J. E. Hill Jr. Edits Weekly at Emmanuel C. C. Church

Serves on Usher Board, Council; Publication Lists Notices, Reports, Has Editorials

J. E. HILL

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first in a series of articles paying tribute to those loyal workers whose untiring efforts help promote their church programs.

Among other positions held at Emmanuel CC Church by John E. Hill Jr., is that of editor of the church weekly publication, "The Messenger," which this month marked its first anniversary.

This interesting paper gives in eye-catching form, news, notices, reports and comments. It does as it says on the first page, "fill a definite need in the growth and development" of the church program.

Mr. Hill says that the leadership of his pastor, the Rev. Willbur W. Watkins, inspires everyone to try anything within reason. In this spirit, he accepted his appointment as editor of the house paper.

Hard Hitting Editorials

Hard-hitting editorials flow from his pen on matters of civic, race and religious interest. The paper also includes a "Capsule Sermon", from the minister's desk, a sick list and a "special hymn."

Mr. Hill is also executive secretary of the men's advisory council, secretary of the usher board, and operator of the sound-moving picture projector which forms an important phase of the church's religious education program.

Usher Board

As a member of the usher board, Mr. Hill has helped to make it a strong auxiliary of the church. Under the leadership of Mr. Thomas Jackson, president, the usher board has sponsored a number of successful affairs.

The United Protestant Appeal of the Council of Churches and Christian Education of Maryland and Delaware, has set $71,550.99 as its goal for the 1949 campaign.

Services and activities of the council will require $55,800.99 while $15,750 is the balance due on the Council House at 14 W Madison St.

Primary concern of this agency is to enlist the support of church men, church women, clergymen, and others to strengthen the bonds of Christian unity.

21 Denominations

The council serves as a co-ordinating instrument in programs, policies and actions that are agreed upon by the co-operating churches of the 21 denominations in its membership.

It also sponsors missionary institutes, home visitation teams, is prepared to assist individuals and churches who desire to receive displaced persons in this area through its Church World Service.

Dr J Carey Taylor is head of the appeal. Serving on the committee are Dr. Miles W. Connor, the Revs. Arthur J. Payne and C. Baker Pearle.

Leon E. Moore to Give Concert at Bethel Church

Leon E. Moore, tenor, accompanied by Clarence Bingham, will be presented in concert at Bethel AME Church at 8:30 p.m. on Thursday, by the Women's Day Group. No. 25 of which Mrs. Mae H. Pack is chairman.

PE Convention Discusses Abandoning Bragg Home

A proposal to withdraw support for the Bragg Home for Boys, which receives an annual appropriation of $7,200, was discussed at the annual convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church of Maryland, which closed a two-day session, Wednesday, at Emmanuel Church.

The Bragg Home in Catonsville cares for 34 boys, 31 of whom are from Baltimore. During the service of the late Father George Bragg, who was rector of St. James Church, it was known as a home for orphans.

Action Delayed Until 1950

The motion to discontinue support of the Bragg Home was defeated, as the following substitute motion was passed, which stated:

"Moved that the convention hold the termination of its support in abeyance until the convention of 1950; and that if the board of the Bragg Home can show by the end of 1949 that it can obtain other help and maintain itself without asking more than the $7,200 now appropriated by the diocese, it may expect to receive that amount in 1950."

Father Cedric E. Mills and Howard H. Murphy, delegates from St. James Church, William F. Stone Jr. and Dr. Don Frank Fenn, supported this motion. Federal Judge William C. Coleman and two other persons spoke against it.

Vestry Act Repeal Urged

The convention also passed a resolution asking the State Legislature to repeal the Vestry Act of 1798, which authorizes a vestryto terminate a rector's contract after a year's service, in disagreement with the national constitutional canons of the church.

The general canons of the church, on the other hand, provide that a rector's relationship with his parish be terminated only by mutual consent between him and the congregation.

Several resolutions pledging support of measures to improve conditions at the State institutions for mental defectives were also adopted by the convention.

