 13. She's known as "Baltimore's little girl with the big voice."

Mesdames C. Cargill, G. Lassiter, M. Lassiter and Miss E. Dinnes, Margaret R. Franklin is president.

Philadelphians Endorse Alexander for U.S. Judge

PHILADELPHIA

Leading candidate for one of the new Federal judgeship posts to be filled by President Truman is Raymond Pace Alexander, prominent Philadelphia attorney.

RAYMOND PACE ALEXANDER

who is being backed by a number of outstanding individuals and organizations.

According to sources close to the Administration, at least two of the 23 judgeships which will be created by the passage of the McCarran Bill will go to colored attorneys.

One is more or less earmarked for a Philadelphian, it was said. There seems to be some difference of opinion over the other post. The field has narrowed down, it is understood to Thurgood Marshall, chief legal counsel of the NAACP and Joseph Craigen, Detroit lawyer.

In Philadelphia, the race seems to be between Walter A. Gay Jr., assistant U.S. Attorney, and Mr. Alexander, with the latter out in front by a comfortable margin.

Last week, Alexander was unanimously endorsed for the judgeship by the Baptist Conference of Philadelphia and vicinity, the Rev. Arthur W. Jones, president.

Practiced Here 25 Years

The motion for the endorsement was made by the Rev. Dr. D. W. Hoggard, pastor of Mt. Carmel Baptist Church and a Democratic member of the Pennsylvania State Legislature.

Mr. Alexander, an honor graduate of the University of Pennsylvania and a graduate of the Harvard Law School, who has practiced law here for more than 25 years, in the recent campaign was chairman of the Citizens Committee of Philadelphia County for the election of President Truman.

His wife, Mrs. Sadie T. M. Alexander, was a member of the President's Committee on Civil Rights which, after a year's work, brought forth the report on Civil Rights that proposed the end of the prosecutions suffered by minority group citizens in the nation.

Both Mr. Alexander and his wife have been extremely active in supporting colored causes in their battle for free and impartial education, freedom from discrimination and segregation in places of public accommodation in the State and the protection of their jobs.

Local Democrats Attend Inaugural

Five members of the colored division of the Democratic National Committee of Maryland represented that group in Washington, Thursday, at the inauguration of President Truman and its attendant festivities.

The delegation included Lloyal Randolph, chairman of the State group and his wife, Mrs. Nirkki Randolph; Mr. and Mrs. William Adams and Mrs. Vivian Alleyne.

Round of Receptions

They witnessed the Inauguration ceremonies, the parade which followed; attended the cocktail party at the Cimmarron Social Club, at which Rep. William L. Dawson (Dem., Ill.) was host, the President's reception and the Inaugural Ball climaxing the festivities for the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Randolph, tonight (Friday), will attend the reception to be held in the main ballroom of the Shoreham Hotel, Washington, by Sen. J. Howard McGrath (Dem., R. I.), chairman of the Democratic National Committee for party workers.

Planning Victory Dinner

On the home front, local democrats are working toward a Victory Dinner to be held in the Mount Christian Church on Feb. 3.

Senator McGrath and Representative Dawson are to head a galaxy of national and State political dignitaries expected to attend as well as persons representing the various Democratic ward and precinct clubs.

Regular meetings of the arrangements committee are held in the York Hotel Blue Room every Wednesday. Reports are submitted to Dr. Bernard Harris, chairman, and Mr. Randolph, general chairman.

Co-operating in mapping plans for the celebration are the members of the Women's Division of which Mrs. Victorine Adams is president.

45 Students Picket Okla. State Capitol

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla — Forty Langston University students and five from the University of Oklahoma, members of the Oklahoma Equal Education Committee, staged a peaceful picket at the State capitol last week to protest against inequalities and segregation in education.

The students circulated leaflets decrying a dual, "separate but equal" system of education. The House of Representatives had adjourned a few minutes before the group arrived, but the Senate was still in session and the members showed interest in the demonstration. No violence occurred.

The students carried placards stating "Jim crow must go," "The scales of equal education are unbalanced," "How equal can 'separate equal' be?" "Help put jim crow behind the eight ball," "A State is as intelligent as its most ignorant citizen," and "Separate education leads to bankruptcy—economy with unity."

Favorabe Comment

A white youth asked permission to join the picket line. A Senator stated that the group had a fair cause and that he didn't see why results would not be realized. Other Senators gave favorable comments.

