Parents Who Serve Liquor to Teen-Agers Assailed

Leading a panel discussion on child problems, a Baltimore mother this week assailed "modern parents" who serve liquor to teen-agers.

Mrs. Gertrude Woolford, made the statement during a parents meeting Sunday at Druid Hill YMCA. The discussion was sponsored by the Y Mothers Club.

Speaking on "Teen-age Problems," Mrs. Woolford said that parents often unwittingly contributed to juvenile delinquency. She pointed out that young people can have a good time without drinking intoxicants.

To Prevent Drinking Elsewhere

Mrs. Woolford explained that some modern parents serve alcoholic beverages so that the young sters won't have to seek drinks elsewhere.

Other discussion leaders were Mrs. Baxter L. Matthews and Patrolman Dennis Mello.

Mrs. Matthews traced family development from the earliest times to the present and urged higher standards in the homes.

Patrolman Mello told of his efforts to keep East Baltimore children in school and of how parents could assist in this job.

Meetings Beneficial

At the conclusion of the discussion the parents agreed that more meetings will be beneficial and should be held more frequently.

Miss Ida Chisholm played a piano selection and Miss Blanche Bevans sang a solo. Mrs. Martina Jones, president of the sponsoring club, made brief remarks. Mrs. Jeanette Felton is secretary of the organization and Mrs. Eva Jackson, treasurer.

Other members are:

Mesdames Rosalena Boone, Ruby Blackwell, Geneva Carrington, Bertina Carter, Willard Coates, Mable Epps, Elizabeth Graham, Lillie Howard, Blanche Jackson, Susie Jackson, Grace Lee, Rosa L. Marshall, Annie Palmer, Gladys Poole, Mattie Simms, Blanche Taylor, Grace Walker, Nancy Wiggins and Gertrude Williams.

New Chevrolet Stresses 'Beauty With a Purpose'

The new 1949 Chevrolet, on display here at the Park Circle Motors, 3426 Reisterstown Rd., lives up to its sales slogan, "Beauty With a Purpose." Available in various colors, this car features the new panoramic-visibility windshield, and low-pressure tires. The car is lower and 9 inches wider than last year's model, and the convertible, especially, has the X-type frame which makes for smoother riding. It sells for $1964. Here, Micahel R. Sher, Park Circle sales representative, points out the advantages of the new Chevrolet to Mrs. Melvina Jackson and Harry Gilbert.

Booker Washington Graduates 124; Girls Share Class Honors

Vashti Boddie and Jean Camper took top honors among the 37 honor graduates in a class of 124 pupils who were graduated, today (Friday), from the Booker T. Washington Junior High School.

Certificates were awarded by Elmer A. Henderson, assistant superintendent of schools, during the program, which included a dramatization.

The 56 honor pupils in the class included 14 boys and 42 girls.

John N. Cotton is Booker T.'s principal; Mrs. Annette Johnson and Milton Branson, vice principals.

Associated Publishers is a cooperative publishers' representative representing 23 colored weekly newspapers, 16 with ABC rating.

The newspapers asked Mr. LaCour to head Associated Publishers in a successful organization which now represents most of the important colored newspapers.

Mr. Evans has been his assistant for three years and before that was advertising manager of the New Jersey AFRO-AMERICAN. For 22 years he was in the business office of the Madame Walker Company.

New Business Manager

The new business manager is Mr. Richard Green who served as a captain in World War II. Before that he was a bookkeeper in the Citizens and Southern Bank of Philadelphia.

Attending the board meeting Saturday were Carter Wesley of the Informer Newspapers, Houston, Texas; Thomas Young of the Journal and Guide, Frank Stanley, Louisville Defender, D. Arnett and Carl Murphy of the AFRO-AMERICAN.

D. Arnett Murphy is president of AP.

Residents Ignore Postal Rate Hike

ANNAPOLIS — Postmaster William A. Strohm asked residents here to observe the increase in postal rates which went into effect on Jan. 1.