Father Mills Honored

These were suggested by the Rev John K Mount Jr. rector of Seven Parishes, in which Crownsville State Hospital is located.

Father Mills was elected an alternate-delegate to the church general convention to be held in San Francisco next September.

New Minister

The Rev B M Hargrove has completed six months service as pastor of Ebenezer Methodist Church in Sparrows Point, Md., following his graduation from Gammon Theological Seminary in Atlanta. The church recently remodeled its community building and is planning a general recreational program for youth.

Dr. Logan to Speak

NASHVILLE—Dr. Rayford W Logan, head of the department of history, Howard University, will speak at Tennessee State College on Feb 3 at 10 a.m. and 7 p.m. sponsored by the W. S. Davis Lecture Series Committee.

$30,000 Campaign Launched at Grace

BULLETIN

A total of $11,000, including $1000 cash and $10,000 in pledges has been raised to date in the $30,000 new building fund campaign of Grace Presbyterian Church.

Some 50 workers at Grace Presbyterian Church under the leadership of the Rev. Kenneth Moore of Trenton, N.J., have begun a three-year drive for $30,000 to pay for the expansion of the 50-year old edifice on the southwest corner of Dolphin and Gilting Sts.

Grace Church, where for the past 32 years the Rev. John T Colbert has been pastor, owns its present grounds and buildings in addition to two buildings and two lots to the rear.

The $30,000 will cover the cost of a new organ, and choir facilities, a modern heating unit, kitchen equipment, rest rooms, study or counsel rooms. Moreover, it will provide an auditorium which will seat 600 persons and ample Sunday School facilities.

Committees Listed

General chairman of the drive is Ernest L. Perkins; vice-chairman, D. Arnett Murphy; treasurer, Ernest Johnson, and secretary, Samuel Owings.

Other committees are as follows:

Special gifts, Dr. E. A. Gilkes; memorials, the Rev. Mr. Colbert; buildings, D. Arnett Murphy; floral, Mrs. Marian G. Johnson; decorations, Mrs. Lillian Webb, and entertainment, Mrs. Reba Smith.

Mrs. Ruth White Willis is major of the Orange Division of workers whose captains are John T. Ward, Dr. Lucina Butler, Mesdames Christine Ward and Pearl Gwynn.

Blue Division

Heading the Blue Division is Arthur Ryan with has as captains, Dr. Thomas A. Pitts, Roland Henson, Mesdames Genevieve Lee and Josephine Murray.

Speaking at the dinner meeting that sparked the opening of the drive, Mr. Murphy said,

"Here we should build not only a monument to our congregation, but we should build this monument to our pastor who has led us out of the wilderness by giving his all to bring this church where it is today.

In Our Churches

By LOUISE K. HINES

In a letter to ministers in the AME, Second Episcopal District, Bishop L. H. Hemingway is urging that a membership drive be conducted throughout the district.

He pointed out that records show that too few children are being taken into the church, and that those who join are not baptised during the year. "The result is, our membership dwindles while our population increases."

The annual AME conference will be held in April at Waters AME Church, 427 Aisquith St.

Money Use Set

The official board of Payne AME Church, at its meeting last week, designated the use of certain moneies raised at special services for the following purposes:

Robes for the Young People's Choir will be purchased with funds raised on Young People's Day. Proceeds from Men's Day will be used to pay whatever indebtedness the church is facing, while the money raised on Women's Day will be used for conference and trustee funds.

Already Payne Church has begun planning for its Men's Day services on March 13 when the speaker will be the Rev. Howard D Gregg, president of Delaware State College and former editor of the AME Review.

Alfred Meyers and Kenneth Garrett are chairmen and secretary of the Men's Day program.

Guest Speakers at Waters

Payne Church's five choirs will offer a service of music at 7:45 p.m. on Sunday.

Waters AME Church on its Men's Day program this Sunday has slated for the morning speaker, Dr. George A. Singleton of Philadelphia while at 3 p.m., Alexander J. Allen, Urban League executive, is scheduled to speak.