The Equal Education Committee announced it would blend its efforts to the end that segregation shall be eliminated at all levels of education and will continue to protest against undemocratic inequalities.

Wender Continues Battle to Control Golf Courses

WASHINGTON

Is the underlying cause of the smoldering feud between the Interior Department and the Recreation Department over jurisdiction of 62 playgrounds and five publicly owned golf courses the matter of racial policy?

That was the question which arose in the midst of a heated parrup between Chairman Harry S. Wender of the Recreation Board and Irving S. Root, superintendent of National Parks, representing the Interior Department, Tuesday, at the regular board meeting.

Wender argued that the question of racial policy is not before Atty. Columba but it's absolutely untrue that they intend to operate all facilities on a jim-crow basis it set forth.

"Wender argued that the question of racial policy is not before Atty. Columba but it's absolutely untrue that they intend to operate all facilities on a jim-crow basis it set forth,

"And here's the amazing thing: The action of FEEN-A-MINT's special medicine arrests the stomach. It doesn't act while in the stomach, but only when farther along in the lower intestinal tract . . . where it should! Thus, FEEN-A-MINT won't upset the stomach!

FEEN-A-MINT
FAMOUS CHEWING-GUM LAXATIVE

However, he was cautioned that he was speaking for himself and not for the board at large by Mrs. Alice Hunter, only colored member, who refuted his statement.

"As a layman who moves around among the people there is a different opinion. Little as we think, the dispute basically is over the matter of racial policy."

Charging that the Interior Department is favoring a monopoly in renewing S. G. Leoffler's five-year contract which expired at the end of 1948, and is now up for renewal, Mr. Wender and James E. Schwab, board member, indicated that the Interior Department was withholding information on financial operations.

May Renew Contract

Root interrupted to say that Leoffler will likely get renewal of the contract.

"I don't think it is anybody's business about what the figures are," he said, adding:

"If the board has a program it wishes to carry out on the golf courses, then why should it not present its program for use of the courses based on recreation.

"You don't need to operate the golf courses to run a program."

Recreation Board Split

Wender stated that if the Recreation Department is allowed to take over the courses, the present interracial policy will be continued. "As far as I am concerned, race means nothing any more," Wender injected.

Here Schwab interrupted to emphasize that Wender was speaking only as an individual and the policy of racial integration would have to be decided by the board.

Taking advantage of the indecision among members of the board, Root told them following an agreement to arrange a meeting with Interior Department, "I suggest you reach an agreement among yourselves before coming to the Interior Department."

Segregation Report Tabled

The recreation staff's analysis of the report on the National Committee on Segregation in the nation's capital was released, but board members tabled it until the next meeting.

The report assailed the committee for its condemnation of public recreation in the District, without mentioning the interracial use of certain public facilities for which the recreation board has responsibilities.

"The entire report on recreation tends to be destructive and makes no reference to progressive developments which are related to the changing moves of the community," said Milo F. Christiansen, superintendent, who submitted the study.

Denies It Champions Bias

"The District pattern of segregation in public recreation has always existed and the board did not embark on any new line of enforced segregation practice that was not already prevalent," that report said.

Root actively attempting to discharge its responsibility to provide recreation in the District of Columbia but it's absolutely untrue that they intend to operate all facilities on a jim-crow basis it set forth,

Ruling in Tennis Case Scheduled

The Supreme Bench is scheduled at its February meeting to rule upon the new trial motion of seven persons convicted of conspiracy in the staging of interracial tennis matches, last summer.

The matches were planned by the Young Progressives of Maryland to test the segregated sports policy of the Park Board. Result was that 22 persons connected with the matches in Druid Hill Park were arrested by park police.

State Fails to Prosecute

Because the State refused to prosecute additional charges which centered around the actual violation of the park rule, the Progressives have since held that the rule is therefore not enforceable.

All others in the case were acquitted by Judge Herman Moser. The seven, all white, were convicted on charges of conspiracy to riot.

Radiator Thieves Won't Need Items for 30 Days

Two young men were charged with the theft of five radiators, Tuesday, but they won't need the heat for at least 30 days, the length of the jail terms imposed by Magistrate Fitzpatrick in Northwestern police court.

Said to have been apprehended with the radiators in their possession, the two were identified as James Crawford, 18, 1313 Wood lyear St, and Theodore Stream, 18, 1423 Bruce St.