He said more than 200 letters are still coming in daily with five-cent air-mail stamps on them and that people are neglecting to put sufficient postage on special delivery letters which now require a three-cent stamp as well as the 15-cent special delivery stamp.

Until Jan. 31, the postmaster explained, such letters will be delivered with an inscription reading "insufficient postage" or "postage due, one cent." After that date they will be returned to the sender or delivered to the dead letter office.

Council Studies Cost of Equalizing Southern Schools

545 Million Due Schools

Huge Sum Needed to Equalize Plants

COUNCIL FEARFUL

Federal Court Verdict Stirs Dixie Leaders

ATLANTA, Ga. — Equalization of colored schools to meet the standards of the white educational institutions will cost the South over $545,000,000, the Southern Regional Council estimated this week.

Taking fearful cognizance of the fact that the day of reckoning is coming after reviewing the Federal Court decision in the King George County case of Virginia, the council said the South could begin to make down payments now or wait to be "goaded by court decisions."

In the King George County case, Judge Sterling Hutcheson ruled that the county would have to equalize educational facilities for whites and colored, or else. The decision was handed down last April.

50 Suits Filed

Citing that already in Virginia 50 suits have been filed in various counties seeking to obtain equal educational facilities for all children, the council said the white South must act now or else "face the prospect of yielding ungracefully to a series of court rulings."

Then the council estimated the cost of equalizing the schools in 11 States, pointing out that the huge figure by no means represents the total bill but only the cost of equalizing book values of elementary schools.

The $545,000,000 sum makes no provision for equalization of teachers' salaries or school transportation, nor does it include Tennessee and Oklahoma because information on those States was unavailable.

$158 Differential

The council found that there was a $158 differential between the value of school property for colored and white children in 1946, with the property valued at $63 for each colored pupil enrolled and $221 for each white pupil.

"To make the two amounts the same would have required in 1946 an expenditure of $158 per pupil, or an average of some $31,000,000 for each State," the council disclosed.

Increased cost of construction would increase the cost in 1949 to $343,750,000, and today the figure would be $545,978,087, the council estimated.

Estimates by States

The council's estimates of amounts needed in 1946 to equalize elementary school plants in the following States were:

Alabama, $25,944,000; Arkansas, $10,909,000; Florida, $25,657,884; Georgia, $41,198,000; Kentucky, $915,000; Louisiana, $47,060,000; Mississippi, $60,121,000; North Carolina, $36,942,000; South Carolina, $32,369,320; Texas, $40,103,000; Virginia, $20,530,000.

The council considered the question of whether recent conciliation had helped to reduce the inequality, but found that it had not. "New schools have been built, but in most cases where funds have been allocated a proportionate amount has been spent on white as well as colored schools," it was observed.

"This," the council pointed out, "has had the welcome effect of improving facilities for both racial groups but has done little to equalize them. If the colored schools are to catch up, they must receive more than a proportionate share of school funds."

Observes Va. Case

Observing the situation in Virginia, the council quoted from an editorial in a Richmond daily which stated:

"The other countries in Virginia should begin canvassing their school problems and planning to equalize facilities as expeditiously as possible.

"The obligation is there and must be met. Much better feeling will be created throughout the State if the counties move to meet it of their own free will, instead of waiting for suits to be filed on behalf of their colored children."

Will Be Aided by March of Dimes

Victims of infantile paralysis, Sharon Brown (top photo), 14 months old, and Albert White, 2 (bottom), are both patients at the Children's Hospital School, Baltimore, where they receive treatment through the Maryland Chapter, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis which is benefited by the March of Dimes campaign.

Flute Player Inspires Polio Gift

Entertained by the flute playing of Joseph McCullum, 12, a former patient at Kernan's Children's Hospital, the W. Sampson Brooks Temple of Elks was inspired Thursday to make a $25 contribution to the March of Dimes campaign.

The group also presented a $5 gift to the child who attends the Wood School No. 176.

The Temple made plans to visit the hospital with entertainment and gifts for the infantile paralysis victims there.