The showing of free religious moving pictures at Emmanuel C. C. Church League has greatly increased the attendance.

Emmanuel's Adult Bible Classes of the Sunday School are sponsoring a five-day, midwinter bazaar with a special feature each night beginning Monday.

Nine new members of the St. Agnes Guild of St. James Pg. Church inducted on Sunday were Misses Phyllis Chandler, Shirley Douglass, Eugenia Dunn, Arvene Gray, Audrey Hall, Ruth Jackson, Grace Johnson, Victoria Lancaster and Melissande Manning.

Confirmation Class Has 31

St. James Church will mark its 125th anniversary on June 5, on which day there will also be held the only confirmation slated for this year.

There are a total of 71 persons in the confirmation class, 31 children and 40 adults.

Last Sunday afternoon the pastor, the Rev. C. Edward Brown, gospel chorus and congregation of Memorial Baptist Church paid a return visit to Pentecost Baptist Church.

The BTU of Memorial last Sunday was given an illustrated talk on the life of Christ by Mrs. Louise P. Browne.

The Rev. D. A. Wilson, presiding elder of the Hagerstown District, presided at the third quarterly conference of the Petersville Circuit held recently at the Knoxville, Md., AME Church.

This circuit has three Sunday schools which are increasing in enrollment and developing effective programs of work. Financial reports made at the conference show that substantial funds are in each treasury.

Plans are now under way for the renovation of the Brutsville AME Church, the Rev. D. L. Smith, a former World War I Army chaplain, pastor.

Field Worker to Talk

Dr. G. Lake Imes, field worker for the Presbyterian Church, will be guest speaker Sunday morning at Douglas Memorial Community (Christian) Church. The assistant pastor, Mrs. Mary E. Thompson will preach at the evening service.

Elder J. W. W. Mayfield stated that services will be held on Sunday at Rehoboth Christian Center, 931 Linden Ave. However, during the rest of the winter season, on each Sunday morning, and on Wednesday and Friday nights, services will be transferred to 1187½ Aisquith St.

Missionary Day

"Missionary Day" will be observed on Sunday at the Community Gospel Mission of Soldiers Home in Turner Station, where the Rev. Carlton E. Cooke is pastor.

Sunday School is set for 10:30 a.m.; while a special missionary message will be offered at 11:30 a.m. by a guest speaker. At 6:30 p.m. there will be the Young People's Fellowship, and at 8 p.m., a special program by the Ideal Gospel Singers.

Mrs. Jean F. Turpin has been selected as speaker for the fourth annual Women's Day program of Madison Ave. Presbyterian Church set for Feb. 27.

Pittsburgh Pastor Preaches

The Rev. C. A. Burrell, pastor of Mt. Ararat Baptist Church in Pittsburgh, was guest speaker on Sunday at the Baptist Minister's Conference. He spoke on "Watchman on the Job."

Deeming his sermon a message to ministers, the Rev Mr. Burrell urged the audience to be on the lookout for false prophets and to train the youth for tomorrow.

The devotional discourse was offered by the Rev. Luke G. Reynolds, the news digest by the Rev. James L. Moore, and the Sunday School lesson, "Meeting and Mastering Temptation," by the Rev. I. C. Reddie.

Brief Rites Held for Contractor

Brief rites, including those conducted by the King Solomon Lodge of Masons, were held today (Friday) for Boyd H White, building contractor, at Mrs George H. Holland's Funeral Home.

Mr. White, who had conducted his business here for over 35 years, died early Wednesday morning at Provident Hospital, where he was admitted on Sunday. He was 71 years old.

The body was shipped to his birthplace, Mathews, Va., where funeral rites will be held at 1 p.m. on Sunday at Zion Baptist Church. Interment follows at Zion Cemetery.

Baltimorean for 55 Years

He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank White and came to Baltimore over 55 years ago. He was a member of Sharp St Methodist Church.