During the business session, Ettine Dorsey were reported ill. Dt. Daughters Laura Smith and Christ. Willie M. Ward is daughter ruler, and Dt. Florence Snowden, District deputy.

Goodwill Circle Meets

The Goodwill Circle of Elks held its monthly meeting at the home of Dts. Helen Valentine and Sarah Adams as plans were made for a Good Will Day program and rally.

Reports were made by the committee which arranged for the distribution of 10 food baskets to needy families during the holidays. Dt. Clara Foreman is director of this unit, and Dt. Amy Warden, secretary.

Beauty Culturists' League Maps Convention Plans

National Meeting Set for August 10 in D.C.; Membership Drive Under Way

WASHINGTON — Preliminary plans for the 1949 convention to be held in Washington Aug. 10 at the Mason-Temple, 10th and U Sts., N.W., were formulated by the executive board of the National Beauty Culturist League of the United States here last week.

The board held the planning session at the organization's headquarters, 23 Logan Circle, N.W., with Mrs. Cordelia G. Johnson, president, presiding. Plans were also made for a nationwide membership drive.

Mrs. Johnson declared "It is the duty of every beautician to cooperate with civic, educational and business organizations" and urged all members "to utilize contacts with the public for the general cultural achievement of all."

Members of Board

Besides Mrs. Johnson of Jersey City, N.J., members of the national board present were:

Mrs. Maude Gadsen, second vice president, NYC.; Ruth Flowers, vice president, St. Louis, Mo.; Georgia M. Brown, vice president, Chicago; Mrs. Bessie M. Freeman, financial secretary, Washington; Mrs. Minnie D. Hopkins, treasurer, NYC.

Mrs. Essie Davis, Philadelphia; Mrs. Marian Smith, Philadelphia; Mrs. Parthenia Bell, Memphis; Mrs. Ellen Belton, Eastern Shore, Md.; Mrs. Willie Ford, Hennessy, Asheville, N.C.; Mrs. Mercer Burrell, Newark, N.J.

Widow of the newspaper salesman, Edward Mills, who for years was a familiar early morning figure selling papers at Howard and Lombard Sts., Mrs. Annie Mills of 1145 Whatcoat St. has made a public appeal for help in raising $75 for his burial.

Mrs. Mills said her husband was in a streetcar accident a week ago, but the medical examiner attributed his death on Monday night to pneumonia.

Dunbar Pupils' Group Gives Theatre Party

The Jolly Teen-Timers of Dunbar High School, last week, formed a theatre party to witness a showing of "The Three Musketeers," at a local motion picture house.

Miss Dorothy Foster is president and Miss Ruth Green, advisor.

On Saturday, Y-Teen Groups from Schools No. 106 and 126 attended services at the Eutaw Pl. Synagogue, where they witnessed the confirmation of a Jewish boy, and later toured the building.

Visitors Listed

In the group were Mary Johnson and Alleyne Smith, and Miss Emily Peck, advisor at School No. 106; Alice Jenkins, Alberta Hamilton and Mrs. Mary K. Poole, advisor of School No. 126.

Miss Lenese Miller is program assistant in the Teen Age Department.

The Parent-Teacher Association of Bragg High School in Sparrows Point will sponsor a movie there at 8 p.m. on Monday featuring Tex Ridder in "Dead or Alive," proceeds of which will be used for its projects.

Roland Harris is principal and assistant in the Teen Age Department. John Godfrey is P-TA president.

Along Our Street

with Aunt Penny

Anne Lawler called this morning about next week's church supper. She wanted each of us on the committee to call a list of people so we'll know how many to expect.

After I'd finished the breakfast dishes, I sat down at the telephone and started calling one person right after another. I was down to the fourth name on my list before I stopped to think of the other folks on my party line. Here I'd tied up the line for fifteen minutes without a break. Supposing someone else on the line wanted to make a call!

Needless to say, I ended my "calling marathon" right then and there. I'll make the rest of those calls later on in the day, one by one and spaced several minutes apart.