Survivors include:

His wife, Mrs. Ruth J. White, whom he married 44 years ago; a daughter, Mrs. Velma W. Dunn, teacher at Kennard High School in Centerville, Md., three sisters, Mesdames Annie Williams of Baltimore, Helen Carey of Virginia and Lydia Carey of Washington, and two brothers, Dr. Frank M. White of Virginia, and Thomas L. White of Boston.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

The pastor, trustees and deacon board of Mt. Hope Baptist Church announce that is authorized to collect money for the above mentioned church.

Signed: Bruce Spence, Chrm. Trustee Board; R. Burgess, Acting Trustee; Mrs. Lillie Mae Sorans, Clerk, Rev. A. D. Nance, Pastor.

Governor Lane's Budget

The proposed budget of almost 131 millions of dollars submitted by Governor Lane this week to the Legislature brought gasps from many citizens of the State would do well to remember.

First, it shows the evils of what is called separate but equal educational opportunities. Second, it proves that the Chief Executive of the State cares nothing for the wishes of the colored citizens of the State.

An example of this is the glaring discrimination between the amounts he asked the Legislature to appropriate to white and colored institutions of higher learning. University of Maryland was granted $5,708,585 for the next fiscal year. This is upwards of $775,000 more than the institution was allowed in the last budget, or an increase of more than 15 per cent.

But when it comes to requesting a budget for Princess Anne, the means by which Dr. H. C. (Curly) Byrd hopes to keep colored students out of the University of Maryland, Mr. Lane was not so generous.

Princess Anne had a budget of $115,983. At the end of the year it turned back to the State Treasury more than $2,000. Its current budget is $118,694. But for next year, Mr. Lane thought it should be granted $463,585, an increase of $344,891.

This boiled down, means that Mr. Lane has ignored the wishes of colored citizens completely. It means that when the time comes to higher learning for colored he is listening to somebody else, not the people.

It means further that white citizen groups repeatedly requested that Morgan be granted a substantial increase, the Governor has chosen to listen to Curly Byrd instead.

An example of this is the fact that in 1950 fees to be paid by students at the University of Maryland will be some $261,000 less.

$133,000 less. This means that Morgan students will be paying more for less, while those at the University of Maryland, where colored are barred except in the Law School, will be paying less for more.

Excepting Princess Anne, the jim crow annex of the University of Maryland, the cost of obtaining higher learning will increase for colored students in other State-supported institutions.

The answer is obvious.

We must do well to remember the lessons of the 1950 session. We must not forget them when it is time to vote for a new Governor.

Call Lawyer Before Talking

We note that Dr. E. E. Cook, white, 29-year-old physician, was acquitted this week of charges of criminally assaulting three females. He was able to establish his defense successfully despite the fact that he was arrested, refused to make a police statement, "you can't prove a crime by a confession."

Another part of the defense was that Dr. Cook should have been released on his own recognizance. This was not granted. The doctor was questioned by police and charges should have been preferred to engage counsel before questioning.

Dr. Cook testified that he had asked police to permit him to call a lawyer before questioning. But he was told he would first have to answer certain questions.

Frequently accused persons say "I haven't done anything. I am innocent of charges. Why should I talk to anybody?"

Frequently, accused persons do ought to talk. Frequently, innocent persons are even put to death.

No matter what the charges, citizens must learn to ask to talk, many innocent persons are fined and imprisoned, some to death.

No matter what the charges, citizens must learn to ask to hire lawyers. In 90 per cent of the cases it is cheaper in the long run.

Defense lawyers contended that this was contrary to City Charter and Supreme Court decisions.

Police ought to be among the first to respect the rights of citizens. Police ought to be among the first to respect the rights of and question them before charges are entered at a police station. This ought not be done.

Frequently, accused persons ought to refuse to make any statements to police until they have been charged.

Police practice in serious murder cases to take prisoners to Criminal Court Building before questioning them before entering charges at a police station.

Defense lawyers contended that this was contrary to City Charter and Supreme Court decisions
